STATE PLATFORM PUTS HENDERSON OUT OF CONGRESS

Speaker Declines to Accept Renomination from Iowa Republicans.

TRUST PROBLEM ROCK OF DISCORD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 16.—Speaker David B. Henderson of the national house of representatives, finding that his views in respect to the treatment of trusts by reducing the tariff in whole or in part are not in accord with the views of many of his party in Iowa, has declined to accept the Republican nomination for congress.

The following letter was addressed to C. E. Albrook, chairman of the notification committee, Eldora, Ia., by Mr. Henderson:

"My Dear Sir:

"I have never answered the kind notice communicated by you and your associates advising me of my nomination for the eleventh time by acclamation as the Republican candidate for congress for the Third congressional district of Iowa. Reported conditions in the public mind in my district upon public policies induced me to make this delay. Since my return to the district I have made a careful study as to the sentiment in the district and state, and I believe there is no little sentiment, and a growing sentiment among Republicans, that I do not truly represent their views on the tariff question.

Declines to Misrepresent Them.

"Believing this condition to exist, and knowing that I do not agree with many of my people that trusts, to which I am and have been opposed, can be cured, or the people benefited by free trade, in whole or in part, I must decline to accept the nomination so generously and enthusiastically made.

"I have devoted 20 of the best years of my life to the service of my people and my country, and I have fought for what I believe to be best for the farmer, the laborer and the business interests of this district and state. I am grateful for the devotion that has ever been accorded me, and to the hour of my death I will hold in a grateful heart the memory of that devotion. I will give later on, in some detail, my views and convictions on our conditions and on public questions, and will state my reasons why the Republican party and its policies should continue in the confidence of the voters of the United States and why the doctrines of the Democracy should find no lodgment in the faith and teachings of the Republican party.

"Very truly yours,
"D. B. Henderson."

Friends Try to Dissuade Him.

Speaker Henderson announced his withdrawal after a conference of several hours' duration with Chairman Glasser of the congressional committee and other friends this afternoon. He has been contemplating this action for two weeks, but had intimated nothing of it to friends until yesterday. At today's conference his friends implored him not to take the action, but to no avail. He said he had made up his mind and no argument could cause him to change his decision. When asked for his reasons for his withdrawal, Speaker Henderson said:

"My letter to Chairman Albrook is the whole thing in a nutshell. You cannot kill the trusts by applying free trade without killing our own industries. The foreign trusts are fighting the American trusts, and I don't believe that for the purpose of controlling American trusts we should make a market for foreign trusts, thereby crushing out the industries of this country. After my conference last Saturday at Waterloo, hearing the views of the chairmen of my district, I concluded that my views on the tariff question were at variance with those of many of my party, and I did not desire to appear in a false position."

Address to Constituents.

Speaker Henderson gave out an address this evening which states his views on the tariff and trust question, and because these views, in his opinion, are not in accord with the state platform and with the opinions of prominent members of his party, he declines to accept the nomination. The address is "to the Republican voters of the Third Iowa district." He says, being a Republican, he is a protectionist, and if he ever entertained a doubt as to wisdom of a protective policy, a hasty comparison between the present and the past would blot out such doubt. He then speaks with satisfaction of the

NICHOLAS FISH LOSES HIS LIFE IN SALOON ROW

IS FOUND DYING ON SIDEWALK

New York, Sept. 16.—The death of Nicholas Fish as the result of a quarrel in a saloon, and the arrest of Thomas J. Sharkey, a private detective, on the charge of homicide in that connection has been the subject of close police investigation and conjecture all day.

Mr. Fish was the head of one of the most distinguished families in the United States, a banker of great wealth and at one time minister at the court of Belgium. He died at the Roosevelt hospital from the effects of injuries received during an altercation with a stranger in Ehrhardt's saloon, at the corner of Eighth avenue and Thirty-fourth street. According to information gathered by the police, Mr. Fish's death was due to a blow struck by Thomas J. Sharkey, a private detective, who with two women, who were present at the time, was arrested after the death.

A policeman found Mr. Fish lying unconscious on the sidewalk in front of the saloon and summoned an ambulance in which he was taken to the Roosevelt hospital, where his identity was revealed by papers found in his possession. A dispatch was sent to Mrs. Fish, who was at Tuxedo, and who reached the hospital soon after midnight, remaining at the side of her husband, who never regained consciousness.

Companions Two Women.

According to the police Mr. Fish who, in his wife's absence, was living at his town home in Irving place, entered the saloon yesterday afternoon accompanied by a Mrs. Phillips and a Mrs. Casey, two women who live in West Thirty-fourth street. There they sat drinking until they were joined by Sharkey at the invitation of one of the women. Mr. Fish continued to treat his companions until on discovering that his money was exhausted he announced that he would draw a check and get the bartender to cash it. This provoked a derisive remark by Sharkey, who was ignorant of Mr. Fish's identity, and high words followed. A blow was struck, by whom the police do not know, and the two men rushed at each other, the women screaming and trying to separate them.

One of the women, clutching Mr. Fish by the arm, succeeded in dragging him out of the salon to the sidewalk. There he was confronted by Sharkey, who had broken away from his companions, and they clinched.

His Companions Fled.

A moment later Mr. Fish reeled as if from a blow and fell prone to the sidewalk. Seeing him lying unconscious and fearing that he might be killed, his late companions fled leaving Mr. Fish where he fell until a policeman came along and summoned an ambulance.

As soon as the fact of Mr. Fish's identity was established a dozen detectives were set on the trail of his companions and before daylight they were traced to the house in which the women lived, and were arrested. After being arraigned in the police court they were brought before Coroner Jackson, who, after a preliminary inquiry, and the women as witnesses.

To the coroner Sharkey made a statement that he met Mr. Fish and the two women in the saloon and after a verbal altercation with Mr. Fish they left the place by different doors. He denied striking Mr. Fish and declared that he must have fallen as he was leaving the saloon. Detective Trojan, who made the arrest, declared in an affidavit that Sharkey admitted to him that he struck Mr. Fish. Both the women made sworn statements, but these District Attorney Jerome refused to make public.

Skull Is Not Factured.

Coroner Jackson, after performing an autopsy, pronounced Mr. Fish's death to be due to cerebral hemorrhage, following concussion of the brain, and not to a fracture of the skull, as was at first supposed. The coroner declared his conviction, from a careful examination of the condition of the brain, that the injury was caused by a heavy blow and not by contact with the sidewalk. In the latter case, he said, there would almost certainly have been exterior injuries and a fracture of the skull. The inquest will be held Friday.

MRS. MILLER BRINGS A SUIT FOR DIVORCE IN FRANKLIN COURT

Her Statement Charges the General and His Employes With Cruelty.

ALIMONY IS ALSO ASKED

Franklin, Pa., Sept. 16.—Another act was played in the celebrated Miller case today, when Mrs. Adelaide Miller instituted suit against her husband, Gen. Charles Miller, for a divorce. It is not known just why the latter withdrew his suit of a similar nature last week, further than that he intended to leave Franklin for New York. It was known for several days that Mrs. Miller contemplated bringing such a suit on the ground of cruelty.

Mrs. Miller will also ask for alimony, but just how much is not mentioned in her statement. John O. McCalmont, one of her attorneys, stated today that the evidence to be offered will be the same as adduced in the lunacy case tried here in July.

The attorneys in the case are all well known, James Denton Hancock, S. P. McCalmont and John O. McCalmont representing Mrs. Miller, while W. H. Forbes, J. S. Carmichael and J. H. Osmer & Sons will represent Gen. Miller. It is expected that the case will be hotly contested.

Mrs. Miller has just returned from Cambridge Springs, where she has been for the benefit of her health, and refuses to talk about the suit farther than to say that she wants to be a free woman. She charges employes of Gen. Miller with cruelty, but mentions no names.

Gen. and Mrs. Miller were married June 18, 1863, and have lived during the greater portion of their married life in this city.

CAN'T FIND G. W. CLARK.

For Second Time the Young Pittsburgher Gives Officers the Slip.

LYNN, MASS., Sept. 16.—(Special.)—State Officer Neal and Inspector Colby arrived tonight from Toronto, where they have been for several weeks trying to get possession of George W. Clarke, the young Pittsburgher. This is the second time that this clever young man, assisted by keen lawyers, has given these officers the slip. Counsel for Massachusetts is now endeavoring to serve warrants upon Clarke with two informations sworn out for the purpose, but so far have been unable to find him.

The general opinion is that Clarke has left town. There will be no let-up in the search for Clarke. The district attorney has said he intends to get Clarke wherever the young man goes.

CHURCH PLANNED IN THE MIDDLE OF OFFICE-BUILDING

Second Presbyterian Congregation Considers a Proposition That Is Meeting With Favor.

WANAMAKER STORE IN IT

A structure, unique among American churches of its size, wealth and prominence, is under contemplation by the Second United Presbyterian church, at Seventh street and Penn avenue. At the congregational meeting to be held Monday evening, as announced in yesterday's Gazette, two propositions will be made. One will be an offer of about $330,000, or perhaps more, for the lot. This is not likely to be accepted. The lot is considered worth more, and the congregation has a new and novel plan before it.

This is to erect on the lot a single big building, the first floor to be devoted to stores, preferably to one big store, and the second floor to be a magnificent church auditorium, surpassing in size any other church in the city. The name of John Wanamaker has been mentioned in connection with the store and the presence of an agent of Wanamaker in town a few days ago has given color to the report that he will operate a branch store there. He is a prominent Presbyterian.

It is also planned to make the foundations and walls of this building so strong that a 20-story office building can be erected above the store and church. This is to come later.

The Second Presbyterian church is to remain downtown in any event. It has been wonderfully successful under the pastorate of the Rev. S. Edward Young, the increase of membership by confession of faith last year having been greater than in any other church in the Presbyterian fold. The plot it occupies is an unusually fine one, but the church is old and far too small to provide for the present needs of the congregation, without looking forward to the future. It occupies 110 feet in Penn avenue, 120 in Seventh street and 120 in Scott place.

If the plan to erect a store and office building in connection with the auditorium is carried out, it has been calculated that in 10 years all the expense of the construction will have been met, the debt paid off by the income, and that ever after that time there will be a steady income, assuring the future of the church.

DEVERY DOWNS RIVAL SHEEHAN FOR LEADERSHIP

End of Contest Marked by a Spectacular Waste of Money.

HIS FRIENDS IN DELIRIUM OF JOY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 16.

With more than 450 votes to spare William S. Devery triumphed over the opposition of John C. Sheehan and Frank J. Goodwin in a contest that seldom has been equalled for bitterness, for lavish expenditure of money and for novel campaign methods. Seldom was a primary held that so closely resembled the end of a national conflict, even in the Ninth, "the home of Tammany strife."

All over the district the Democratic polling places had been crowded from noon until 9 o'clock, when the count of the ballots began. Then, as if with one impulse, most of the adult population of the district, and all of the voters, moved into Eighth avenue and Twenty-fifth street, the site of the Pequod club, the political home of John C. Sheehan, and waited for the returns.

It was to this multitude that the news of Devery's victory was communicated by the explosion of an aerial bomb from the street in front of the "big chief's" headquarters, No. 284 Eighth avenue. For nearly an hour the belated returns had proved that Devery had been victorious, but the "chief" would not permit his anxious and excited lieutenants to set off fireworks until the last vestige of doubt had been removed.

Devery Hears the Returns.

The crowd surrounding the Pequot club had at that time melted away under the stress of acknowledged defeat and hundreds of its members surged down the avenue to join the madly yelling throng, which was hailing "the chief" as "leader" and deriding the man they had supported as "the buffalo."

Surrounded by a throng of his election district captains and a dozen friendly detective sergeants, Devery received the returns with a wearied but good-natured expression on his face and beads of perspiration standing on his brow. When victory was assured, "the chief" mopped his forehead, and jerking his thumb over his shoulder at the crowd in the streets, exclaimed:

"This is a win for the people over the crookedest, smoothest and oiliest politician in the state of New York."

He tried hard to get out to make a speech, but the mob at the door was too great, and he resignedly sank into his chair to wait until the police on guard could open a pathway.

All day long "Big Chief" had led a strenuous life in his headquarters, issuing orders to his captains, handing out money by hundreds of dollars, denouncing the activities of the McCullagh men in arresting his followers, and making arrangements for their release from custody.

The Unofficial Figures.

An unofficial table shows that the vote cast in the Ninth district(with one district approximated) is: Devery, 1,684; Goodwin, 729; Sheehan, 1,319.

Republican and Democratic primaries were held in the various assembly districts in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx today.

In the Twenty-ninth district John F. Carroll ran far ahead of his opponent, Thomas E. Rush, the Murphy candidate.

In the Twenty-sixth district ex-Sheriff Thomas J. Dunn had an easy victory over his opponents, while in the First it appeared at a late hour that Dan Finn had won in his fight for the leadership against ex-Police Commissioner Michael C. Murphy.

George F. Scannel retains his leadership in the Tammany hall organization of the Twenty-fifth assembly district.

PIATT IS NOT ENTITLED TO A COUNCIL SEAT

INTENDS TO FIGHT TO LAST DITCH

In the quo warranto proceedings against James W. Piatt, a jury yesterday returned a verdict in common pleas court No. 3 for the petitioner. This means that Piatt is not lawfully a member of Pittsburgh select council from the Second ward, it having been shown that he is a resident of the Third ward. The proceeding was brought in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, its representatives being Attorneys C. A. O'Brien and W. B. Rodgers. Attorneys Clarence Burleigh and John W. Piatt represented the defendant.

William Orr testified that Piatt lived in rooms over Dr. King's office in Fifth avenue, below Wood street, at the time of his election.

Isaac Johnston, a waiter formerly employed by Piatt, said there were rooms above the latter's place of business, No. 248 Fifth avenue, but said he had never seen inside of them.

Some of the Testimony.

Fred Titus, a bartender employed by Piatt at one time, said he did not know whether the rooms on the third floor had been occupied or not; that he did not knew where Piatt slept, nor did he know where Mrs. Piatt lived.

Bert Wellington, a bootblack, swore he often polished Mrs. Piatt's shoes and took them upstairs to her in the mornings at her husband's place of business, No. 248 Fifth avenue.

Piatt testified that there are three rooms on the third floor of his place of business. One is a dining room, another a bedroom and the other a storage room. He said he remained at his saloon all of the time when his wife was away from the city and that when she is in Pittsburgh they stay at the Monongahela house, taking their meals at his restaurant. Upon cross-examination the witness said he had not occupied the room at the Monongahela house since last May.

N. B. Richardson, proprietor of the Monongahela house, testified that Piatt retained a room at the hotel all the time. It was denied that Piatt ever lived over Dr. King's office, while it was shown that at various times he had resided at the St. Charles and Central hotels.

Piatt Will Put Up a Fight.

Piatt exhibited considerable astonishment when he learned of the jury's verdict. He said he could not understand such an unreasonable decision and that he would make a motion for a new trial at once. Should this be refused, he will appeale to the supreme court. He said:

"I still assert that I have been a resident of the Second ward for 32 years, and have never lived in any other since I have been a resident of the city. I regard the finding unwarranted and absurd and will fight it to the last ditch."

Piatt has been in councils from the Second ward for 16 years, dividing the time between select and common councils. He has always been a member of the most important committees. Piatt says he will continue to occupy his seat unless the verdict precludes that, as his appeal will act as a stay.

Piatt has always been a member of the machine, being very closely affiliated with the Magee wing. The proceedings against him in the present case are of a political nature, growing out of the hot municipal campaign of last February, when the Citizens achieved a victory that encouraged them to go after all that was in sight, and Piatt's scalp was one of the things in sight.

GEN. HASTINGS BACK IN FOLD OF THE PARTY

UNEQUAL TAXES FULLY EXPLAINED

It Is the Republican Party That Has Set the Pace in Removing Burdens.

STATE AND NATIONAL ISSUES DISCUSSED

By CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Grange Park, Centre Hall, Pa., Sept. 16.—It was an enthusiastic welcome that the farmers of Centre county today extended to Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker, the Republican nominee for governor.

While the judge has made several speeches, they were preliminary to the formal opening. Senator Boies Penrose and ex-Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith made eloquent and impressive addresses, and, significant of party harmony, ex-Gov. Daniel Hastings presided. That Gen. Hastings, who far several years has been in opposition to the Republican organization of the state, is again in line, was shown by his presence, by the fact that he presided and by the further fact that at the close of the speaking, he in person led the cheering for the Republican state, congressional, legislative and county candidates.

A more successful campaign opening has never cheered the hearts of Keystone Republicans. Issues of the hour were ably and fearlessly met. At times this county has been considered a Democrat stronghold. Gov. Pattison carried it each time he was a candidate. Even his friends admit he cannot do so this year.

Solid Farmers the Audience.

Judge Pennypacker and his associate orators spoke to an audience of 4,000 farmers. It was not an audience easily swayed, not one influenced by pyrotechnical flights, but a sober, solid, fact-seeking body, which leaves nothing to chance. Before such listeners Judge Pennypacker is at his best. He speaks slowly, distinctly, and clinches every nail when it is driven home.

Being a farmer himself, he knows his subject, his audience, and is able to interest and convince. There is nothing theatrical, nothing dramatic in the personality of the Republican candidate. He is plain, almost to the point of homeliness. He does not consider it necessary to wail, shout or weep. All the time he hews to the line and only the gestures needed to drive the ax are used.

The gubernatorial party left Philadelphia at 11:20 last night. It was up at 5 o'clock, preparing to meet the reception committee. Some thought the hour a bit early, but Judge Pennypacker smiled.

"It's a great treat," he remarked to Senator Penrose.

At Coburn a special reception committee headed by ex-Gov. Daniel Hastings met the party. A cordial and hearty greeting was given by the general and his friends.

Grange park, where the farmers' encampment is held, was reached at 9 o'clock. After a good, old-fashioned country breakfast, the judge, Senator Penrose and Gen. Smith were taken in tow.

Shook Hands With the Grangers.

While bands crashed out music, wild and satisfying, the grangers, in line, shook hands with the next governor of Pennsylvania. Then the party was taken through the various exhibits inside the tented field. Fruit, cereals and poultry were viewed and discussed, and of all, the judge had something interesting to say.

The speechmaking started at 1 p. m. George Dale, master of the grange, introduced ex-Gov. Hastings as chairman of the meeting. Gen. Hastings voiced his pleasure that to Centre county had been given the honor of firing the first official gun. He extended the cordial welcome of Penns valley, and paid a fine tribute to Judge Pennypacker, who, he said, had not raised his arm in an effort to secure the support of any citizen in the contest for the nomination.

He said Pennypacker's ancestors held the proud distinction of having fought in every war waged in support of the American flag, the colonial, Revolutionary, that of 1812, Mexican war and the civil war. In the civil war two ancestors of the judge were general officers, five commanding officers and a total of 146 relatives bearing the name of Pennypacker took part.

Began in German Tongue.

In his introduction Judge Pennypacker spoke briefly in German, mentioning some of the distinguished men of bygone days. He said he was a farmer and the Republican candidate for governor in this proud and exceptionally great state. He continued:

The only way to judge of parties and of men is by their fruits, and not by their promises alone. For 60 years prior to 1861 the Democratic party had control of the affairs of the state and in the main those of the country. It was the same state, with the same glorious early memories, the same wealth which the Lord had given to it in its deposits of iron, coal and oil, the same beautiful streams and green meadows for the pasture of cattle which have made Lancaster county the richest agricultural county in America, and the same industries and God-fearing people that we have now.

From 1837 to 1842, under the operations of the anti-tariff legislation of 1833, a cow and a calf sold in the spring of the year for $8, and corn and potatoes only brought in the market 12½ cents a bushel. In 1857 a railroad company in Philadelphia advertised for 250 men at 60 cents a day wages, and there was 5,000 applicants.

When the Democratic party surrendered control in 1861 there was a state debt of over $40,000,000. To meet the exigencies of that debt and the necessities of the state government taxes were imposed, not only on farm land and horses and cattle, but upon all trades and occupations. The only real disgrace which the history of Pennsylvania discloses was when, under Democratic management in 1845, there was a temporary repudiation of the state debt.

During the 40 years in which the Republican party has conducted our state affairs that debt has been reduced at the rate of $1,000,000 a year until at the present time it practically no longer exists.

Part of Farmers' Burden Removed.

The taxation of the farmers' land and herds of cattle for the purposes of the state have been brought to an end and the revenues necessary for the annual expenditure have been imposed upon the corporations. There are in the treasury over $12,000,000.

The distinguished gentleman who leads the opposition said in his speech at Reading the other day that taxation is unequal and that a greater proportion of the burden ought to be laid upon personal property. If he means by that suggestion that a greater burden ought to be imposed upon horses and cattle, corn and wheat, it would be a return to the old order of things, and not an advance. If he means that a greater burden ought to be imposed upon the earnings of corporations, it is certain that the principle was discovered and applied not by the Democratic, but by the Republican party.

Like everyone else, the farmer reaps a benefit from the general prosperity, but he has a double reason for being interested in the success of the Republican cause. It has ever been the policy of the Republican party to build up and maintain the manufactures of the country, and around every mill for the making of iron, steel, carpet, silk and even tin, which latter we were told only a few years ago could not be produced in this country, are gathered the homes of the laborers and their family. Since that party came into power the population has grown more than in the century before, and all are consumers of beef, corn, wheat and potatoes. All must live upon what the farmer has to sell them.

Why Farmers Got Worst of It.

Senator Penrose followed. He contrasted the conditions of now with those of 1896, graphically and forcefully. The work of the national administration was fully reviewed, Cuba and the Philippines being emphasized. He said, among other things:

For the Republicans of Pennsylvania to fail would be in the present as it has been in the past, the first step in a career of disaster which would inflict immeasurable injury upon the whole American people, Republicans and Democrats alike.

It is a matter of history that rural prosperity and Republican rule are coincident. It is equally a matter of history that agricultural depression and mortgage foreclosures and low prices for farm products accompany Democratic administration of national [illegible]

The farmers have been the pioneers of every country in the world. Before governments, cities and towns could exist the lands had to be denuded of their forests and brought under cultivation to make the development of other industries possible, and in the rapid growth of our country, naturally many inequalities have arisen, which for a time have placed greater hardships upon one class than upon another. The farmers, being the pioneers of civilization, have naturally been the first to suffer from discriminating conditions.

As, for instance, originally, when the colony of Pennsylvania was founded which later, under the development of civilization, grew into a state with an organized government requiring revenues for the administration of public affairs, the tax burdens necessarily fell upon real estate, farms and homes, as there was nothing else to tax; but in course of time factories, commerce and transportation became necessary, and banking institutions to financier them; and when individuality and enterprise no longer had the capacity to manage them, it became necessary to create great corporations and financial institutions with centralized ability to control them.

The New Conditions Met.

Under these conditions, it also became necessary to tax these new enterprises for the privilege and protection accorded them by the state; but so rapid has been their growth, and so powerful their influence, that the state has scarcely kept pace with them in adjusting its new revenue policy to meet these new requirements; and as a result, the real estate, farmers and home owners, have been and are now paying a disproportionate share of the public burdens.

In meeting these new conditions and in correcting these growing inequalities, the Republican party has been foremost. In 1866 it amended the tax laws so as to relieve real estate of taxation for the state government proper, and, on the other hand, imposed on personal and corporate property and licenses for business privileges the entire expenses of the state government.

But it soon became apparent that imposing the entire expense of the state government upon these subject of taxation would not correct these great inequalities. It was in 1891 when the grange took up this subject, before the public and so forcibly pressed it before the legislature, under what was known as the Taggart or grange tax bill, that the Republican party came to the rescue and passed a compromise bill, known as the Boyer act, whereby taxes on corporate property were sufficiently increased to enable the state to appropriate $5,000,000 to our public schools annually and to return to the counties three-fourths of the personal property tax, amounting to $2,300,000, also to secure for the counties and townships the entire retail liquor licenses, amounting to $3,500,000 more, thus making an annual saving to the local taxpayers of $11,300,000.

But notwithstanding all this great progress secured by the Republican party, as demanded by the grange and real estate owners, in equalizing taxes, between the different industries for the necessary support of the several divisions of government, there are still great and unjust discriminations between the personal, corporate and real estate property holders which the Republican party stands pledged to correct in the future as guaranteed by its action in the past.

Smith on National Issues.

National issues almost exclusively occupied the time of Gen. Smith. His exposition of the financial and industrial expansion under Republican rule was most telling. He said in part:

The coming election in Pennsylvania will determine three central and vital points. First, whether this state, in electing representatives in congress, will stand for the policies which have given us our national greatness and which have produced our present marvelous prosperity, or whether it will contribute to the election of a Democratic congress which would do its worst to overthrow these policies and to bring universal uncertainty and business disaster; second, the governorship; third, the character and quality of the legislature.

The first point involves the discussion of national issues. The third point, the choice of the legislature, addresses itself to the people within the respective legislative districts. Honest elections are the beginning and the foundation of all reform. I want to see a legislature which will give us a second ballot law and the sure bulwark of an honest ballot box.

So far as state affairs are concerned, the pivot of the election is the governorship. The governor is the central and commanding power in state administration. He holds the initiative in various channels. He appoints the heads of the most important state departments. He cannot himself make laws, but, nevertheless, he can decide what shall and what shall not go on the statute book. If he cannot carry good legislation he can stop bad legislation.

Fortunately, the people of Pennsylvania who are both Republicans and devoted to good government need have no doubt as to their duty. In Judge Pennypacker we have a candidate for governor who is worthy of the most implicit confidence. For 12 years he has served as a judge of the common pleas, and his fidelity, rectitude and conscientiousness have never been questioned. He has shown himself independent, courageous and straightforward. No man in all this state dare challenge his absolute integrity, probity and devotion to right and duty.

No Room for Guess Work.

Looking to the broader field of national affairs, the issues at stake are of such tremendous consequence that no Republican—and, indeed, no patriotic citizen of any party—ought to feel any doubt about his duty. Shall Pennsylvania uphold the national administration, or shall we cripple and paralyze it? Shall we sustain the policies which have given us such national greatness and glory, or shall we condemn and overtake to overthrow them? Shall we vote to continue the unparalleled prosperity which fills the country with content and happiness and growth, or shall we vote to overshadow it with doubt and to create distrust which will bring calamity? Who wants to go back to the business conditions which prevailed from 1893 to 1897?

In deciding what path we ought to follow, we don't have to guess. We know. We know in the light of experience which it would be madness to disregard. The object lessons of the past ten years blaze the way for every man who is not blind to the truth.

Republican statesmanship has dealt wisely and strongly with the greatest problems which been presented since the civil war. We have added a new star to the political firmament in setting up the free and independent republic of Cuba, and we must now cement a close commercial union which shall equally advance her interests and ours by a broad policy of reciprocity. We have led Porto Rico into the light and glory of liberty and prosperity. We have quelled insurrection in the Philippines and have inaugurated a civil government which is spreading among the dusky people of the archipelago the blessings of education, justice, freedom and security. We have seated the United States at the council table of the nations where her views are respected and her influence is actually felt in determining great international policies.

Never before has the country stood on such heights of prosperity and greatness, and every step in this magnificent progress has been taken with the opposition or the criticism of the Democratic party. In the light of this experience, shall Pennsylvania waver in her Republicanism or pronounce a verdict which would weaken the national administration in carrying forward the great work to which it is devoted?

This evening the party was entertained at Bellefonte by Gen. Hastings. The speakers left for Lock Haven at 8 o'clock and will remain there tonight and start for Erie in the morning.

trated, remained at the hospital all night and this morning went to her home in Irving place, accompanied by her brothers-in-law, Hamilton Fish and Stuyvesant Fish. After the autopsy Mr. Fish's body was removed to the house.

The funeral will be held tomorrow in St. Mark's church in Second avenue. The burial will be in the family plot at Garrison, N. Y.

The New York state secretary of the Order of the Cincinnati, of which Mr. Fish was president, has issued a general order requesting members of the order to attend the funeral.

MURDERED MAN COMES OF OLD DUTCH STOCK

Family Prominent in History of America for Many Generations.

Career in Diplomatic Corps.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—In politics, statecraft, finance and war the name of Fish occupies many pages of American history. The last member of the family to die, Nicholas Fish, was named after his grandfather, Col. Nicholas Fish, a distinguished soldier in the revolutionary war.

The next member of the family to win distinction was his son, Hamilton Fish, the father of the man killed Monday. Hamilton Fish, named for the great federal financier, whom Col. Fish knew and revered, was secretary of state under President Grant in 1869; United States senator from this state in 1861; governor of New York in 1848, when he defeated Gen. John A. Dix; congressman from the Seventh district in 1842, and generally understood to have declined the chief justiceship tendered him by Gen. Grant upon the death of Salmon P. Chase.

Nicholas Fish's maternal ancestry was also distinguished. His mother was Miss Julia Kean, great-grandniece of Gov. Livingston and granddaughter of John Kean, member of the first congress from South Carolina. She died in 1887.

Eldest of Family of Six.

Nicholas Fish was the eldest of a family of six children—three brothers and three sisters—Nicholas, Hamilton, Jr., Stuyvesant, Mrs. Sydney Webster, Mrs. Benjamin, wife of the former Col. Benjamin of West Point, and Mrs. William E. Rogers. The family is of German origin.

Stuyvesant Fish, the president of the Illinois Central railroad, is one of the few male descendants of Col. Nicholas Fish who has not won preferment in political life. He has been a railroad man all his life. The only other brother of the late Nicholas Fish was christened Hamilton, after his father. He was born in 1849 and for many years was actively interested in politics.

Born in this city February 17, 1846, Nicholas Fish attended Columbia college, graduating in 1867. He chose the Harvard law school in preference to Columbia, and graduated at Cambridge two years later. On July 1, 1871, when he was only 25, he was appointed assistant secretary of the American legation at Berlin by President Grant. Ambitious for promotion he worked steadily and brilliantly, and President Hays appointed him charge d' affaires to the Swiss confederation in January 21, 1877. He remained there until May, 1881, when he resigned.

Is Again Sent Abroad.

In 1882, however, he was sent abroad again, this time to represent the United States as minister to Belgium. After refusing the post of minister to Denmark he entered the firm of Harriman & Co., 120 Broadway.

At the beginning of his career in the diplomatic service Mr. Fish married Miss Clemence Bryce, the daughter of Maj. Smith Bryce. Two children were born to them, Hamilton Fish III., who was killed in the Roosevelt rough riders' battle, June 24, 1898, and Elizabeth, the wife of Robert Burnside Potter, who is now abroad. Mr. Potter is the son of the late Gen. Robert Burnside Potter and a nephew of Bishop Potter. The wedding was one of the most brilliant affairs ever held at the Fish family residence, No. 53 Irving place.

Mrs. Nicholas Fish has always been a leader in social affairs in the metropolis. She is said to know Wagnerian scores better than many professional singers, having been a pupil of the maestro himself. She spent many months with Richard Wagner at Bayreuth.

HOSPITAL ACT IS TO BE RECALLED

COUNCILS WILL AGAIN CONSIDER ORDINANCE.

The Recorder and Director Leslie Will Be Instructed To Spend All of $125,000 on Structure.

Pittsburgh councils will call back from the the department of public safety the ordinance under which a contract has been awarded to Kerr & Fox for the construction of the municipal hospital. Controller John B. Larkin's expose of the methods used in placing this contract, and the fact that it is in violation of the express provisions of the new charter, has aroused the members of councils to action, as it is patent that under present conditions the hospital will not be built at all. W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward will present a resolution in the common branch to recall the ordinance.

City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan was given the letter from Controller John B. Larkin in which the controller gives his reason for refusing to countersign the contract, and the city solicitor admits that unless the controller attaches its countersignature to it it cannot be carried out and would not bind either the city or the contractor.

To Use All the Money.

As the city government will not meet the controller's views, and the controller will not sign unless his views are complied with and the law followed, the hospital project appeared to have a dark future. For that reason it has been decided to recall this ordinance and authorize the city recorder and the director of public safety to use all the money at their disposal, which is now $125,000, for the hospital. The city government only proposed to spend $80,000.

If the resolution to recall the contract ordinance is adopted, the director of public safety will be instructed to prepare a plan for a diphtheria wing, as was originally contemplated. The controller does not sign the present contract ordinance because the contract as let provides for the building only and does not provide for the equipment, as is ordered by the city charter.

Courts May Decide.

If the action to be taken by councils should fail it will probably result in suit being brought, as it is the intention of Recorder Brown and Director Leslie to force the building of the hospital under the present contract. Director Leslie said yesterday that he believed the controller is wrong, and he also believed that it could be shown that the fiscal officer is wrong and cannot prevent the carrying out of the contract. While the director will not admit that he is preparing to go on with the contract, and get the matter into court, it is known that this is the intention.

"I do not see how we can comply with the ideas of the controller," said Director Leslie yesterday. "He thinks that everything should be comprised in the one contract, and I do not see how we can do that. If the present disease wave should decrease, then there will be a great deal of the equipment in the present hospital which we can use in the new one; and if it should increase, then we will have to buy entirely new equipment for the new hospital. Circumstances alter the case a great deal. So far as we are concerned, we have no changes to make. We believe we are right and we do not mean to stop when we feel that we are doing right. We believe we will win."

THIRTY-TWO WILL BE TRIED FOR MURDER.

There are 31 persons awaiting trial for murder in the jail. This tells eloquently of the epidemic of crime in Allegheny county. Twenty-nine are men and two women. These prisoners will be placed on trial during the present term. They will be arraigned for the killing of brothers, wives, husbands, children, sweethearts and in gambling quarrels. Most of the crimes were premeditated and the balance were committed in the heat of passion or while under the influence of liquor. District Attorney John C. Haymaker and County Detective Robert G. Robinson are busy gathering the evidence against these persons and trying them. Mrs. S. L. Eagle of Avalon, who will also have to stand trial for murder, is not in jail, having been released on bail.

AUGUST STEEL OUTPUT BIGGEST ON RECORD

Combine's Earnings For That Month $12,500,000—Homestead Requisitions Up to Next June.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Preliminary estimates of the earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for August give the amount to be $12,500,000, while for July the total was slightly under $12,000,000.

The August output, according to officials, break all records in point of volume. As a rule August tonnage is cut down on account of the heat and enforced idleness. This year there was a steady run in practically all the plants. In July there were two or three holidays, which cut into the tonnage and value of the output.

Officials of the company who have lately visited the Homestead plant, say the mill superintendents are now putting in their requisitions for raw materials for as far ahead as June, 1903. The requests comprise ore and scrap tonnage. Material for the months intervening already have been allotted and the work is fully shaped out for that period in the Homestead plants.

Vice President James Gayley, who is in charge of the ore departments, has told his friends that there will be a decrease of $5,000,000 this year in the cost of producing and delivering ores to the various plants of the steel combine, notwithstanding the increased tonnage. This amount has been saved, it is said, by economies which have been introduced in the methods of handling and transporting the ores since the various properties were grouped together.

WINONA SCHOOL OPENS.

H. J. Heinz Interested in Plan to Furnish Boys With Agricultural and Technical Education.

WARSAW, IND., Sept. 16.—The Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, chancellor of the Winona Agricultural and Technical Institute, presided at the formal opening of the school at Winona today.

Several wealthy business men are interested in establishing the school, among them being J. M. Studebaker of South Bend, Walter M. Smith of New York, H. J. Heinz of Pittsburgh, Hugh Hanna of Indianapolis, and Alexander McDonald of Cincinnati.

The school is designed to help boys to practical business life in all lines and provisions have been made, whereby a boy lacking that necessary means may work his way through the college. The Winona and the technical department will be at Indianapolis.

More than 400 acres will be used at Winona and kept in order by the boys of the school.

The Gazette Has Once Again Outdistanced All Competitors.

The fact that The Pittsburgh Gazette is "THE newspaper" of Pittsburgh was again demonstrated yesterday morning. In addition to many other exclusive stories, The Gazette was the only paper in the city that displayed sufficient newspaper enterprise to see and get a statement of his object from Bishop Samuel Fallows of the Reformed Episcopal church of Chicago when he passed through this city, en route to the anthracite region to aid, as much as he can, in settling the great strike.

The bishop's visit has excited the greatest interest all over the country, and his mission is one that appeals to every thinking citizen. That The Gazette's representative saw the bishop and secured what every paper in Pittsburgh was trying for was not due to any freak of fortune. It was merely an incident in the carefully planned campaign that is carrying the paper to the fore in American journalism. It was the result of The Gazette's policy of sparing no effort to get the news, and all the news, and was planned as soon as it was learned that the bishop was on his way east.

The great anthracite strike is a matter of grave concern to the United States. Its settlement is a thing not only desirable, but necessary, to avoid not only suffering on the part of the miners and financial loss to the operators, but actual hardship to a large section of the country which depends on the anthracite region for its winter fuel supply. Consequently every new development, even of little importance in itself, is a news item.

That a man of such eminent reputation and attainments as Bishop Fallows should undertake the cause of the general public and make a personal investigation and effort to bring it to a close is, at this juncture, an event of national importance. The Gazette had it, the rest did not. That tells the tale. "Watch the Old Lady Grow Young."

DRANK ACID UPON HER BIRTHDAY

FRIENDS HAD BEEN INVITED TO CELEBRATE IT.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Drews Killed Herself On the Day She Was 70 Years Old.

Just as she reached the allotted age of three score and ten Mrs. Wilhelmina Drew committed suicide at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. J. Edgett at No. 208 Henry avenue, Sewickley, shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mrs. Drew had often threatened to take her life. Her daughters did not heed this, as they believed that her mind was becoming feeble. Sunday she talked to Mrs. Edgett of her approaching birthday. Her son-in-law was away from home, but had promised to return for this occasion. Early yesterday morning Mrs. Edgett received word that her husband had arrived in Pittsburgh and would come to Sewickley on the next train. She went out to invite another friend to the birthday party, which was to be a surprise to her mother.

While she was away Mrs. Drew went to her room and, taking a pillow from the bed, laid it on the floor. She secured a bottle of carbolic acid and, lying on the floor, poured the acid in a cup and drank it.

Her daughter returned to the house in a few minutes, went to her mother's room and was horrified to find her dead. The poison bottle told the story. Coroner McGeary made an investigation of the case. Mrs. Drew bought the carbolic acid over a month ago.

Helen St. Clair of No. 1223 Hazel street, colored, attempted to commit suicide yesterday morning by drinking carbolic acid. She was frustrated in her attempt by Sophronia Penn, a neighbor, who knocked the bottle out of Helen's hand. The young woman then became hysterical and ran down Wylie avenue, yelling that she was going to kill herself. Several men who knew her led her home. She is 22 years old and was despondent about the life she had been leading.

VICE CRUSADE PLANS.

Recorder Brown Talks With Police Magistrates—Owners of Illegal Houses to Be Prosecuted.

Recorder Brown yesterday held a long conference with Police Magistrates McGarey, Kerr, Armstrong and McMasters, in the presence of Director Leslie and Police Superintendent McAleese. The recorder gave his ideas on the treatment of persons arrested for conducting disorderly houses and selling liquor illegally. It is understood that he advised the magistrates not to be influenced by politicians.

Superintendent McAleese, District Attorney Haymaker and Assistant City Attorney Blakeley will consult today concerning the prosecution of the owners of houses leased for illegal purposes. It is said that much evidence has been collected, implicating owners and agents.

Director Leslie was visited yesterday by several bottlers and their friends, who pleaded for the keepers of various houses raided last Saturday evening. The director gave no consolation to any of his callers. It is reported at police headquarters that a series of raids, many of them on high-class speakeasies, will be made next Saturday evening.

Cardinal Appointment Remote.

ROME, Sept. 16.—Pressure for the appointment of another American cardinal continues to reach the vatican from American churchmen. The correspondent of the Associated Press is in a position to say that whatever the future may bring forth, there will be no American cardinal nominated at the consistory, which will mark the close of the papal jubilee.

BENNETT GETS FIFTEEN YEARS IN PENITENTIARY

Butler Girl's Assailant Made No Defense When Arraigned in Court.

INSANITY DODGE HAD NO EFFECT

Officiers Feared Another Attempt at Lynching and Closely Guarded the Prisoner—Will Be Brought to Allegheny Today.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Butler, Pa., Sept. 16.—Joseph Bennett, whose brutal treatment of six-year-old Thelma Wagner on Saturday night led to the attack on the jail by a mob, today entered a plea of no defense and was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment in the Western penitentiary. The fact that Bennett would enter such a plea was not generally known. The officials kept the matter secret, fearing another uprising of the people and another attempt to lynch the prisoner. There was scarcely any one in the neighborhood of the jail when Bennett was taken into court by Sheriff Hoon and a large force of deputies and police, and no demonstration was made.

Bennett kept up his attempt to create the impression that he was insane, but it had no effect. Judge S. H. Miller of Mercer, who is holding court here, told Bennett plainly that there was no use of pretending insanity, as the court was satisfied that he was mentally responsible for his misdeed.

When sentence was pronounced Bennett groaned and his body shook as though he had been stricken with ague. The court room was crowded to the doors because of other interesting cases in court; and Judge Miller ordered officers to man the doors and permit no one to leave the room until the sheriff had his prisoner safely back in jail. It was feared that if the crowd was permitted to go out violence would be done.

Bennett's aged mother and two of his sisters were in the court room when sentence was pronounced. Mrs. Bennett broke down and wept bitterly as her son was taken out. Bennett will be taken to the penitentiary tomorrow morning on the train leaving here at 6:25.

tariff planks of the last two national platforms.

Continuing, he says:

"For three years I have advocated giving control of trusts to congress. In my judgment, proper supervision can never be had until congress has power to treat with them. I am glad to see from speeches made by our fearless and upright chief executive, that he is advocating federal control over these corporations, and while in some quarters they sneer at it, I have not seen any proposition yet except this that seems at all likely to bring relief.

Democracy's Cure Is Death.

"No proposition has ever been made by the Democracy excepting to put everything on the free list and to give the country free trade. In other words, they propose to kill the child in order to cure it. They propose to slaughter every interest in the United States, whether capital or labor, in a wild and blind effort to provide a remedy for trusts. In my opinion, if combinations could be regulated and controlled, we would have very little demand for change in the tariff laws. To show how strongly the Republican party feels upon the subject, in its state platform this year it declares in favor of any modification of the tariff that may be required to prevent affording shelter to monopoly.

"Our Democratic friends treat this as moving into free trade grounds. It's nothing of the sort. It is a bold declaration that if modifications of the tariff are required to prevent monopoly from sheltering itself under the wings of protection then tariff shall be modified to prevent that condition. For my part, if any great interest in this country is prospering through protective policies or any other legislation and is using its advantages, growth and prosperity to plunder the American people. I for one am ready to strike it by whatever legal means we may be able to adopt, provided that in so doing we do not hurt innocent interests.

Would Control Corporations.

"I'm not prepared to say I would be willing to strike down and destroy American combinations and let foreign combinations come in and do the work, but I would like to control our own corporations so that there could be fair play among the American people. I have been more amused than hurt at the suggestions that I have been against any changes in the tariff. While I have been against a general revision, recognizing the wisdom of President Roosevelt in his first message to congress, in which he advised against it, I have never been opposed to making needed changes, and I am not now.

"I must say, and emphatically, that I don't believe that a single schedule of the Dingley tariff law can be so amended as to relieve the people from the oppression of trusts or combinations of capital, however named, and that such action may involve the retarding of our expanding commerce and getting and holding of foreign markets. Indeed, I believe such plan to be fraught with grave dangers to the people.

"I am a firm believer in reciprocity. I worked with untiring zeal to secure reciprocal arrangements between Cuba and this country and I was successful in passing it through the house. The senate did not act on the bill because consideration on it would have permitted the opening up of the whole question of tariff revision.

Best of the Bargain.

"The house has nothing to say about the ratification of treaties, but the reciprocal relations upon which it legislated in respect to Cuba were not in the nature of treaties, but they were reciprocal agreements in which, I think, our country would have had the best of the bargain, although doubtless they would have been of great advantage to Cuba.

"While I cannot speak for the prospect of favorable action upon bills sent to the senate, I still hope and believe that by a treaty the same result may be accomplished, and I have no doubt that President Roosevelt is now at work on the question of a treaty with Cuba to give that struggling young republic needed help, a help, too, in which, while they will be gainers, we will not be losers.

"And now, let me say, and let there be no misunderstanding as to my position: I believe in protection that will protect the hand of labor, the wheels of industry, every farmer and miner, and I am against wicked corporations that would trample on the right of the people to fair play and to the fruits of honest efforts. I am against any legislation that would throw my country into panic and bring back the horrors bequeathed to us by the last Democratic administration."

WASHINGTON HEARS NEWS WITH REGRET

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 16.—The dispatch announcing Speaker Henderson's declination caused a sensation in Washington. Few public men are in the capital, but all here expressed regret. The causes leading up to his decision were perhaps as much a matter of comment as the refusal to stand for re-election.

Public men acknowledge there is a demand in sections of the west and northwest for a revision of the tariff along certain lines, notably in the cases of articles whose manufacture is controlled by trusts. Their opinion is that Gen. Henderson's decision will make this issue more acute, and suggested that the president is conferring at this time with leading senators from the east and west, presumably on the very question which has forced Gen. Henderson out of line with his party in Iowa. The speaker always has been a straight-out Republican on tariff matters, and at the last session of congress the general understanding was that he opposed the suggestions advanced for tariff revision on articles controlled by trusts.

Cause of the Trouble.

The Iowa Republican state convention in the latter part of July took strong grounds upon the reduction of the tariff on goods whose production is controlled by trusts, making the following declaration:

"We favor * * * any modifications of the tariff schedule that may be required to prevent their affording shelter to monopoly."

There was a great deal of opposition to this statement, but it was finally adopted.

It was generally conceded that the speaker would have no serious opposition to re-election, as his district is largely Republican and always has returned him with a large majority.

Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department, who comes from Iowa, was thunderstruck when he heard of Gen. Henderson's decision. He expressed great regret that the speaker has determined on the course announced, but further than that declined to make any statement for publication.

To Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who is also an Iowan and a great friend of the speaker, the news came with equal surprise and regret. The secretary dictated the following statement:

Plank Not Taken Seriously.

"I have not been in Iowa since February, and hence know little of any change in political sentiment in the state. All Republicans found congenial standing room on the platform last year. The tariff revision plank is sufficiently general to occasion no dispute, and each put such construction upon the shelter for monopoly utterance as he pleased. The language does not say that the tariff does afford shelter, but demands any modification of the schedules that may be required to prevent their affording shelter.' I think most speakers took the old-time Republican view that the tariff is not responsible for trusts. If sentiment has changed I am not advised.

"I regret Gen. Henderson's decision more than I can express, and I still hope he may be induced to recall his declaration. He was sure of his election."

In view of Gen. Henderson's determination some gossip was indulged in as to his successor as speaker. Representatives Cannon of Illinois no doubt will be a candidate, with a strong competitor in Representative Sherman of New York. Grosvenor of Ohio and Littlefield of Maine also are mentioned as among those who may be forced to the front by their friends, although most public men thought either Mr. Cannon or Mr. Sherman the probable choice of the house.

THE DUST OF OUR STREETS.

Besides the filth which every one knows exists, the dust of our streets contains the germs of very large number of dangerous diseases, those of consumption being always present. This germ-filled filth accumulates in the nose and if allowed to remain in contact with the nasal membrane, as it must, when this is inflamed by cold or catarrh, is gradually but surely absorbed, the inflammation aiding this. Thus the great white plague—consumption—finds a foothold, for who of us is wholly free from colds in the head—acute catarrh—the forerunner of chronic catarrh. In this connection an interesting Booklet, "A Ray of Light," will be of much value to those who suffer from colds in the head or catarrh. It will be mailed, together with a sample of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm—enough to cure a cold in the head—for a two-cent stamp to pay postage, by addressing Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, O.

An Aged Couple Is Overpowered and Robbed; Beaver Falls Manufacturer Sued for $5,000

THIEVES GET MUCH BOOTY

Aged Couple Is Overpowered and Robbed in Forest County.

LOST GOVERNMENT BONDS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

TITUSVILLE, PA., Sept. 16.—While milking his cows last evening, Hugh Miles, an aged man living in Harmony township, Forest county, was overpowered by robbers and carried to the house, where his wife was obliged to keep quiet at the point of a revolver until Miles told the whereabouts of the key to an old-fashioned safe in which the aged couple's money and valuables were kept. Opening the safe the robbers secured about $150, $1,000 in government bonds and jewelry valued at over $500.

After satisfying themselves that all the money available had been secured they endeavored to force the aged lady to get supper for them, but were unsuccessful, whereupon they went to the cupboard and helped themselves. After eating their meal and further intimidating the old couple into promised silence they went to the barn, hitched up the best horse and drove rapidly away.

Miles, although 80 years old, is an expert rifleman, and with his gun stationed himself where he expected to get a shot at the robbers, but they took a cross cut and escaped. The horse was found this morning a few miles from the scene of the robbery and gave evidence of having been treated cruelly.

Although the alarm has been spread all over the country nothing has developed that promises to lead to the arrest of the bandits.

STATE SECURES BUILDINGS.

Departments at Harrisburg to Have Temporary Quarters.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—(Special.)—The capitol commission having awarded the state contract for the construction of the state capitol to George F. Payne & Co. of Philadelphia at their bid of $3,710,000 for a building with a granite dome, the next move on the program is to provide suitable accommodations for the departments at present housed in the two old buildings on either side of the present legislative building. The commission has authorized Edward Bailey to secure headquarters for the departments that will have to vacate the old buildings so that they can be torn down to make way for the departmental wings of the new building.

Negotiations have been opened with a Jewish congregation which recently secured possession of a church in Fourth street in the rear of the main building and a large building in the center of the city formerly used for a department store.

Lost Woman and Money.

HARRISVILLE, W. VA., Sept. 16.—(Special.)—William Neptune, over 60 years of age, is suing Mrs. Simons Hoole, who is still in the twenties and handsome, for the recovery of $380 which he alleges she secured from him. A few days ago they eloped to Parkersburg, he leaving a wife and she a husband. He had sold his farm and put the money in his pocket. She is charged with having secured his money and left him. He came back alone.

Motorman and Conductor of Car Which Struck President's Carriage Decline to Take Witness Stand.

PITTSFIELD, MASS., Sept. 16.—It was announced today that the Motorman Euclid Madden and Conductor Kelley would not testify during the inquest over the body of William Craig, the secret service man killed by their car.

An opportunity was given the men some days ago to appear on the witness stand if they so desired. They were offered the privilege of having their counsel present, who would decide for them what questions should be answered.

Today's witnesses at the inquest included Mayor England, Chauncey A. Cornell, John Webb, James W. House, A. J. Barnes and Mrs. Dunbar.

It is understood Mayor England's testimony was about the arrangements made with the representatives of the Pittsfield Car Company with reference to the request that cars be stopped during President Roosevelt's visit to this city.

INSURANCE AGAINST SICKNESS

Insurance Against Sickness and Loss of Work Is as Important as Insurance Against Death.

The best form of insurance against adversity is a snug bank account, and with work so plentiful and wages so good as at present, there is no good excuse for any wage earning man or woman to be without a bank account. A dollar will start an account with the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, Smithfield street, opposite postoffice, should more not be available, and 4 per cent compound interest paid. Thirty-two thousand persons have over twelve million dollars on deposit with this bank. How much of it is yours? Write for their booklet, No. 26.

BIG PRODUCTION OF TINPLATE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—Figures from the forthcoming annual report of Capt. James M. Clark, chief of the bureau of industrial statistics for 1901, show that the capital invested in Pennsylvania tin plate works manufacturing their own black plate was $10,525,000. The production of black plate was 435,628,000 pounds, and the total output of tin plate made by the black plate works and the tin plate dipping works combined was 421,640,000 pounds, an increase over the production of 1900 of 123,786,000 pounds. The value of the entire output, tinned and untinned, was $17,612,030.

In the black plate tin works there were employed 8,188 men; the average yearly earnings, skilled and unskilled, was $561; the average daily wage, skilled and unskilled, was $2.46.

Lawrence county produced over 44 per cent of the entire black plate production of the state; Westmoreland followed with nearly 24 per cent, and Allegheny with over 11 per cent. But two counties, Philadelphia and Allegheny, have plants making the tin plate outside of those making their own black plate. Of this production Philadelphia made 15,693 net tons and Allegheny 6,412 net tons.

QUAKERS START FOR ERIE CONVENTION

Senator Quay and State Committee Will Consider Drafts of Reform Legislation.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 16.—The Philadelphia delegation to the Erie convention of the State League of Republican clubs departed eight o'clock this morning. All told about 70 clubs were represented by the 350 delegates who made the trip. On the front of the locomotive was a large picture of ex-Judge Pennypacker.

State Chairman Quay replied today to the communication received yesterday from Clinton Rogers Woodruff, chairman of the joint committee for the promotion of electoral reforms in Pennsylvania. With the letter were sent copies of a "personal registration" bill indorsed by the joint committee and the "ballot reform" bill drafted by the Pennsylvania Ballot Reform association and approved by the "joint committee." In his reply Chairman Quay says:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of yesterday inclosing two bills in relation to the registration and election laws, to which I will give my attention, and which will be transmitted to the subcommittee of our state committee in charge of these questions. I have directed that you be furnished with the names and addresses of the members of our state committee in order that you may forward to them copies of these bills as you suggest.

Thomas L. Garvin, in charge of the speakers bureau of the republican state committee, today announced the following Pittsburghers who had been selected to assist in the campaign speechmaking: Joseph H. Viehestain, Albert Hamilton and Albert Colvin.

Attorney General Elkin visited Senator Quay at headquarters today.

The Democrats, Unionists and Municipal Leaguers are having a squabble among themselves over the offices which they are trying to fuse on. They will attempt fusion in only about eight of the 28 districts in the city, for the hopelessness of of making a fight in the other districts is too apparent.

Building Brick Plant.

MENDELSSOHN, PA., Sept. 16.—(Special.)—Ground was broken today for the erection of a brickyard and sewer pipe manufacturing plant for the Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad & Coal Company on Peters creek, two miles from here. WILL TAKE APPEAL.

Christian Scientists Not Satisfied That Judge Has Right to Refuse Charter for Church.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—The Christian Scientists of this city who were yesterday refused a charter for their church in common pleas court on the ground that the charter was sought for a double purpose, a church and a business—the business being the sale of Mrs. Mary Baker Geddis' book—today decided to carry the matter to the state supreme court.

The Scientists now have charters in several cities of this state under the same law on which they were refused a charter yesterday.

The report that John Arnold quoted from the Christian Scientists text book to show that failure to sell and circulate Mrs. Eddy's "Science and Health," would be sufficient cause for expulsion from the church is erroneous. The judge quoted an article written by Mrs. Eddy, which appeared in the Christian Science Journal of March, 1897.

NEW CARS BEGIN TO COME.

First Consignment for Pittsburgh Railways Company Arrives.

The first consignment of eight cars out of a total of 100 ordered by the Pittsburgh Railways Company were unloaded yesterday in Brushton and taken to the Frankstown avenue barns to have trucks placed under them, after which they will be placed in service.

The new cars are the finest that ever came to Pittsburgh. They are 42 feet long and are equipped in the most modern manner. They are fully vestibuled, much on the order of the railway coaches, and the space for the motorman is much larger than in the cars now in use. All the closed cars ordered are expected here before extremely cold weather arrivs.

Funeral of Lieut. Morris.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—As there was no chaplain available, Lieut. Commander Haslow read the burial service today over the body of Lieut. John Ramsay Morris of the Olympia, who shot himself yesterday. After the brief service the body was conveyed to the North Station, a detail of blue jackets acting as a guard of honor, and sent to Kansas City.

WANTS $5,000 FOR ARREST

Beaver Falls Manufacturer Is Sued for Malicious Prosecution.

RESULTED FROM A STRIKE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Sept. 16.—Arthur Neal, president of the Machinists' union, today brought suit through his attorneys, Judge Mecklem and W. H. Cox, against E. O. Eyer, an official of the Keystone Driller Company of this place, charging Eyer with malicious prosecution. Neal sues for $5,000 damages.

In his affidavit Neal claims that during a strike among the machinists at the driller works, while he was peaceably trying to induce one of the non-union workmen to quit work, Eyer had him arrested and taken to the lockup. At a trial before Burgess Raymer on the charges brought by Eyer of using profane language, of being drunk and of inciting trouble and unlawfully interferring with workmen, the charges were not sustained and Neal was discharged.

Eyer's bail has been fixed at $1,000.

TALK ON REFORMATION.

National Prison Congress Has Three Busy Sessions—Interesting Reports Are Discussed.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—The National Prison Congress had three busy sessions today. At the morning session the report of the committee on preventive and reformatory work was read by the Hon. A. J. Leonard, superintendent of the Ohio State reformatory at Mansfield. Through R. S. Tuthill, judge of the juvenile court of Chicago, the report of the committee on criminal law reform was presented, and Mrs. Elizabeth L. Tuttle, officer of the probation court of Boston, read the report of the committee on probation work.

The afternoon session was devoted to the report of the committee on prison discipline as presented by Albert Garvin, warden of the Wethersfield (Conn.) state prison.

SOLD IMPURE BEEF.

Serious Charge Against Packing Combine Made By St. Louis Live Stock Inspector O'Sullivan.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16.—Partly decayed meat which had been treated chemically to hide its condition, as well as sausages containing potato, flour, unhealthy kidneys ground up, and other adulterations, were sold in St. Louis and the other large cities of the country between August 21, 1899, and May 1, 1902, by the members of the packers' trust, according to testimony given today by Thomas L. O'Sullivan, meat and live stock inspector of St. Louis.

O'Sullivan was the first witness called by Attorney General Crow when the taking of testimony was resumed by Supreme Court Commissioner I. N. Neinly in the beef trust inquiry today.

WILL CONTINUE THE LIBRARY.

Move to Dispense With a Feature of Allegheny's Schools Voted Down.

The committee on public library of the Allegheny board of school controllers last night discussed the advisability of doing away with the library or consolidating it with the Allegheny Carnegie library. It was decided to continue the library, as it would not be legal or profitable to abandon it or consolidate it with the Carnegie library.

It was shown that the library circulates annually among the school children of Allegheny over 60,000 books especially adapted as supplementary reading for the pupils of the public schools, and that the Carnegie library cannot supply in sufficient quantity such literature.

Fred W. Blaisdell, a teacher in the Pittsburgh high schools, was unanimously nominated for the position of librarian, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James W. Burney.

More Speakeasies Raided.

Police Inspector Denniston made information before Magistrate Armstrong yesterday charging Mrs. Patrick Riley of Rutherglen street; Mrs. Ellen Dellahanty, No. 4309 Second avenue; Mrs. Lizzie Walz, No. 2343 Second avenue, and Patrick Reiley, No. 20 Rutherglen street, with selling liquor without a license. They were all arrested and locked in the Oakland police station.

UPPER RIVER WORK.

Important Government Improvements Are Nearing Completion About Morgantown.

Preparations are now being made to hang the lock gates at lock No. 10 on the Monongahela river, the first of the new series of dams above Morgantown. When a gap of about 100 feet in the dam is closed the entire job will be completed and boats will be enabled to go through the lock. Work on dam No. 11 will be commenced within a week or two. It will be 1904 before the entire system from Morgantown to Fairmont is completed.

Capt. L. C. McCormick, who has had charge of the construction of dams Nos. 10 and 11, is now government inspector of the work being done at locks Nos. 7, 8 and 9. The outside walls at dam No. 7 are being concreted to strengthen them and the same is being done to lock No. 9. At lock No. 8 a lock keeper's office and house will be built. By the time the government finishes the job of repairs the upper locks and dams on the river will be in excellent condition.

Boats will be enabled to run through to Fairmont from Pittsburgh, and it is quite likely that Monongahela river packets will extend their trips to that place, or put smaller boats in the trade to make connections.

The new steamer Columbia left yesterday on her maiden trip to Morgantown. She was given a salute by the other steamers in port as she went up the river.

Capt. George Hendrickson has resigned command of the steamer Gertrude. Capt. Harry Ragon is making a few trips on the boat until a successor to Capt. Hendrickson is appointed.

Capt. Peter Sprague desires to build a larger towboat than the Sprague. He says that he would like to construct a steel hull boat 300 feet in length for river service. He says the Sprague is a success.

Maj. S. R. Crumbaugh leaves this morning for Wheeling to visit the steamboat inspectors there. He will return to Cincinnati next Saturday and will not render a decision in the Boyd case until next week.

Capt. Frank Ganoe went out yesterday in command of the steamer Elizabeth. The boat was late leaving on account of being held here to make a few slight repairs. The Elizabeth took away an excellent freight trip.

Collins, Darrah & Co. have finished building 10 new barges for the Ayers & Lord Tie Co., and they are being loaded with coal for the Paducah Mining Company. As soon as the barges are delivered at Paducah and are unloaded they will be turned over to the owners.

J. Norwood Rodgers, who spent several days in Philadelphia, has returned home. On October 14 Mr. Rodgers will be married to a young woman of that city and will bring his bride to Pittsburgh. A new home, almost completed at Bellevue, is where the couple will reside.

Fashions in Store Windows.

At a meeting of the Dressmakers' Protective Association in New York the other day, the president in her address, among other things, said: "Keep your eyes open. Don't walk past the shop windows and say: 'There's no ideas there! I've seen that all before.' Break it off! Break it off!"

Right—and right to the point. Our windows mirror the fashions day in and day out—not in a garish or clumsy way, but in simple elegance. The exhibits are not confined to personal fashion, either, but for the home as well. Just now some elegant specimens of Paris furniture are shown in the west windows, while the most exquisite of Oriental Rugs smile at you from the east windows.

PATTISON PARTY SEES BUCHANAN'S BOYHOOD HOME

Members Rehearse Their Set Speeches to Crowds in Republican Towns.

OLD FRANKLIN COUNTY PLOWED OVER

Congressman Thad Mahon Says That County Will Give Pennypacker a Majority of at Least $1,000—In Cumberland Today.

By WALTER J. CHRISTY,
Staff Correspondent.

Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 16.—The Democratic gubernatorial campaign in Franklin county closed here tonight with a big mass meeting in the opera house. The spellbinders had to shut off their oratory at 9 o'clock in order to give way to another comedy company that had secured a prior lease on the hall.

The meeting here was the fifth held in the county today. While ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison and George W. Guthrie have had nothing to complain of in the way of crowds, they have no more reason for believing that the Democrats will carry Franklin than they had before they came into the county. The Republicans are firmly anchored and the majority in November will not be less than 1,000 for Judge Pennypacker. Factional troubles in the party are at an end and the entire ticket is booked for easy passage at the polls this fall.

The speechmaking started at 8 o'clock this morning at Mercersburg and was followed by meetings at Upton, Green Castle, Chambersburg and here. The Chambersburg meeting was not up to expectation. There were about 700 men and women in the hall. Another 500 could have been accommodated. Chambersburg is a prosperous town and the mechanics are too busy making money to knock off work to hear about the troubles of the Democrats.

Each Sticking to One Speech.

Pattison and Guthrie have set speeches and are not drifting away to any great extent. The former governor, of course, can see nothing good in the state government since he has been out of office and apologizes for not doing anything while in the gubernatorial chair the last time by placing the blame on the Republican legislature. He tells the farmers their taxes are too heavy, and, in short, that everything is going to the bad.

Mr. Guthrie confined himself today to the so-called Republican "machine," the last legislature, the re-election of Senator Quay, and the neglect of the general assembly to pass a ballot reform bill. He neglected to say that when a conference of the leaders of the two parties was held in Harrisburg shortly before the adjournment of the last legislature to attempt to draft a ballot bill the conference came to naught because the Democrats studiously avoided reaching an agreement. They found fault with numerous propositions in order that in their campaign the Democrats would have ballot reform for an alleged issue.

The gubernatorial party turned out at 5 o'clock this morning at McConnellsburg, Fulton county. An hour later the spellbinders were headed toward Mercersburg, Franklin county. To reach there 10 miles had to be covered and eight of these miles were up and down North mountain.

James Buchanan's Birthplace.

The principal place of interest passed was near the foot of the mountain, on the Mercersburg side. The birthplace of James Buchanan was pointed out. The county is as wild now as it was when young Buchanan played in the valley. It was necessary then for his mother to tie a cowbell around the future president's neck to prevent him from going astray. At least this is the story they now tell.

Mercersburg is a Republican town. This information was got from a handsome old man who might be construed a trifle egotistical. When asked how the parties divided he replied:

"In the good old days we had a Democratic paraty; but the niggers have changed things. Occasionally a good Democrat is elected to office."

Throwing out his chest, he added: "I have twice been elected justice of the peace."

It was about 8 o'clock when the campaigners reached the town. It had been intended to have a band meet the party, but some of the musicians, in anticipation of what was to happen, stocked up too strong on Democratic enthusiasm last night and the band made apologies this morning. The band played, however, and about 100 people assembled. Pattison, Guthrie and Representative Joseph Mayne made addresses, following about the lines of their McConnellsburg speeches. There was nothing to indicate that Mercersburg will be stampeded for the Democratic ticket.

In Building Erected by J. C. Keil.

The party drove over to the Mercersburg academy and was shown throughout the new dining hall by Dr. Irvine. This is a handsome building erected by Jacob C. Keil of Pittsburgh in memory of his mother, Mrs. Sarah Salome Keil.

The spellbinders were speeded down the pike toward Green Castle. After a drive of several miles Upton was reached. It consists of a schoolhouse, several dwellings and two stores. The school [illegible] evidently is Democratic, for the bell was violently rung as Pattison and Guthrie approached. Just at [illegible] time someone fired a revolver [illegible] teacher led her 25 scholars into [illegible] to hurrah for Pattison. About [illegible] men were present. Pattison [illegible] few remarks about patriotism [illegible] the necessity of voting the Democratic ticket. He overlooked a bet when [illegible] forgot to shake hands with the school children. Mr. Guthrie was not introduced.

When Green Castle was reached a band and a reception committee were on hand to give the candidates a welcome. The main street of the town was crowded to see the procession go by. The meeting was held in the town hall and the building was packed. It holds about 600 people. Col. B. F. Winger presided. The old story was told.

Beaten by John L. Sullivan Crowd.

Like Mercersburg, Green Castle is strongly Republican and the leaders of the party say that Pattison has not added much to his strength. A Green Castle barber sizes up the crowd in this wise:

"It was not nearly so large as the one that greeted John L. Sullivan when he was here."

The party reached Chambersburg about 5 o'clock. There was a reception committee and a parade. The meeting in the opera house was presided over by T. Z. Minehart. Pattison, Guthrie, Mayne and Maj. Moses Veale of Philadelphia made speeches.

A special train brought the candidates and about 300 rooters from Chambersburg to Waynesboro. Immediately after its arrival at 7 o'clock the meeting opened. The opera house was packed and there was an overflow gathering in the public square. In Waynesboro the people play no favorites in the attendance of political meetings, but they roll up Republican majorities. All of the spellbinders made speeches. W. T. Omwake was chairman of the gathering.

The party returned to Chambersburg tonight and will leave early in the morning to complete the tour of the valley, Cumberland county being visited.

Congressman Thad. M. Mahon, who represents the counties of Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Perry, Juniata, Union, Snyder and Mifflin, was at his home in Chambersburg this afternoon. He says Franklin county will give Pennypacker a majority of at least 1,000 this fall, the party presenting a splendid front. Pattison failed to carry this county 12 years ago. Mr. Mahon says he has been all over his district and finds the Republicans all friendly to the candidacy of Judge Pennypacker.

LIVING ON HOPE.

Delaware Democrats Figure on Electing Henry A. Houston to Congress This Fall.

DOVER, DEL., Sept. 16.—The Democratic state convention nominated the following ticket:

Representative in congress, Henry A. Houston; state treasurer, Joseph H. Hossinger; auditor of accounts, J. Thomas Lowe. The contest hinged on the nomination for congress, Houston defeating ex-Congressman L. Irving Handy by a majority of two votes.

Because of the split in the Republican ranks the Democratic leaders claim to be able to elect their congressional candidate in November.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

On the extreme east side of the lower end of the Folsom district in Wetzel county the Delmar Oil Company and C. D. Greenlee have drilled their test well on the A. J. Ice farm into the second Gordon pay and increased its production to 30 barrels an hour. This company holds leases on about 2,000 acres in that locality. Aside from the size of the well, it is important as to location. It shows an eastern extension to the development and will attract operations in that direction. The South Penn Oil Company has made a location on the Mary Hall farm, about 1,000 feet southwest of the Delmar & Greenlee producer on the Ice farm.

In the older part of the Folsom district the South Penn has drilled in No. 5 on the Fairfield Peterson farm and has a producer good for 35 barrels a day, natural. The same company has drilled in its No. 1 on the Keener heirs' farm and has a fair producer. The test on the Martin Delaney farm has been drilled into the Gordon and is producing 60 barrels a day natural. No. 13 on the Genine Robinson tract is good for 70 barrels a day.

The Keener sand gushers on Big Knot run, Ritchie county, are declining. As shown by the last gauge, Mallory Bros. & Co.'s four wells on the John Freeland farm are producing 800 barrels; Three Joes Oil Company's four wells on the Elroy Wagner farm, 625 barrels a day; Drillers Oil Company's Nos. 1 and 2, George Ryan farm, 400 barrels; South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 Morgan Hemsworth, 100 barrels, and Hall, Browse & Zahniser's No. 1 Weekley heirs' farm, 200 barrels a day; aggregate daily production of the 12 wells, 2,125 barrels a day.

This One a Stayer.

On the west side of the Wolf Pen run development in the same county Smith, Wilson & Co.'s No. 2 on the Dora Arnett farm is a remarkably good stayer. It is still holding up at 400 barrels a day and is now the largest producer in the county. Several important test wells in this and the Big Knot Run district will be due in the sand in a few days. The production in the last named pool has been largely maintained by the liberal use of nitroglycerin. The wells usually respond, but of late they decline rapidly after a shot.

In the Burning Springs district Wirt Company, Stuart & Young have started to drill at No. 8 on the F. F. Bailey farm. No. 7 on this farm is producing 100 barrels a day from the Big Injun sand.

With a single exception small wells and dusters were in evidence on the Ohio side yesterday. In the Macksburg field, Washington county, Longfellow Bros. drew the best prize when they drilled their No. 19 on the Hall heirs' farm into the 500-foot sand and secured a 75-barrel producer. In the same district W. R. Wickens drilled his No. 9 on his own farm through the same formation and got a small pumper.

W. C. Patterson & Co. drilled their No. 10 on the J. R. Jackson farm through the 500-foot and drew a blank.

In the Highland district Mrs. Ellen Lowry has completed No. 4 on the J. I. Holdren farm and has a duster.

In the Marietta district Herman & Co. have drilled in their No. 12 on the Holmes heirs' farm and have a 10-barrel pumper.

In the shallow sand territory on Wolf creek, Morgan county, E. H. Jennings & Bros. have a 5 or 10 barrel pumper. In the Chester Hill district, same county, W. C. Patterson & Co. have completed No. 9 on the J. A. Parker farm and have a duster.

In Local Territory.

In the Legionville field, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, the J. W. Adams Oil Company has put its No. 3 on the Jacob Yeck farm to pumping, and it is producing 10 barrels a day from the 100-foot.

In the McDonald field, Gruver & Co. have completed No. 3 on the W. H. Wilson farm and have a duster.

Between Hookstown and Georgetown, Beaver county, M. Finnegan has a bonanza on the Swearingen, Ferguson & Dawson farms. These and one other farm join at the corner and on each (except one) he has drilled a test well and secured a 25-barrel producer on each. He is now drilling on the corner of the fourth farm and stands a good show for a producer as good as any of the other three. Others holding leases on adjoining farms would have no objection to being neighborly and drilling alongside of the producers, but there is no place open. All are good-sized farms, and when Mr. Finnegan has completed his fourth well he will not drill any more unless someone drills along the outside lines of his leases and gets a producer.

South of the old Montgomery field in Allegheny county Eisler, O'Brien & Co. are drilling in the 100-foot at their No. 3 on the Henry Monia farm, and the well is flowing through the casing at the rate of 50 barrels a day.

In the old Gold field, Butler county, the Tarentum Oil and Gas Company has drilled its test on the Charles Stephens farm into the 100-foot and has a gasser that shows a rock pressure of 565 pounds.

Southwest of Zelienople the South Penn Oil Company has completed a test on the Jacob Snyder farm and has a show for a 5-barrel pumper in the 100-foot.

Five Hundred Regulars Get Off Reservation at The Presidio and Put Saloon Out of Business.

SAN FANCISCO, Sept. 16.—Another riot occurred at the Presidio today. Five hundreds soldiers, chagrined at being molested in their attempt to destroy the saloon of Adolph Rehfield last night, gathered in front of the place again today and began stoning the building, breaking windows and doing other damage.

Rehfield left the saloon in charge of his wife and went to the Presidio to get aid. During his absence the soldiers broke in the front doors and proceeded to drink up Rehfield's stock and to make way with cigars and tobacco.

A squad of soldiers from the reservation appeared on the scene and the riotous soldiers were ordered to their camps. Mounted police and a guard of soldiers patrol the district, which has been the scene of much disturbance during the last few days.

Revivals in Theatricals.

Revivals are the things in theatricals. Playgoers are desirous of seeing the plays that have proven the most successful, and the newer generation of theatergoers is awakening to the fact that many of the plays of old have never been equalled by the dramatist of the present. Stuart Robson, always alive to the public's desire, has made of "The Henrietta" the most important revival that has ever been given the play. That his judgement was right has been shown in the great success that has been accorded him this year. He brings the ever welcome play, with his great supporting company, to the Alvin theater next week.

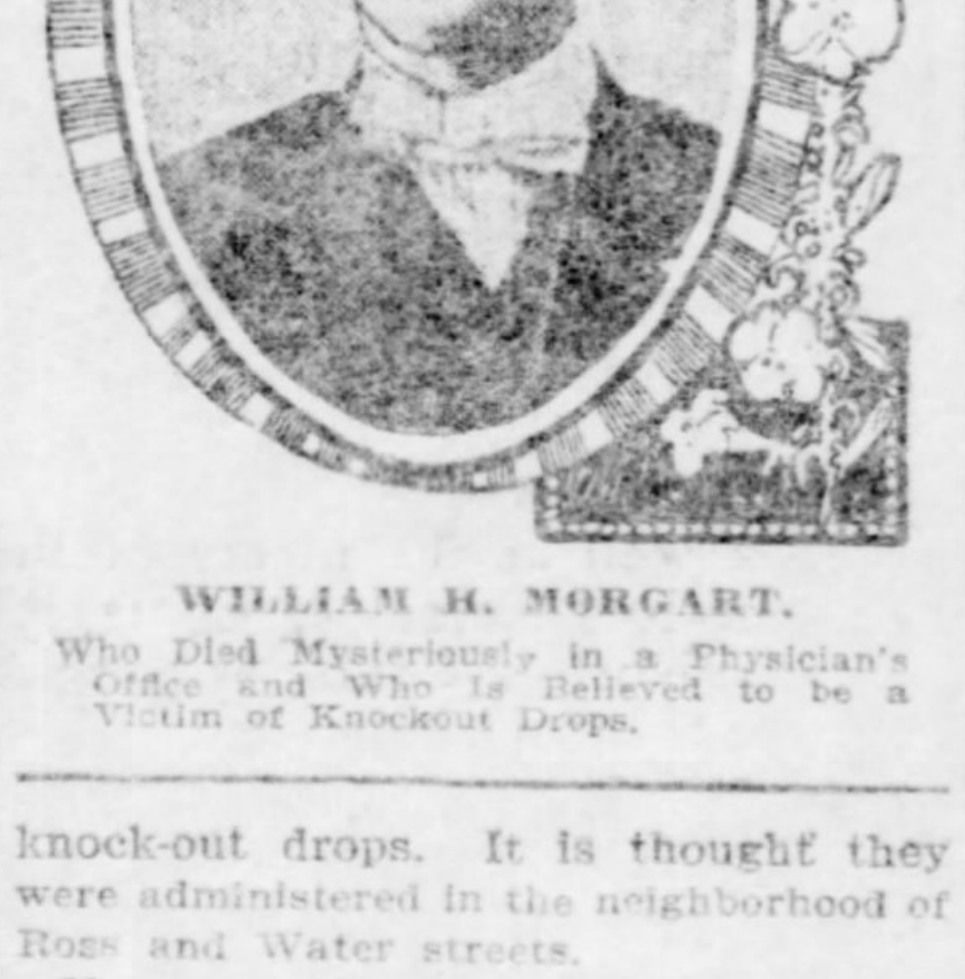
KNOCKOUT DROPS MAY HAVE CAUSED MORGART'S DEATH

Evidence Is Strong That He Was Drugged for Purpose of Robbery.

POISON WAS FOUND IN HIS STOMACH

Dr. E. J. Trader Diagnosed Case as Lumbago and Administered Morphine—Morgart Died in His Office Later.

Mystery surrounds the death of William Harrison Morgart, who was found dead early yesterday morning in the office of Dr. E. J. Trader at No. 427 Third avenue. Coroner McGeary says traces of irritant poison were found in the dead man's stomach at the autopsy yesterday afternoon. The city detectives and Dr. Trader say the man died of alcoholism. The general opinion prevails that Morgart was a victim of knock-out drops. It is thought they were administered in the neighborhood of Ross and Water streets.



WILLIAM H. MORGART.
Who Died Mysteriously in a Physician's Office and Who Is Believed to be a Victim of Knockout Drops.

He was paid on Monday and had considerable gold on his person. He was not a heavy drinking man, but on Monday evening and early Tuesday morning drank a good deal of whisky. He was despondent over the disappearance of Thelma Weiss, who had previously been living at No. 38 Second avenue. She moved from that establishment on Monday morning and went to No. 537 Third avenue. He searched for her during the early part of the evening, but was unable to locate her. The last place he was drinking was at No. 23 Ross street. After he left the place he met his friend, Frank Neely of No. 35 Mansion street, and complained of having a pain in his back.

At Third avenue and Grant street they met Edward Gauchy and Neely asked him to assist to take Morgart to some physician's office. They went to Dr. Trader's office in Third avenue.

Dr. Trader diagnosed Morgart's ailment as lumbago. He gave him three hypodermic injections of morphine. An eighth of a grain was administered at each injection. Morgart became helpless and Dr. Trader consented to permit him to remain in the office until he was able to leave. Neely took his friend's gold watch and a $10 gold piece and left the place.

Dr. Trader went into his office at 6 o'clock and found Morgart dead on the floor. The body was taken to the morgue. Detectives James W. Eagan and George Cole were then notified. Neely said that in the earlier part of the evening he was not with Morgart. He did not encounter him until he met him in the neighborhood of Ross and Ferry streets.

Morgart and Neely were brakemen on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. They were close friends and often together. The remains of the dead man were identified by his brother, George Morgart, who is also a railroad man. The dead man lived at No. 39 Vespucius street and was 23 years old. The inquest will be held tomorrow.

Neely and Dr. Trader were at the Central station yesterday and told the circumstances of the mystrious death to the detectives.

HEARING IS BEGUN.

Arrangement to Take Testimony in Case of United States Against Northern Securities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Hearings were begun today in the action of the United States against the Northern Securities Company. Frederick G. Ingersoll of St. Paul, special examiner appointed by the Minnesota court, where the action originated, explained that the hearings were to be held by stipulation of the parties interested and not by his direction.

After agreeing that certain testimony heretofore taken should be accepted in this case, adjournment was taken that counsel might agree upon the particular testimony to be received and get the testimony in shape, and the examiner set September 25 for a continuation of the hearing.

SON SAYS FATHER FIRED FATAL SHOT

FRED CASIBON MAKES DEATHBED DEPOSITION.

He Says That His Father, John Casibon, Drew Revolver and Deliberately Shot Him.

Fred Casibon, who was shot by his father at their home in West End place on Thursday night, died at the Homeopathic hospital yesterday afternoon. The bullet entered the right lung and penetrated to the back. John Casibon, the father, was sent to jail by Coroner McGeary.

A man who said his name was Dee called at the morgue last night and wanted to take charge of Casibon's body, but his request was refused, as it is to be given to his mother. Dee said the dead man had made a will and left him his property, a house and lot in the East End.

"I, Fred Casibon, believing that I am about to die, make this my dying statement. Thursday night last I came home about 10 o'clock. My father, John Casibon, wanted to know where I had been. We had angry words. Finally I went to bed. He also went to bed. We slept in adjoining rooms.

"He kept talking after we retired, and I said that if he did not shut up I would come in his room and make him. He said that he defied me to do so. I got up and went to his door and kicked it in.

"As I did this he shot me. I grabbed hold of him and threw him on the floor and choked him, until he said he had enough. I then let him up and started for a physician. I fell over in the street."

Casibon was a waiter by occupation and was 23 years old. He and his father quarreled a great deal and often came to blows. John Casibon is 53 years old and is known to be a harsh and severe parent. He went to No. 8 police station after the shooting and told the officers that his son had been injured by the accidental discharge of a revolver he had drawn while scuffling with his father. He gave himself up and was locked up in jail on Friday morning.

FATALLY SHOT WIFE; FLED TO THE HILLS

Stephen Manovicz Said To Have Returned Early From Work and Found Her With Man.

Stephen Manovicz, a Hungarian laborer, shot his wife four times yesterday and escaped. Although the woman has been unconscious since the shooting, and Manovicz spoke to no one after committing the deed, it is said by the neighbors that he returned home from work at 6 a. m. and surprised his wife with another man.

Manovicz worked at the seamless tube plant in Versailles and lived in a row of shanties near the works. Fellow-workmen saw him go into the house an hour earlier than usual and heard four shots. Manovicz emerged running, and when men tried to stop him, reloaded his revolver and fired into the crowd, without hitting any one. He disappeared in the brush covering the hills.

The police of McKeesport hunted for him all day, but could not find him. Mrs. Manovicz was taken to a neighbor's house, where Dr. A. D. Keller attended her. The four bullets had entered the breast and the abdomen and all of the wounds are said to be fatal. The neighbors say that a man was seen running out of the house just after Manovicz began to shoot.

WORK OF ENDEAVORERS.

Encouraging Reports Made at Annual Meeting of Executive Committee of Allegheny County Union.

The executive committee of the Allegheny County Christian Endeavor Union held its annual meeting last night in the Third United Presbyterian church, Diamond street. The recommendations of the nominating committee, placing the following names in nomination, were approved, and they were elected: President, John L. Moore; vice president, Albert J. Boone; corresponding secretary, Miss Margaret King; recording secretary, Miss Gertrude Zimmerman; treasurer, W. A. Barton; junior superintendent, Miss Mary Bradley; intermediate superintendent, Miss Edna Righter. The reports of the various officers showed great activity in all branches of Christian work and were very encouraging. The secretary's report showed a total membership of 18,939, with $15,230 given to missionary work.

The social committee reported arrangements made for Christian Endeavor day at the Exposition, Friday, October 10, when a special chorus and musical program will be held. J. C. Reed, chairman of the convention committee, made a partial report, being unable to render a complete report, as there was about $400 expense yet to be met. Of the amount pledged, he said, about $90 still remained unpaid, which left the real deficit a little more than $300. Of this amount $200 was pledged by those present last night and the balance will doubtless be easily raised when it becomes known that there is a deficit.

A letter was read from State President William N. Yates, in which he commended the committee and Allegheny county Endeavorers for making the convention the greatest and most successful in the history of the state.

Charged With Stuffing Smokers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—George G. To Inspect South Side—The committee on parks has been called to meet at McKinley park Friday afternoon. The meeting place was fixed at the request of Director J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works, who proposes to take the members of the committee over all the South Side parks. One Faction Sues Another—St. Casimer's Beneficial society of the South Side has entered suit in common pleas court No. 2 against Stanislaus Novakowski and 15 others to restrain them from holding meetings under the name of the plaintiff society, and to compel an accounting of dues alleged to have been collected illegally from members of the organization. The suit is the result of a factional fight in the society over the changing of the society's meeting place.

Burning Car Caused a Scene—Hamilton avenue car No. 327 caught fire at Fifth avenue and Dinwiddie street early last evening. It was crowded with passengers and the fire created considerable excitement. An effort was made to put out the blaze by the crew, but when the flames burst through the floor engine company No. 4 was sent for and with chemical extinguishers settled the trouble. The fire originated from friction, due to a defectice power brake. No one was injured.

Clamoring for Improvements—The people of Sheraden are clamoring for improvements, and, as the town is within $30,000 of its legal indebtedness, the improvements cannot be made and the officials are in a quandry. Already about $200,000 has been spent in sewer improvements and the property in the town is assessed, it is said, to nearly its full value. The people also want a town hall, but the officials refuse to go ahead with its erection, as there is only $7,500 available. They think the building cannot be put up for less than $30,000.

Sands, D. D., will preach. On the day the chapel is dedicated the congregation will also celebrate the first anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. Hervey.

Bogus Collectors at Work—The managers of the ladies of the Grand Army home at Hawkins station are greatly disturbed over reports of unauthorized persons collecting money, ostensibly for the home, but which the home never gets. These reports are heard every few days and while efforts have been made the impostors cannot be located. The home has no solicitors. The only people who are authorized to accept donations are members of the board of managers, each of whom carries credentials signed by Esther J. Collingwood, president, and Carrie V. Sheriff, secretary.

Almost a Catastrophe—As car No. 42 of the Wilkinsburg and East Pittsburgh line of the Pittsburgh Railways Company was descending the steep hill from Bessemer Terrace to East Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon, it got beyond control of the motorman and ran away. At the bottom of the hill is a long wooden bridge, which the car made for at a terrific rate of speed. A derailing switch, just before the car came to the bridge, threw it off the track and into the hillside, avoiding a serious accident. The car was filled with passengers and while all of them were badly shaken up, no one was seriously injured.

FERRELL OCCUPIES HOUSE.

Appeal to Supreme Court Stops Eviction of West Virginia Miner.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Sept. 16.—(Special.)—Judge Poffenbarger of the supreme court has granted a writ of error in the case of the Winifred Coal Company against Martin Ferrell, the suit brought by the company to get possession of one of their houses occupied by Ferrell, a striking coal miner.

The writ is returnable to the January term. In the meantime the miner remains in possession of the house.

GOMPERS LOOKS AT CONDITIONS IN MINE FIELD

Belief That Weekly Assessment of American Federation Is Pending.

WOULD PROVE BIG HELP FOR MINERS

Anthracite Operators Meet in New York and Reiterate Statement That No Quarter Is to Be Given in Great Struggle.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 16.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, arrived in town this morning. He at once went to President Mitchell's headquarters, where he met National Treasurer Wilson and the district presidents of the United Mine Workers.

Mr. Gompers and the executive officers of the miners union held a lengthy conference. Before he went to the meeting Mr. Gompers was asked his mission here. He replied that he came to confer with Mr. Mitchell and the other officers of the union regarding the strike.

President Mitchell invited Gompers to come here and Wilson is to go over the financial standing of the union with him. It is understood the plan is to ask that an assessment be levied on all members of the American Federation of Labor, and that the amount will be fixed at the conference, and later will be submitted to the executive board of the federation.

There are 1,500,000 members who can be assessed, and an immense fund can be raised if necessary for the aid of the strikers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—A conference of the leading anthracite coal interests was held this afternoon at the Philadelphia & Reading Co.'s offices. Those present included President Baer of the Reading road, President Truesdale of the Lackawanna & Western, President Fowler of the New York, Ontario & Western, President Walters of the Lehigh Valley, President Olyphant of the Delaware & Hudson, President Underwood of the Erie, General Manager Besler of the Central railroad of New Jersey, Irving Stearns of Coxe Bros. & Co. and John Markle of G. B. Marke & Co. The two last named represented the independent operating interests.

All Keep Their Secret.

The precise subjects of the conference could not be learned, but it was stated in advance of the meeting that no concessions would be granted the strikers and that recent events of a semi-political character would not be seriously considered. Following a meeting with J. P. Morgan, John Markle made this statement: "I do not think it necessary to repeat that all talk of concessions on the part of the operators is foolish and certainly without foundation. Our position now is the same as when Mitchell made his original proposition."

John Markle left the meeting and went to J. P. Morgan's office, where he met P. A. B. Widener. The meeting in President Baer's office concluded a few minutes before 3 o'clock. President Underwood of the Erie, as he was leaving, said that the meeting had been merely one of the directors of the Temple Iron Company and that only routine matters were considered. The Temple Iron Company is the selling company for the coal carrying roads and the presidents of the leading coal carrying roads are the directors of the Temple Iron Company.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 16.—The Delaware & Hudson Company today started up three more collieries, the Wilkesbarre, the Plymouth No. 2 and the Olypnant. The Ontario & Western Company has resumed operations at the Pine Brook and West Ridge collieries in Scranton and the Johnson No. 1 and No. 2 in Priceburg, just north of the city line.

Nineteen Collieries Working.

Altogether the companies having headquarters here are now operating 19 collieries and 21 washeries, with an estimated daily output of 20,000 tons.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Sept. 16.—The mining of coal in the mine breaches on the hill north of this place has been carried on to such an extent for the last few weeks that people are apprehensive that the Ringtown road will cave in.

Men go down into the caves where the workings of the Kehley run colliery of the Thomas Coal Company drop out on the surface and carry on mine operations in a systematic manner. Thousands of tons of coal have been taken out in this way and many of the strikers are realizing considerable money by selling this coal to the business men of the town. At first the mining was done and the coal hauled away quietly at night to avoid detection by the coal and iron police, but of late several hundred men and women can be found in these seemingly bottomless holes night or day.

Superintendent Baird of the Thomas Coal Company says the policemen appointed by the company to prevent the trespassing have been driven away by the men, and today he appealed to Gen. Gobin for aid. He says the coal is being mined from under the public road and that the farmers from Catawissa valley are becoming timid about driving over it.

Gen. Gobin says it is simply a case of trespass with which the township or county officials should deal and that as long as there is no rioting or disturbance he will not interfere.

A GIRL'S PROBLEM.

How to Feed Herself When Running Down.

"I am a stenographer!" That statement brings up a picture of long hours of tiresome indoor confinement, close mental concentration and subsequent exhaustion and brain fag. Then comes up the food question.

A young lady in Dayton, O., writes: "Some time ago I was a stenographer in a large city retail store, and having the responsibility of the office work resting largely upon me my health began gradually to decline and I stood facing the difficult problem of finding relief of some kind or leaving my situation. Worry added to my trouble; I became dyspeptic and nervous and suffered with insomnia and restlessness at night.

"I was speaking of my illness one day to a trained nurse, who recommended that I begin a systematic diet of Grape-Nuts at once, as she had seen its beneficial effect upon several of her patients who had suffered as I did.

"So I began to use the food conscientiously. It formed my entire breakfast with perhaps Postum Coffee or some other nourishing drink and a second dish was taken at the evening meal. In about two weeks' time I began to feel stronger and more hopeful; my digestion and appetite were better; I was less nervous and could sleep. I continued the diet steadily and soon courage and vitality began to revive and once more I began to think success lay somewhere in this big world for me.

"My work grew smoother and easier, and after seven months of this diet I could do almost twice the amount of work in a day and do it easily and without feeling exhausted.

"Today I am filling a much more responsible position and do the work easily and satisfactorily. I attribute it all to Grape-Nuts, which I shall continue to use. For a palatable and healthful diet there is nothing on the market equal to it, and the fact should become of common knowledge." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The Speaker's Declination.

Speaker D. B. Henderson's letter declining a renomination to represent his district in congress is the political surprise of the day. Naturally enough, the speaker has constituents who do not agree with him, but the platform of the Iowa Republican convention, though declaring for some revision of tariff schedules, is as sound on the main question as Mr. Henderson himself. There has been some complaint, also, of Speaker Henderson's conduct of the house, but no one has taken it very seriously.

The Iowa man promises a fuller explanation of his views and his decision in the near future. It will be awaited with interest. Certainly the letter in which he declines to be a candidate does not offer sufficient reason for the action he has taken. In fact, it need surprise no one if the party organization in his district shall refuse to accept the declination unless Speaker Henderson insists upon it and makes it plainer that there is cause for such an unusual course.

The rank and file of the Republican party stand for protection as strongly now as ever. It favors, as the party always has favored, revision of schedules to meet changed conditions, and it believes in reciprocity. Speaker Henderson has never opposed these principles and he should give his aid in maintaining them.

Platt Not a Councilman.

In deciding that James Platt is not a resident of the Second ward, and therefore not eligible to a seat in select council from that ward, the court has followed the judicial precedents and the line of common sense. The case may be appealed, but there is no reason to look for a reversal of the decision. Locally, the case attains added importance from the fact that it was by Platt's vote the machine element was able to capture the organization of select council last spring to the end that all public business has been obstructed.

This is by no means the first time this question has been raised in Pittsburgh. Other members of council have resigned rather than carry the contention to the courts, satisfied that their claims to membership could not be sustained. But the whole matter serves again to draw attention to the system and to suggest anew the propriety of an amendment of the law providing for the election of select councilmen on a general ticket by the city at large.

Eight Months' Foreign Commerce.

Unusually interesting is the government's report on the country's foreign trade for August, because it affords some instructive comparisons with the commerce for August of last year, and completes the record for the first eight months of the present calendar year. Compared with July, the exports in August increased $5,874,218, and compared with August of last [illegible] they decreased $13,342,031. Im[illegible]or August show a decrease of [illegible] compared with July, and an [illegible]ver the imports of August, [illegible]nting to $5,548,154. [illegible]ng the foreign business of [illegible]ght months of the year with [illegible]evious periods, it is discov[illegible] that American imports of foreign [illegible]erchandise this year were never paralleled in the country's history. The gain was $34,514,631 over 1901. On the other hand, however, exports fell $117,644,143 below the same period last year. It is noteworthy that while the decrease of exports were so large, the exports of agricultural products fell off $126,468,681. This shows an increase in the exports of manufactures of no considerable proportions. The falling off in the quantity of agricultural products going to foreign markets is readily explainable. The United States did not have much grain to sell, owing to smaller crops than usual last year. This will be seen from the export statistics of wheat and corn. In August of this year 16,117,964 bushels of wheat and only 290,932 bushels of corn went to foreign markets, a great decrease since August, 1891, when the exports of wheat reached 26,794,832 and those of corn 2,834,945 bushels.

This year's large grain crops insure plenty of corn and wheat for next year's foreign markets. In connection with the expansion of manufactured exports, these staple grains should bring up the statistics of the same period of 1903 to figures never before heard of.

Honest Republican Doctrine.

Yesterday Judge Pennypacker and his associates opened the Republican speaking campaign at Center Hall. The oratory was of another kind from that of the Democratic candidates at McConnellsburg the evening before. The tone of the speeches was distinctly hopeful, dealing with the progress of the past and easily attainable promise of the future. It is so long since the Democrats have been in complete control in this state that it seems like harking back to ancient history to compare Democratic and Republican administrations, but Judge Pennypacker did it, and the comparison is distinctly unfavorable to the Democratic party.

After years of Democratic control of all departments prior to 1861, the state government was turned over to the Republican party at the inception of a war that taxed every resource. The debt of the state was then $40,000,000 and its credit bad because in 1843 the Democrats repudiated the public obligations. Forty years of Republican management have sufficed to practically discharge that debt, together with the war expenses, to put the state in splendid financial condition. The system of taxation has been revised under Republican auspices to relieve owners of farms and homes of a large share of the burdens previously borne, giving support for the schools and other public institutions out of indirect taxation, and the party stands ready to further readjust the schedules to the advantage of the common people.

Senator Penrose spoke upon lines similar to those followed by Judge Pennypacker, upon state affairs, while Hon. Charles Emory Smith pointed out the connection between the state campaign and the national policies. Shall Pennsylvania strengthen or weaken the national administration in the arduous task it has set out to perform? was the pertinent question of the ex-postmaster general, and that question must be answered in November. President Roosevelt has undertaken to control the "trusts," to secure full justice for Cuba and to complete the work of pacification and rehabilitation in the Philippines. Does any one suppose he would be encouraged in this good work by the election of Pattison? On the contrary, such a result would be pointed to by the enemies of the president's policies as a repudiation of them by Pennsylvania. There is no danger that Pennsylvania will elect Pattison, but it is worth while for every voter to consider how much encouragement President Roosevelt will find in a rousing, old-fashioned Republican majority in Pennsylvania for the state ticket and the party candidates for congress.

Some Wild Discussion.

Discussion of the reputed draft of the Littlefield trust regulation bill has brought out some opinions far more remarkable than any of the alleged provisions of the bill. For example, a local cotemporary avers the collection of three times the amount of actual damages suffered is preposterous and unheard of in constitutional history. If it will kindly refer to the constitution of Pennsylvania and the laws for its enforcement it will find that certain corporations are subject to triple damages for certain acts, and if it will follow the matter into the court records it will learn that such damages have been assessed and collected.

Again, in the matter of the clause to compel testimony, there is no certainty that any court would hold it unconstitutional. The clause of the constitution exempting witnesses from giving testimony that is self-incriminating applies to criminal procedure. Suits for damages do not come under that classification. As to whether the so-called Littlefield bill is the best that can be planned for controlling the "trusts," that is another question, not being considered here. The point made is that it is not wild or ludicrous, as some writers assume.

Punishment to Fit the Crime.

It was Judge Finletter of Philadelphia, who said a few earnest words some days ago in advocacy of the whipping post for wife-beaters. The judge had before him a prisoner who was in the habit of thrashing his wife, and he was obliged to sentence him as the law directs. The magistrate expressed sincere regret that he could not give the brute a dose of his own medicine and said that the whipping post was the only proper punishment for the crime.

The same view was taken by a speaker at the Congress of the National Prison association, in session this week in the same City of Brotherly Love. This time the speaker was the Rev. Dr. Maddock, chaplain of the New Jersey state prison. "Any man that would beat a woman should be whipped," he said. "One is no more barbarous than the other. Kindly treatment and punishment in dark cells too often fail, and the only effective resort is the strap."

Experience has shown that it is difficult to reform the wife-beater by kindness. Imprisonment he does not mind. A term in jail deprives his family of what he might earn and give them, and a fine is usually a punishment of the innocent sufferers. The way to reach his callous sensibilities is to treat him as he treats his wife. The punishment is cheap and should be effective. At all events it fits the crime.

Democratic Policies Declared.

It is small wonder ex-Gov. Pattison and the organs supporting him are dodging national issues. Of course, they know if they can win over any votes for governor the voter is likely to mark in the circle at the top of the column and so vote for the Democratic candidate for congress in his district. That is what they want him to do, and that is why the Democratic candidates for congress will dodge national issues as sedulously as do the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor.

One of the reasons why they dodge is this authorized statement from Secretary Edwards of the Democratic national congressional committee: "The Democratic congressional committee is standing squarely on the Kansas City platform. That is the only Democracy we know anything about, and it will be the only Democracy there is until another national convention shall be held." Free silver, populism and all the rest. Another reason is because the following paragraphs appear in the official "Campaign Book" of the Democratic congressional committee:

> Free trade would open our markets to benefit our own country. It is hospitable and seeks peace and good will with all nations. Reciprocity cares nothing for the consumer and hunts foreign markets with a club. Its stock in trade is high tariff, favoritism, discrimination and retaliation. It threatens to slam our doors in the face of foreign countries which will not open their doors to our products.
>
> Reciprocity is based upon the same false theories as is protection, and, like protection, is a sham and a humbug, and to most people has been, and will ever continue to be, a delusion and a snare.
>
> In practice, reciprocity is worse than protection.

Free trade and free silver. There is not even the thin disguise of "tariff for revenue only," so familiar in former years. This year's "Campaign Book" calls it by its right name of free trade. Mr. Pattison, of course, is discussing "state issues" only, but his campaign is being managed by the same state committee that has charge of the campaigns of Democratic candidates for congress, and that committee has directed all Democratic speakers to ignore national issues in the hope that it may smuggle through a few congressional aspirants on the free trade and free silver platform. Mr. Pattison is a willing party to the attempted deception.

Danger Signals in China.

Recent reports from China indicated dangerous unrest arising from increase of taxation. Therefore it is not altogether surprising that a dispatch from Peking announces the massacre by Boxers of hundreds of native converts.

While the massacre of a few hundred Chinese by their countrymen is of itself but an incident of heathenism, experience proves it may lead to much graver consequences. The great Boxer uprising, which eventually startled the world, originated mainly in antipathy toward missionaries and converts, but the spirit of fanaticism spread so rapidly that soon foreign-owned property was destroyed and the lives of all foreigners were imperilled. With tigerlike ferocity the Boxers continued their work of pillage and slaughter until the powers found it necessary to interfere with armed force, which resulted in the humbling of China and the levying of an indemnity.

There has never been any good reason for assuming the Boxer spirit to have been quelled. The Chinese simply surrendered to superior force. The "foreign devil" is in no higher favor than before the outbreak, and the "converts," largely composed of petty criminals, why fly to the missionaries for protection, are even more hated than the missionaries. It is the opinion of students and travelers that no Chinese is ever truly converted to Christianity. The "unconverted" Chinese also hold that opinion. So when the missionaries refuse to give up the "converts" for ordinary punishment the "Boxer" mob organizes and massacres them. If the missionaries try to stop the practice there is likely to be a more serious uprising of the tax-burdened people than that which threatened the foreign legations at Peking.

King Edward's Health Restored.

The departure of Queen Alexandra for Denmark to visit her father will be generally accepted as proof that King Edward has been restored to health. There have been rumors that the optimistic reports of his majesty's physicians were not fully borne out by the facts, but there is positive corroboration in the tour of the queen, for she would not absent herself from England were her husband in the slightest danger.

The recovery of King Edward was surprisingly rapid, considering the seriousness of his condition at the time he was operated upon, and will do much to dispel the widely-spread belief that he is a man of permanently broken health. There is every prospect now that he may long live to wear the crown.

Two attempts at suicide have been ascribed by contemporaries to Supt. McAleese's crusade against vice. The reference is far fetched, but even if its truth could be admitted it would afford no reason why the laws should not be enforced. Occasionally the law has to strangle a man for the good of society, and the responsibility lies with those who depart from the paths of rectitude.

United action between police and police magistrates is highly desirable, but if the magistrates will not help Supt. McAleese can have recourse to the courts. A good deal of his work leads naturally to the county courts anyway.

New York newspapers declare there is less danger of staying lost in that city than in almost any other great city of the world. Persons contemplating a mysterious disappearance should paste this on their suit cases.

Those Chicago capitalists who explain that they sent several millions of dollars to New York because interest rates were high, and not from philanthropic motives, might have saved themselves the trouble of explaining.

Now, the anti-trust party has been organized at Philadelphia and we suppose will soon be in the campaign discussing "state issues exclusively."

The north pole never says a word when William Zeigler, the backer of Arctic expeditions, declares that he will yet bring it into camp.

Mr. Rose, the Democratic candidate for governor of Wisconsin, will be a wilted blossom by the time the election returns are in.

Possibly the anthracite strike would have ended by this time if so many settlers had not taken a hand in the work.

The westward ocean record has been broken again. Persons coming to the United States can't get here too soon.

The presence of the Roundheads at Carnegie makes today one of that borough's red, white and blue letter days.

There is a disposition to look Senator Platt's strike-ending predictions in the date mark.

ATLANTIC RECORD NOT YET SECURE

Kronprinz Wilhelm Beats Teutonic's Mark, but New Ships May Do Better.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 16.

Another step toward the goal of a five-day Atlantic voyage was made today. With the record of the Deutchland as a sort of pacemaker for the Atlantic trip, all the big steamers have been trying to cut down that record and appear at the end of the voyage with a run of five days to their credit. It may be made in time, but it has not been accomplished yet. When the North German Lloyd steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm, bedecked with bunting from prow to rudder-chains, swept up the North river this morning and coquettishly fluttered around as she swung into her berth in Hoboken, she had broken the Deutchland's record, having made the run of 3,047 miles from Cherbourg in 5 days, 11 hours and 57 minutes. This beat the best westward run of the Deutschand by 26 minutes. Not very much, of course, but enough to prove that the limit of speed has not yet been reached. There are other ships building which may do even better than the Kronprinz Wilhelm. In fact, there is one on the stocks now whecih Emperor Wilhelm thinks will be able to show its heels to anything afloat. This has been the experience with each new ship that has been bult for speed. Some new vessels have been constructed with other purposes, such as the great White Star ship, Celtic, which was built more for capacity and comfort than anything else. There was a great salute for the Kronprinz Wilhelm today from all the other craft in the river as she came up the bay. Everyone knew that she had beaten the western record, for news of that kind travels through the harbor like a flash of lightning. The officers of the Kronprinz Wilhelm look at you with unconscious wonderment when you ask whether the ship was put under any extraordinary strain to make the trip in short time. "We did not notice it," is the kind of reply you get. All the same, it would be interesting to know just what secret orders were passed along from the bridge to the engine room as the record began to show that it was going down. Since the days of the old-fashioned Mississippi steamers, the skipper of a fast boat will let her out a link whenever he can.

Senators at Sagamore Hill.

President Roosevent is keeping up his holiday at Oyster Bay, although the big reception of yesterday ended the official proceedings. There was a dinner at Sagamore hill this evening, with several important personages to take pot-luck with the president, but it was understood that the gathering was strictly informal. That weighty matters were discussed, can be understood from the personnel of the party. Senators Hanna, Aldrich, Spooner, Lodge and Allison were there and it would be difficult for them to talk for several hours without saying something which might be interesting to the nation at large. But it is easy to believe the president when he said it was only a family dinner, so far as it could be with such distinguished guests. The dinner is the general topic of conversation in this city, and there is much curiosity as to what really was said. The president is very much in the eye of the New York public at this time, for more reasons than one.

Chinatown Torn Up.

Chinatown has never had such a trying time as now. The street department has torn up Doyers street and is preparing to attack Pell and Mott streets. The Chinese residents are obliged to pick their way over heaps of sand and to climb over mountains of stone, in getting from one shop to another, and they cannot see the use of it. The department says that Chinatown must be clean, however. The only way to accomplish this was to tear up the stones and get the dirt out that has lain between for half a century or so, and the denizens of the district must make the best of it. Some of the more progressive of the Chinese colony are satisfied because they realize that the health of the community will be improved, and that it will be easier to do business. Unfortunately, the progressive element is in the minority in Chinatown.

Fifty-Cent Watches.

Watches never were so cheap in New York as they are today. If you know where to go, you can pick up a new watch, which keeps fair time, for as little as 50 cents; and it will be a good-looking timepiece, too. The dollar watch has long ceased to be a novelty. When an enterprising man showed a barrel of these dollar watches in a Broadway show window, it was looked upon as remarkable. There was a regular flour barrel, tipped on its side, with scores of watches falling out of it, like a load of coal, and a big sign notified the world that these watches could be bought up at a dollar apiece, pick where you like. Now that watches are sold for half a dollar, a man on the Bowery is looked on as something swell who buys a dollar timepiece.

Shot Two Hospital Sisters.

That it is a dangerous thing in New York to shoot a religieuse, one young man has found out to his sorrow. Young King, the foundling, who became so incensed at two of the sisters in the New York Foundling asylum because they would not tell him who his parents were, that he shot them both, is likely to spend many years in prison in consequence. When he was found guilty in special sessions the other day of shooting at Sister Cecilia he went on his knees to Recorder Goff and created a pitiful scene. Now he is on trial again for shooting Sister Cyrilla, and will be sentenced for both crimes at the end of his second trial. King did not realize what he was doing when he blazed away at the sisters, but he knows now that the law protects them and all other women with a stern hand.

New York Interested in Navies.

A large party of New Yorkers went over to Elizabethport yesterday afternoon to witness the launching of two Mexican gunboats just built. The names of the craft are "Tampico" and "Vera Cruz." It might be wondered why New Yorkers should take the trouble to go over to see the ships of a foreign country were it not recognized as a fact that Americans are deeply interested in war vessels of any kind. Building up a navy, as we are, anything in the way of battleships concerns us. It is often remarked that the technical naval knowledge of an ordinary New Yorker today seems to be nearly as extensive as that of a professional engineer a decade ago.

Pasteurized Milk Charity.

Pasteurized milk has become a necessity to New York. Since Nathan Strauss established his famous charity some dozen years ago the milk has been used exclusively by millions of people. Babies that had a very small chance of life in the old days, when ordinary milk was used, now take the pasteurized product and are always safe, so far as milk has anything to do with their health. One cent a bottle is paid for the milk by poor people who are too proud to take it as a gift; but when a family is absolutely destitute the milk is given gratuitously and in as large quantities as the exigencies of the case may require. More than 1,000,000 glasses of this milk was consumed at the various depots about the city. There were 14 of them altogether. Now Mr. Strauss is contemplating the establishment of another laboratory larger than is required, so that there shall be room to grow. The demand for pasteurized milk has outgrown the means of supply very largely, notwithstanding that some doctors ridiculed the idea of "pasteurizing" milk when the proposition was first made.

A Good Month for Oysters.

Oyster men say the demand for oysters in New York this month has been larger than ever was known in September. The cool weather is responsible for this condition, of course. Although oysters nominally are "in" from September 1 until April 30, few of them are eaten when the thermometer is in the 80s or 90s, as it often is in September. This year the weather has been cool—downright cold, in fact, at intervals—and oysters on the half-shell have been eaten with the comfortable feeling that they are not only harmless but healthful. Without going into statistics it may be said with truth that oystermen are reaping a harvest of wealth this year. They say that "blue points" may run out in a few years. Perhaps they will, but there are enough of them now to cover the demand, and New York can afford not to worry about the future.

Ex-Mayor Hewitt's Press Agent.

Abram S. Hewitt's press agent has been at it again. The old ex-mayor's name turns up in the newspapers every day in connection with something or other. It may be the settlement of the anthracite coal strike, or relieving the monetary stringency in Wall street, or against open cars in winter, or to relieve sickness and distress on the East Side. Whatever it is, the name of Abram S. Hewitt shows up prominently, until one wonders how the old gentleman, in his 80s, can stand it all. The press agent seems to have run out of material in the last few days, for he has just dished up an anecdote of his patron which dates back to 1844. Mr. Hewitt and Edward Cooper, a son of Peter Cooper, the great philonthropist, were in an open boat on the Atlantic, having been shipwrecked, and if they had not been picked up by a passing ship would have been either drowned or frozen to death. All this took place in 1844, but it makes a good story even now, and the press agent is to be congratulated on his industry in research.

Primary Day.

This was primary day in New York, and it seemed as if the political element were holding its breath until it could see how the elections would come out. All the ward heelers were busy, steering voters to the polls, and no one doubts that the full vote got out—perhaps a little more. Talk of "repeaters," "colonizers" and frauds generally has been rife all day, but it has not disturbed anyone outwardly. Tammany is used to hearing words of that kind at primary elections, and did not expect anything else today. Devery was much in evidence in the Ninth district, and his lieutenants stood at his back nobly. There is a big celebration at the "pump" tonight, as it was planned there should be, win or lose.

The Sociable Firemen.

The Association of Fire Chiefs met today according to program, and had a lively session; not in the sense that the word "lively" often is used in connection with conventions, because the proceedings were wholly good-natured. But jollity and badinage were features of the gathering, and it seemed as if every one was unfeignedly glad to see every one else. Chief Croker of the New York fire department, who has been having his own troubles lately, was there, and his brow was as smooth as if no one had geen trying to depose him for the last six months. He and Chief Humphries of Pittsburgh are great friends, and they chatted together for a considerable time today. One thing that pleased Pittsburgh's chief was the high compliments passed on the department here by the other chiefs, who assuredly should know a good fire department when they see one.

Cafes Down in the Earth.

There is to be a rathskeller two floors below the street in Broadway. The projector thinks that if an ordinary cellar is a cool, comfortable place in which to dispose of hofbrau and Welch rabbit, then a sub-cellar should possess extra advantages. At all events, he is going below the regular cellar level for his "cozy," and expects that it will be one of the popular places along the line after dark. There is a leaning toward the odd in places of public refreshment in New York. When comfort and unconventionality are combined, as is the intention in this case, there is every reason for the establishment obtaining its full share of patronage. One of the favorite places for "beefsteak dinners" is the cellar of a butcher's shop in Seventh avenue, where there is sawdust on the floor and cobwebs and whitewash on the walls, and where it smells like a charnal house and ash-heap combined. But the steaks served there are above criticism, and the beer is—well, indescribably good, according to connoisseurs.

First-Night Stars Always Applauded.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell reappeared on a New York stage this evening. There was no tanbark before the Garden theater, and nothing has been said about "Pinky-Panky-Poo," but the actress herself looked well, in spite of those omissions. She did her part in "Aunt Jeanne" with grace and distinction, and was applauded frequently enough to make her feel that she was among friends. In fact, a star that is not applauded on a first night in New York may as well give up the ghost at once. So far as is known there never was such a case.

Had a Good Reason.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

Stonewall Jackson had small mercy on soldiers whom he caught straggling, but is said to have laughingly condoned one instance. During a forced march in the summer of 1862, he stopped to consult with one of his general officers. The entire command had then passed; and, as Jackson and his officers rode forward to rejoin the column, the former discovered a private up a persimmon tree. Asked by the commander why he was so far in the rear, the private replied:

"Eatin' 'simmons."

"Persimmons!" roared Jackson. "Why, they're not even ripe yet!"

"Like 'em green just now," explained the soldier.

"And why?" asked Jackson, softening a little with amusement at the fellow's laconic manner.

"To draw my innards up to fit my rations," was the answer.

NEW CAPITOL TO BE A WORTHY ONE

Pennsylvania's Legislature Will Be Housed in Building to Be Proud Of.

The new state capitol at Harrisburg, the contract for which has just been let to George F. Payne and Company of Philadelphia will be a magnificent structure, following in a general way the outlines of the national capitol in Washington. In general dimensions it will measure 519 feet 10 inches, extreme length, by 258 feet 2 inches, extreme breadth, and will be surmounted by a large central dome, 250 feet high. Two smaller domes will surmount the north and south wings.

The entire exterior of the building will be of Pennsylvania granite. The main entrance, as well as the subordinate, to the north and south wings, will be through classic facades of tall granite columns. Each of those at the entrances to the wings is topped with a pediment, while the central mass carries a rectangular entablature, about 80 feet long, upon which a bronze group of sculpture, larger, probably, than anything of the kind now in existence, is to rest.

The architect's idea has been to design a building that will typify, not the hot sun and glaring marble of ancient Greece, but one that will recall the virile strength of Young America, and will recall the history of the great commonwealth of Pennsylvania and those things which have made it great.

He has devoted great attention to all details of the plans, even to such minor ones as the designs for mosaic pavements. That in the main vestibule bears the coat of arms of Pennsylvania; that in the main hall beneath the central dome pictures primitive life in the days when this commonwealth was still a province, and that in the entry between the vestibules and rotunda shows a great keystone, its center composed of minerals from all parts of the state. In the floors of the main corridors leading north and south will be inlaid representations of the seals of all the counties in the state.

The main hall is to be made the distinctively decorative feature of the building. Opening upon the various corridors, through six pairs of bronze doors bearing in relief scenes of pivotal importance in national and state history, it will include stautes of four of the greatest figures in Pennsylvania's development. Beneath the wall paintings and the lunettes of glass mosaic two legends wrought of the same material will run. One reads: "Ye shall know the Truth and the Truth shall make ye free," and the other, the sentence from Leviticus, which is engraved on the Liberty bell: "Proclaim liberty throughout the land to all the inhabitants thereof."

The decorative panels and mural paintings will be from the pencils of Edwin A. Abbey and Miss Violet Oakley, and the sculptures by George Gray Barnard, the young Pennsylvanian, who has sprung to the front in his art with rapid strides during the past few years.

Mr. Abbey will paint four semi-circular panels in the dome, each 19 feet high, and panels 30x80 feet in the house and senate above the chairs of the speaker and the president. The whole scheme of decoration is intended to represent the romance of the boundary of a state.

The paintings will start in the governor's reception room and will run in a series through the house, senate and superior court chambers, and will reach their finale in the great dome. They are to picture the history of Pennsylvania from the time when William Penn, an Oxford undergraduate, had begun to dream of a Utopia in the new world. Then comes the epoch of exploration, the life of the Indians with whom the treaties were made, and then the march of the settlers, Dutch and Swedes, Quakers and Scotch-Irish, Welshmen, Dunkers and Moravians, followed by panels representing the Anglo-Saxon battle with nature and the conquest of the land's material wealth.

Forestry, the bridging of streams and rivers, the mining of coal and iron, and boring for oil are to be pictured, as well as Pennsylvania's pre-eminence in all modes of transportation, from the post of pack caravans to the present of limited trains runing at 90 miles an hour. The great men of the state are to be remembered, as are the commonwealth's achievements in the arts and sciences and in the supreme court chamber are to be panels typifying "Traditional Law," "Written Law," "Roman Law" and "Justice."

This last named room is to be the only one in the building which is distinctly Greek in treatment. The general color tones, including the great favril glass dome, are in delicate pinks and yellows. The senate chamber is to be executed in green, gold and mahogany, the house in autumnal tints and the great dome in white, gold and yellow, with brilliant touches of reds and blues.

The terraces surrounding the building will be laid out as gardens.

A Matter of Miles.

From the Baltimore American.

"Gen. Miles is going all the way around the world," says the grocer, pausing in his task of dusting the prunes.

"How far is it around the world?" asks the harnessmaker, who had stopped at the grocery for a plug of tobacco.

"Twenty-five thousand miles," says the school teacher, proud at the opportunity to display his knowledge.

"Well," put in the man with the incandescent whiskers, slicing off a piece of cheese to go with his cracker, "well, by the time he gets around I reckon it'll be 25,001 miles."

But this only leads the school teacher into an argument, showing how the diameter of the world is calculated by its distance from the moon, and the circumference of the world figured up from the diameter, and the result is that the man with the incandescent whiskers has to go over to the blacksmith shop and make a diagram with some charcoal before he can get a laugh.

FIGURING IT UP.

The captain strode the quarterdeck;
 The crews were at the guns;
The powder flames leaped fiercely out,
 Like as the lightning runs.
Afar the fortress rose all grim,
 And bellowed in reply,
Till smoke and fire and thunder sound
 Shook both the sea and sky.
  And the captain took
  His little book,
And figured away, while his fingers shook:
 "2 into 10 goes 16 times,
  And the square of 12 is 4;
 79 is the cube of 6,
  And my deck is wet with gore.
 53 is the G. C. D.,
  And 7 plus 2 is 5—
 And my ship is shot to a battered hulk,
  And I haven't a man alive!"

The other captain, in the fort,
 Stood sadly on parade;
The Gatlings, siege and other guns
 A fearsome racket made.
They boomed across the troubled waves,
 Against the swooping ships,
And as their echoes thrill the air
 The captain bit his lips.
  And he also took
  His little book
And figured it out with a woeful look:
 "6 per cent of a dozen men,
  And the sine of 18 more,
 All bisected by 25,
  And the arc of 34;
 3 plus 8, to the decimal,
  And the tare and tret," he said,
 "Combined with the subdivided sum,
  Shows all my men are dead."

Thus each side lost and each side won,
 And each side fought the fray,
And now they're figuring upon
 The powder bills to pay.
Grim war is awful, at its best,
 But who will lose or lick
If he relies entirely on
 The old arithmetic?

—"Josh Wink," in Baltimore American.

PERSONALS.

K. T. Awara of the engineering department of the University of Tokio, Japan, is at the Victoria. He left Japan about seven months ago to visit the steel industries of England and America. "I have visited all the leading iron and steel plants of England," he said, "and will visit the big plants in this country. I am making a study of iron metallurgy for the benefit of the students in our university. I have spent several days in the plants of the United States Corporation at Duquesne and Homestead, and will say that the latter works beat the famous Krupp works in Germany. I expect to go from this city to Chicago to visit the steel works there. The government of Japan is operating a steel plant. It has a capacity of about 100,000 tons, but the product is largely steel rails. The Japanese do not take kindly to rolling mill work. They are small men, and the work is too hard for them. Our iron workers mostly come from England, but in a short time our own people will operate our steel mills. The coal deposits of Japan are almost inexhaustible, but the coal is not good for coking purposes. There are some good grades of coal in China used for coking, but it is not equal to the Connellsville product. While we export some of your coke, the expense does not justify large shipments."

G. B. Barrett, the Fifth avenue wholesale jeweire, went to New York last night. "For the last three months," he remarked, "the jewelry trade has been the best in its history. The demand is for the finest goods and the manufacturers are busy keeping up the stock of their customers. Mr. Barrett said that he understood there would be another rise in the price of diamonds within a short time. "The output of these precious stones is controlled by a London syndicate, who make prices when they see proper. Pittsburgh is one of the best diamond-selling centers in the country," said Mr. Barrett. "Quality and not price is the desideratum of the Pittsburgh buyer, and diamond men tell me that more stones are sold here annually than in any other city in America."

M. K. McMullin was a passenger to New York last night. Mr. McMullin was asked if he would meet Bishop Fallows of Chicago in his efforts to settle the coal strike during his trip east, and what he thought would be the result of the bishop's intervention. He said his trip east was simply one of business and that he was not going into the anthracite coal country. Mr. McMillin said that if Bishop Fallows had been asked to intervene in the strike he was not aware of it. He positively denied that he had been further asked to interfere in the strike.

D. T. Watson, the well-known attorney, arrived home from Europe last night.

CRAP GAME ENDS IN SMALL RIOT

Newsies Refuse to Permit Colored Man to Grab the Last Stakes.

ALTHOUGH education does not stand out very conspicuously in the make-up of the newsboy, he is, nevertheless, intelligent and wide awake. Life on the streets has thrown him in conversation with all classes of people from the foremost business man to the lowest porch climber. From these conversations, in addition to his familiarity with the newspaper headlines, he acquires a remarkably wide vocabulary. He is also one of the principal factors in lifting slang words up to the standard of good usage. While the 9-year-old, golden haired school boy is wrestling with simple monosyllables the 7-year-old newsy is about ready to close up on primer words and open up the classics. His vocabulary is not of the most select, for often times he "springs" "jaw-breakers" which would compel the average business man to rumble through his whiskers in deep meditation.

Last night I was attracted to a downtown street by yells of "kill the nigger," and I happened to be just in time to see a big darkey escape from a miniature, a la Butler mob. One of the boys had just finished making the ends of a two-inch stick dissolve partnership by bringing it in contact with the darkey's thought producer. It was explained to me that the little party had been engaged in that fascinating Saratoga pastime, commonly known as "crap," and the way that gentleman of color gathered in the proceeds made the little venders feel homesick, but they were determined to "go broke" gamely. All went well until the man attempted to demolish the seventh commandment, and then the battle commenced. After the arm-filled clouds had cleared away and the crowd dispersed, "Peggy" stepped up to me, and between giggles said, "Did yer see it?"

I expressed my sorrow over being a trifle tardy and inquired of him the cause of such a strenuous argument. After informing the crowd that he, himself, would act as spokesman and would consider it a favor if he would be allowed to go through his oration without any serious interruptions or amendments, "Peggy" continued:

"Yer see, it was dis way: De coon-point was 9 and de come-bet was 4, and he t'rowed 7. Muggsy squealed 'no dice,' cause Muggsy wasn't on his royal point. Shinski said 'Nigger, you ain't goin' ter git no money,' and de coon says: 'What fo?' Shinski asked fer de dice and de coon said: 'I'se gib yo dat dar dice afta Ise done got dat money.' And den I dinged him wid de club."

Not being familiar with the fine points of "rollin' de bones" I informed "Peggy" that I was at a loss to know the reason for their using such strenuous efforts in behalf of the morgue.

* * *

WHILE the Salvation army was holding services at a prominent street corner in Allegheny the other evening an incident occurred, which, despite the solemnity of the occasion, created laughter among the group of listeners. The meeting was an unusually large one and the workers carried with them a big drum, beside the tambourines and other instruments generally used. While the services were in progress a large, heavy-set man joined the audience and immediately became an interested listener. In a short time he edged his way through the crowd to the inner edge of the circle, where he stood drinking in every word that was said.

One of the lady soldiers started to speak, and the man became visibly affected. She noticed this and made a personal appeal to him that if in darkness he should come forward and renounce his sins. After a little hesitation and persuasion he did so, and the woman led him to the center of the circle, presented him to her fellow-Christian workers, and asked that they all kneel around the drum in prayer.

The man evidently misunderstood her, for as the others knelt he sat down on the head of the drum. Instantly there was an audible crack, the drum head loosened and the man rose just in time to escape imprisonment within the wooden rim.

* * *

THE other evening an outbound car was just leaving the city with every inch of space occupied by tired workers and returning shoppers. A woman with a market basket stood just in front of a mechanic. She wore one of the popular bonnets, with chiffon hanging over the brim for fully a foot. Every motion of the car and every breath of air fanned the flimsy stuff into the man's face. He twisted his head several times to avoid the fluffy contact, but was not successful. The mechanic could not get out of range for the car was too crowded.

When the car was crossing Point bridge the wind was especially strong as it came through the windows and the chiffon clung to the man's face persistently. It blew over his mouth and a mischievous smile on his lips foretold his actions. When the next puff of wind brought the stuff once more over his mouth he seized it with his teeth very gently and waited. The owner of the hat turned her head and her headgear was pulled away. With a frown she turned upon the mechanic with a "How dare you?" flashing from her eyes. He touched his hat, and said, politely: "Madam, the sun has set. It's time to pull up the awning." The "awning" was pulled up and fastened to the hat and the passengers who saw the occurrence hid their laguhter as best they could.

Pathetic if True.

From the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"My good man," said the kindly chap to the weary tramp, "I do not understand why it is that you are opposed to doing any work."

"Well," replied Weary Raggles, pathetically, "I'll explain to you. You see, when I was a kid me mudder brought me up on dese here predigested foods and me stomach didn't have any work to do, and—and, well I took after me stomach."

A good excuse is sometimes better than the naked truth.

An Eye to the Future.

From the Chicago Daily News.

"But will it fade?" asked the fair widow who was examining some black goods.

"I cannot tell a lie, madam," replied the conscientious dealer. "In about six months it will begin to lose its somber hue and become a lovely golden brown."

"Very well, Mr. Tapeleigh, I'll take your word for it," replied the f. w. "Let me have 37 yards, please."

DEADLOCK WAS BROKEN IN THE TWENTY-THIRD

A. F. Cooper, of Uniontown Is Republican Nominee for Congress.

SOMERSET SUPPORTED FAYETTE'S CHOICE

Reason Given Is That It Will Strengthen Hold of Party Upon Doubtful Fayette—Machine to Hold Forth in Church.

A. F. Cooper of Uniontown is the Republican candidate for congress from the Twenty-third district. He was nominated yesterday at a meeting of the conference of Greene, Fayette and Somerset counties at the Monongahela, breaking a deadlock that has existed for several weeks. The nomination was effected through a combination between Somerset and Fayette counties, and the conferees from Greene were greatly surprised when Cooper was nominated, as they had supposed that J. A. Berkey of Somerset was the favorite of the Republican state leaders.

The meeting was the third held in the Monongahela house. It had been scheduled for the morning, but the delegates did not come together until 5 p. m., the day having been spent by the Somerset and Fayette conferees in perfecting a deal. The meeting was called to order by S. A. Kendall of Meyersdale, the acting chairman.

Somerset Yielded.

Fayette county was the first to vote. The four conferees voted as usual for Cooper. Then Greene county was called and responded by voting for ex-Senator D. S. Walton. Somerset was called, and when the first conferee voted for Cooper the Greene county men knew the jig was up. All the Somerset conferees named Cooper as their choice, and the vote stood 8 to 4, with Cooper the nominee. Greene county quickly recovered from its surprise and Maj. Thomas S. Crago moved that the nomination be made unanimous. The motion was adopted.

Ex-Senator D. S. Walton, who was defeated by the combination of Fayette and Somerset counties, said last night that he was perfectly satisfied. His conferees had been loyal to him and had stuck to him to the last. Greene had offered to Fayette the nomination for senator from the district composed of Fayette and Greene, but Fayette had chosen to combine with Somerset.

Capt. J. P. Teagarden was the man who made the offer spoken of by Mr. Walton. Capt. Teagarden is Greene county's candidate for the nomination for state senator against W. E. Crow, of Uniontown. Capt. Teagarden offered to withdraw from the contest against Crow on condition that the congressional nomination be given to Mr. Walton, but the offer was not accepted. Mr. Crow said yesterday that despite the fact that his county had got the congressional nomination, he was still a candidate for senator against Capt. Teagarden.

The Fayette men said last night that Fayette really ought to have the nomination, as it had not had a Republican nominee for congress for many years, and had a larger population than Somerset and Greene combined. He thought that the nomination of a Fayette county man would help the county ticket and increase the Republican state majority, as Fayette has been doubtful lately. Somerset's conferees were won over by these arguments.

The Man Nominated.

A. F. Cooper is 40 years old. He is an attorney and has always been active in party politics in Fayette county, although he has held but one office, that of principal of the Bellevernon public school. He was educated at Mount Union college, O., attended the law department of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and on his return home formed a partnership with J. Q. VanSwearingen and began the practice of law in Uniontown. He was married about 12 years ago to Miss Allie Lackey of Fayette City. His father was Joel Cooper, a prominent farmer of the county.

The machine county committee has rented the second floor of the Second United Presbyterian church on Sixth avenue until after the election. While in the hands of the machine the church will be known as the "Republican" auditorium. There is a seating capacity of 1,000 persons. Secretary Robert Ostermaier said that some meeting place of the kind was needed, as there was little room in the machine headquarters across the street. The meetings of the committees will be held there, and the auditorium may possibly be used for mass meetings, as it is considered more available than Old City hall.

Tariff Club to March.

The president of the Young Men's Republican Tariff club has issued an order to members to turn out in the column that will escort the Republican state candidates from the Duquesne club to Old City hall on Friday evening. The parade will leave the club house at 7 p. m. sharp.

The executive committee of the machine county committee yesterday elected the following finance committee: John Bradley, chairman; S. J. Wainwright, John A. Bell, D. L. Gillespie, Samuel C. Grier, W. I. Mustin, S. P. Conner, William McConway, James H. Reed, John H. Smithley, Robert Pitcairn, M. K. McMullin, John P. Ober, H. P. Ford, H. Clay Frick, Clarence Burleigh.

Recorder J. O. Brown, as chairman of the city committee, appointed the following vice chairmen of the committee: William M. Benham, John P. Hunter, George A. Chalfant, L. L. Davis, John G. Hastings and David Hardy.

The Democratic sub-campaign committees of the Third, Fifth and Sixth legislative districts met yesterday afternoon in the Democratic headquarters in Diamond street, with the chairman of the campaign executive committee, S. J. Graham, and the secretary, L. M. Fagan. Mr. Fagan said that the reports were of the most encouraging sort.

Democrats Are Working.

"In fact," he said, "I have never seen such enthusiasm as is exhibited in this campaign. Democrats, who for years have taken no interest in politics, now have their coats off, figuratively speaking. They have figured out that the fusion ticket is going to win. All our committeemen are instructing all Democrats that they should mark their ballot in the cross in the Democratic column, so that we can show that the success of the fusion ticket can be largely attributed to the Democratic party and can secure as large a representation as possible in future state conventions.

The Democratic committee of the Sixth legislative district met yesterday, but failed to come to an agreement. The committee may either nominate a Democrat on the Citizens ticket, if it chooses, or may indorse the fusion ticket. The committee will meet again on Friday.

At 3 p. m. today the committees on speakers, meetings and organization will meet in the Citizens headquarters in Third avenue. Among other work will be the completion of the program for the big meeting in Old City hall on Saturday.

FIVE OFFERS FOR AN IMPORTANT SITE

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING NEXT MONDAY.

Rev. Fr. Ruoff's People Almost Certain to Lease Property at Smithfield St. and Sixth Ave.

The congregation of the First German Union Evangelical Protestant church will meet in the church, Smithfield street and Sixth avenue, next Monday evening to consider several propositions made recently to lease the church property. It is probable that a commission will be appointed to consider the matter and report back to the congregation. There is every probability that one of the offers will be accepted, which will mean the erection of a new church building and a business block.

The holdings of the church extend along Smithfield street 250 feet and along Sixth avenue 110 feet. The property was granted to the congregation in 1782 by the heirs of William Penn for a church site. It must be used as such as long as the congregation is in existence, as it cannot be sold. The entire property cannot be leased either, for the church must stand upon part of it.

The Rev. Frederick Ruoff, pastor of the church, says five offers have been made, but declined to be specific as to the terms of any offer. Mr. Ruoff considers some of them very advantageous.

Mr. Ruoff seems to favor the part next to Strawberry alley for church purposes. He says that in the summer time, when it is necessary to have the church windows open, it is sometimes so noisy that it is almost impossible to hear any of the service.

The property is very valuable and will make an ideal site or a business block. The present church does not occupy half of the Smithfieldd street frontage, though it extends back the full length along Sixth avenue to Montour way. The buildings between the church and Strawberry alley are small structures and of no great value, though good revenue producers to the church.

It is possible that the congregation will decide to lease the property at Sixth avenue and Smithfield street and move the church to the lower part. The church may be torn down entirely and a new one erected, or it may be only dismantled, as was St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, and re-erected on the lower corner.

At any rate there is every indication that before long there will be another business block in course of erection at Sixth avenue and Smithfield street.

FAREWELL TO SOUSA WAS BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Great Throng Attended the Exposition to Hear Last Concert—The Fadettes Today.

The closing concerts last night at the Pittsburgh exposition of Sousa and his soloist, Miss Estelle Liebling, were brilliant. A great throng jammed the pretty music hall to bid the popular pair a boisterous farewell.

A worthy successor of the great Sousa combination, as an exposition attraction, is now announced in the appearance this afternoon and evening of the "Lovely Girl" orchestra, otherwise the Fadettes, the leading female orchestral organization of the world. Fifty finished musicians comprise the orcestra, which must not be classed with the ordinary "ladies' band" now traversing the country.

The directress, Mrs. Caroline B. Nichols, is a woman of high musical attainments; the concert mistress is brilliant Mamie Reuckwilczek, a favorite Pittsburgh girl; the soprano soloist is Mildred Rogers, who has a sweet, penetrating voice, and the exposition management feels confident it is offering an extraordinary attraction in the "Fadettes." The ensemble work of those 50 artists is said to be so perfectly balanced as to be well-nigh ideal.

Attention is directed to the matinee concerts, which are more largely attended each day, since they are unusually enjoyable and lack the features that must attend the overcrowding at night. This afternoon's program follows:

2 P. M.

March, "The Invincible Eagle"	Sousa
Overture, "If I Were King"	Adam
(a) Serenade, "Bonheur"	Hartog
(b) "The Little Sandman"	Eilenberg

"The American Patrol"	Meacham

4 P. M.

"Creole Belles"	Lampe
Cavatina	Raff
Soprano solo, Miss Mildred Rogers.

"Roosevelt's Rough Riders"	Laurendeau

BIG MEETING AT BEDFORD.

Republican Demonstration Draws Immense Crowd—Democrats Repudiate Fusion.

BEDFORD, PA., Sept. 16.—(Special.)—Bedford's greatest Republican demonstration for years was held tonight in the court house. Delegations by special trains swelled the crowd. The principal address was made by Hampton L. Carson of Philadelphia. He was followed by the Hon. Alvin Evans, nominee for congress, and John H. Jordan.

This demonstration, following the meeting of the straight Democrats last night in the court house to protest against the action of the Democratic and fusion leaders in nominating a fusion ticket, is a staggering blow to the Union movement in Bedford county. Scores of Democrats are expressing their determination to vote the straight Republican ticket, while many others will simply vote for the Democrats remaining upon their ticket.

BOLTED THE CONVENTION.

Independent Democrats of Lackawanna Indorsed Republican for Congress.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 16.—(Special.)—Lackawanna's Democracy had a turbulent convention today until the faction that wanted to indorse Congressman William Connell found themselves outgeneraled in controlling the gathering and bolted to another hall, where they proceeded to make nominations of their own under an organization styled the Independent Democratic party of Lackawanna county.

The regulars nominated for congress George Howell. When the Connell Democrats left the hall they were called traitors and hooted and hissed. The independents indorsed Connell for congress.

ANOTHER TICKET PROMISED.

Anti-Trust Party Formed for the State Campaign.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—(Special.)—The "Anti-Trust Party" is the title of a new political organization which will nominate a full state and congressional ticket for the coming election.

The founders of the party are ex-Representative George W. Weisshaar, George C. McFarland, Daniel H. Buch, Edward G. Hines and Charles S. Wood of Philadelphia. They filed an affidavit in the Dauphin county court today explaining their purpose and claiming the exclusive right of the party name which they have adopted.

Olmstead Is Renominated.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16.—Congressman Marline E. Olmestead of this city was today renominated by acclamation by the Republican conferences of the eighteenth district.

BOSTOCK SAYS CHIQUITA COST HIM $100,000

Struggle for Control of the "Doll Lady" Reaches U. S. Court.

ALLEGES MIDGET BROKE HER CONTRACT

Bill in Equity Filed to Restrain the Little Woman From Exhibiting in Erie County—Plaintiff's Story of Her Life.

The struggle for the control of "Chiquita," the "Doll Lady," which began in Buffalo at the close of the Pan-American exposition, got into the United States courts before Judge Buffington yesterday. Frank C. Bostock, through Chantler, McGill & McClung, filed a bill to restrain Chiquita from appearing at the Edinboro fair, in Erie county, on September 16, 17 and 18, and to compel her to fulfill a contract with him.

Judge Buffington held a preliminary hearing at which Judge Frank Gunnison appeared for the defense. Judge Buffington granted a temporary injunction, returnable on October 16, and Bostock gave bond in $2,000 to cover any damages that Chiquita may suffer. In the course of the hearing Judge Gunnison said the fair managers were to pay the little woman $300 a day for exhiting there.

The name given the midget in the bill is Espridiona Alice Cendo Woeckner. Her residence is given as Erie, her age 27, her height 32 inches. She is a Mexican by birth, but married Anthony C. Woeckner in Buffalo.

Bostock sets forth that he found her seven years ago in a condition of squalor and degration, and that he trained, tutored and educated her. He made her a member of his family, and as soon as she was fit to appear before the public, staged her and continued to do so until September 3, 1902.

Spent $100,000 on Chiquita.

On December 14, 1901, he entered into a contract with her to run until the close of the Louisiana Purchase exposition at St. Louis, or if that fair is not held, until December 14, 1904. In that period she was not to work for any other person in the United States or perform as a midget, curiosity or dancer. He asserts that he has spent $100,000 on her training and preparation for exhibition: $5,000 was for education, $10,000 for jewelry, $10,000 for dresses and costumes, and $15,000 for ponies, vehicles, mechanical and musical instruments suitable for her small stature. All of this, except the jewelry, is worthless, except for exhibiting her. Relying on this contract he has made other contracts for exhibiting her and has spent large sums for pictures, printing and advertising.

On September 3, so he alleges, Chiquita broke the contract by leaving the show at Elgin, Ill., and has since made an agreement with Anthony C. Woeckner, Earnest A. Woeckner, James Henry, Frank Hoffman and others, to exhibit at Edinboro, Pa., and other towns. He asks that she be restrained from doing this, and be compelled to keep the contract with him.

The contract is filed with the bill. It provides that Bostock is to pay Chiquita $80 a month, with all expenses of travelling, board, room and wardrobe, and that she is to work exclusively for Bostock. At the end of the contract, December 15, 1904, he is to give her all her wardrobe, jewelry, oraments, pictures, paintings, miniature carriages, bicycle, automobile, ponies, etc.

Eloped With Employe.

The trouble between Bostock and Chiquita began on the night the Pan-American exposition closed. Anthony C. Woeckner had worked for Bostock, taking care of the ponies, etc., and had been discharged. That night Chiquita was missing. She was recovered after midnight and later it was found she and Woeckner had gone to Buffalo and had been married. Bostock agreed to take Woeckner into his employ again. He sent Chiquita to Boston, but before he left Buffalo was served with papers in a habeas corpus proceeding. The girl was gone and the case was dismissed. Then he was sued for $10,000 in a suit for alienation of affections; this case has never been pushed. Later, while Chiquita was in Boston and Bostock was in Europe, habeas corpus proceedings were begun again, and the courts decided in Bostock's favor. Woeckner then asked to be allowed to take his old work again and was allowed to do so. The show went on the road and was in Elgin, Ill., when Chiquita was spirited away and taken to Erie. This led to the present proceedings. Neither the midget nor Anthony Woeckner was in court yesterday, but Earnest A. Woeckner, the father of Anthony appeared.

VALUE OF TESTIMONY.

Greater Than Assertion.

There is none of us so hardened but that when we have been able to aid our fellow creatures by conferring a benefit or bringing a little comfort into their lives we like to have appreciation shown. This generally affords more pleasure than the performance of the act itself, and in this connection the following letter from a Paris, Texas, lady is of more than usual interest: "Dear Friends: I address you as such, for you have been such to me. I suffered for three years off and on with piles. I was treated at the hospital, and the new and elegant hospital, of Memphis; they only gave me temporary relief. I came west, thinking the change of air and water would benefit me; five months ago the bleeding piles came back on me, and bled so much that I thought I would die. I have had four of the finest doctors in this section of Texas; all they did was to finally nearly let me go to my grave; all they wanted was a big sum of money from me and to operate on me. I said no, no surgeon's knife would enter me; if it was my time to die God knew it, and when I died I would die all together. I began hearing about your medicine. I had no faith in you, but I sent and got a box of your Pyramid Pile Cure; in two days the blood flow had slackened to one-half the amount, and in one week I felt so much better I walked four blocks and did a little housework. I was not bleeding then; in three weeks I was well. God bless you for putting such a wonderful medicine within the reach of suffering men and women. I shall never cease to recommend your medicine or be without it; also I used your Pyramid Pills. Sallie A. Hearndon." Testimony like this should be more convincing than all claims and assertions, and should leave no doubt in the mind of the reader as to the merit of the remedy. Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists for fifty cents a package, or will be mailed by the makers to any address upon receipt of price. Write Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their book on cause and cure of piles.

League Games Today.

St. Louis at Exposition park.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 16.—At the session of the National league owners Monday night a general agreement was reached relative to some points upon which the league has not had a fixed policy. It had been ascertained that some of the clubs were bidding against each other for the services of players and a way has been provided to prevent this in the future. No definite plan was fixed for the annihilation of the American league. In fact, that was not even given consideration. The National league owners have been through "scrimmages" like the present before, and know that a reaction ultimately sets in by which they profit as well as any other baseball organization.

Where American Is Strong.

It is conceded that Boston and Philadelphia are strong for the American league, largely due to the fact that both clubs are on top in that organization, with a close fight up to a day or two, but when it is remembered the National league outdrew the American in Philadelphia last year, it proves that it is the merit of the club and not the league that creates any particular difference.

It is asserted that one of the American league clubs is on the market, notwithstanding rumors to the contrary, and the fact that another meeting of National league owners has been called to assemble in New York within the next fortnight may have something to do with that rumor.

A. J. Reach, it is reported, will conduct the affairs of the Philadelphia National league baseball club in the future.

John T. Brush, chairman of the executive committee, presided over the meeting today, and the others present were: Col. John I. Rogers and A. J. Reach of Philadelphia, Charles Ebbetts of Brooklyn, Fred Knowles of New York, Harry Pulliam of Pittsburgh, Max Fleischmann of Cincinnati, and A. H. Soden of Boston.

Various Plans of Action.

It was said today that the members of the league executive committee had formulated three or four plans of action in the contest with the American league, and that the purpose of the present conference was to get a unit of expression upon one of the plans and empower the executive committee to go ahead and carry the war into the American league's territory.

"The league," said Mr. Brush, "has had a most successful season. Financially speaking, it has been the most successful season we have had in years. Of course it is admitted that in Boston our rivals have won out."

GOLF AT CLEVELAND.

Gardner, Smith and Way Made the Lowest Scores.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 16.—Thirty-eight professional and amateur golf players played the first and second rounds on the Euclid golf links for the western championship today.

The three lowest men at the end of the day's play were Stewart Gardner of Gardner City, Willie Smith of Midlothian and W. H. Way of Cleveland. Gardner's total score was 151, Smith's 152 and Way's 153. The day's results were satisfactory. Weather conditions were fine. The longest drives of the day were made by George A. O'Neil of Toledo and Lawrence Auchterlonie of Chicago, each 250 feet. The championship and prizes will be settled tomorrow, when the third and final rounds are played.

CENTURY MARK IS CLARKE'S DESIRE

MANAGER WANTS A HUNDRED GAMES.

Told His Players So and They Are After the Mark—Honors for Pitcher Pearson.

If the champion Pirates can make their record 100 victories for the season they will be doing all that Manager Clarke asks. The Pirates' leader made this statement last evening, just after the arrival from St. Louis, where they took two falls out of Patsy Donovan's Cardinals:

"We still have 10 games to play," said Manager Clarke, "five with Cincinnati, three with St. Louis and two with Chicago, and I think we should be able to win half of them, and thus reach the century mark in victories. I know the League record is 102 victories in a season, but that record was made with a schedule of 154 games. Now, our schedule calls for 140 games, and we can only play 139, as we have one postponed game with New York which cannot be played off; so that our record will be even better than the old one. I have told the boys I would like them to win an even 100 games, and if they do that I will be perfectly satisfied."

The champions were an hour late arriving in the city, and the boys lost no time in reaching hotels and boarding houses, as all hands were tired and hungry. Two of the party were left behind. Beaumont was given permission to take a short vacation at his home in Wisconsin, and Burke was allowed to remain at his home in St. Louis. Both players will join the team in Chicago on Sunday next. The absence of Beaumont will force Wagner into today's game against St. Louis, but as Honus' hand is better, he is ready and willing to jump in. Today's game is one postponed from earlier in the season.

While the Pirates were at the depot in St. Louis on Monday night waiting for their train they had a visitor in the person of "Rowdy Jack" O'Connor, who called to shake hands with his old comrades. He was careful to steer clear of Manager Fred and President Dreyfuss. A careful eye was kept on "Rowdy" to see that he did not hold any secret conferences with the players whose contracts have not yet been turned in.

President Dreyfuss had nothing new regarding the hold-out players, and said that he was not worrying. He promises to give his list of players to the public at the proper time. He had heard nothing from the mutiny in New York, but said he hoped no peace arrangement would be entered into with the American League, and was positive none would be if his consent had to be secured. He is opposed to Ban Johnson and anything Mr. Johnson has to do with.

There is a good chance that Saturady at the ball park will be known as Beaver Falls day, and there will be lots of doing. Alexander Pearson, who is on Patsy Donovan's staff of twirlers, hails from the busy little town down the Ohio, and friends and neighbors down there want to give him a proper reception. They have secured a handsome purse, which will be presented in case Manager Donovan selects him to pitch that day, and there will be a whole trainload of rooters come up from the Falls to whoop things up.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton for another series of races for the American cup will be forwarded within a few days, so as to reach the New York Yacht club before October 1.

Confirmation was forthcoming this morning of a report that the hull of the Shamrock III. will be milled steel, instead of manganese bronze, as in the case of the previous challengers. The new yacht's design does not differ materially from those of the previous Shamrocks, although there is some divergence from the old lines forward. The new boat will not be so costly as the Shamrock II.

STRONG ELEVEN PROMISED FOR RED AND BLACK

Wash.-Jeff. Holds Its First Practice With Brightest of Prospects.

SWEET GAINED FROM STATE COLLEGE

Strong Center Rush Strengthens the Line—One of Few Elevens in Country Using the Harvard Game of Last Season.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, Pa., Sept. 16.—The first open-air practice of the season was held on Monday afternoon by the husky candidates for the Washington and Jefferson football team, and the whole town is wearing a broad smile over the prospects for a winner. The outlook at the start of the season is encouraging for an eleven which will stand out in bold relief as one of the strongest ever turned out by Wash.-Jeff., famous for good football as well as for brilliant and successful alumni.

With the abundance of good material developed last season the collegians consider themselves on a firm footing and ready for the hardest schedule in their history in spite of the fact that a number of last season's best players will not return.

A Man Gained from State.

The happiest development to date has been the presence on the practice field of Sweet, the strong center of last season's State college eleven. Heinberger, one of the best tackles on any gridiron last season, was also in attendance, removing the doubt which existed as to his availability this season. Heinberger was not in all the games last season and it was his presence in the Homestead contest which accounted largely for the surprising showing made by the collegians. Murphy, another point de resistance in the line, also showed up in harness, while Capt. Hayes of California, who plays at tackle, was, of course, in evidence. Sutter, the strong end man last year, is back, while a possible acquisition for fullback is Hollis of Pittsburgh college last season.

Outside of the strength and weight of the material which played on the scrub last season Wash-Jeff's chief cause for congratulation is the use of the Harvard system of play, with a man who played it on last season's champion intercollegiate eleven to instruct the Washington students.

Great Advantage in Coach.

Eldrege Green's coaching of Wash-Jeff makes it one of about three colleges in the country which will have the advantage of the true Harvard system taught by one of the players. Very few of last season's crimson team left college and only two are coaching smaller colleges. In the Harvard system everything depends upon the tackles. For this reason the return of Heinberger means a great deal to the team, as he and Capt. Hayes can take care of the new system in faultless manner.

The most discouraging news for Wash-Jeff since the opening of the season is found in the leaving of Forkum, the great fullback developed last season, who has gone to State college. Among the other players of last season who will be lost are W. B. Hammer, who left during the Easter vacation and will probably play with West Virginia university; Montgomery, halfback, who graduated; Reed, who is at work, and Sefton. Gibson, the substitute fullback, is here, as are McDonough, the substitute quarter, and McFarland, who made a good showing on the scrub last season.

A Hard-Beginning.

The players are working unusually hard, as the season will be trying from the start. The eleven wants to be in its best shape for the college centennial, the second week in October, when Lafayette will play in Washington. Princeton is to be played a few days later, so that the red-and-black lads will have their hands full.

There is little deep regret here over the impossibility of playing in Pittsburgh owing to the attitude of the former backers of the Homestead team in barring Washington and Jefferson from the Colosseum. The State college game will be played here, instead of in Pittsburgh, and there will be no games canceled, as has been reported would be the case.

WILL COACH HIGH SCHOOL

James F. Lalus Finally Takes Up the Work—Eleven Promises To Be Strong This Year.

The High School Athletic association has finally engaged James F. Lalus as coach for the football team, and since Thursday last the High school boys have been busily practicing. Under the coach's direction the boys go through all kinds of football stunts, save any actual scrimmage work. Falling on the ball, passing, catching, punting and tackling, with a game of basketball to end it all, make up the day's work. This open air basketball is the hardest kind of work, and it means to develop wind and endurance.

Some 28 boys form the High school squad. The team will not be much heavier than last year's, but will by all odds be stronger in almost every department. The whole squad averages about 148 pounds. A team can be picked out of them that will run about 152. The heavy men are: Zilch, 173; Palmer, 168; Nickel, 167; the two Orrs, 160 apiece; Burgoyne, 163; Ewing, 154; Schenck, 165, and Schmidt, 160. Capt. Bauer or Patterson will likely play quarter, and both are light, about 130. The fullback candidates are but two so far, Zilch and Kern. Both have had experience in the position.

High school will open the season on Wednesday, the 24th, playing a practice game with the Melvin A. C. The initial scholastic game will be with East Liberty academy, October 4. High school will lose "Jud" Schmidt this fall. He enters Geneva college. Schmidt has been the mainstay of the school team for the past three seasons, and was captain the last two. He is a hard, heady player.

CAPT. HAYS,
of the Wash.-Jeff. Football Team.

ANOTHER HARD PRACTICE.

The W. U. P. Team Will Be Heavier Than Last Year.

The candidates for the W. U. P. team were out again for the second days practice and were put through a couple of hours hard work. The line will be heavier than last years. Several new men were on hand who did not report Monday. The coaches report for duty tomorrow and from then on there will be hard work to get the boys in trim for the opening game with State college on September 27.

TO STOP THE FIGHT.

Kentucky's Attorney General Goes Into Court and Asks for An Injunction.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 16.—Attorney General Pratt today filed suit for an injunction to prevent the contest between Terry McGovern and "Young" Corbett, scheduled to take place before the Southern Athletic club in this city September 22, from being held. The case will be argued before Judge Fields of the common pleas division of the Jefferson county circuit court Thursday morning.

It is expected that a decision will be handed down promptly in order that the status of the contest may be determined at once. Should the decision be against the match, the fighters' attorneys say the case will be taken at once to the court of appeals and will be pushed through in ample time for the contest. The defendants to the suit are: Terry McGovern, Sam H. Harris, his manager; "Young" Corbett, John F. Corbett, his manager; James J. Corbett, the referee; William F. Norton, owner of the Auditorium; Robert C. Gray, manager, and the Southern Athletic club and C. E. Lambertson.

The petition states that both Terry McGovern and "Young" Corbett are professional prize fighters and that in the fight each contestant will exert his utmost efforts to disable his opponent. The petition further declares that the proposed contest is merely a postponement of the fight arranged to take place before the Nutmeg Athletic club in Hartford, Conn., where an agreement was made to split the purse, 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser. It is alleged that the prize fight will bring together a dangerous assemblage of many thousand persons, which will have a demoralizing effect on the well being of the community, and that the contest is contrary to the laws of the state.

BRUTAL WIFE BEATER.

With Lash of Leather John Shalunk Whipped His Wife Till She Was Unconscious.

Mrs. Agnes Shalunk of No. 95 South Eighth street was beaten by her husband, John Shalunk, last evening. He has been in the habit of turning his wages over to her and then would obtain from her his spending money. Recently controversies have arisen over the amount of the husband's allowance. After a quarrel Monday night, he chased her out of the house in her night dress. Yesterday he obtained several pieces of leather and made them into a lash which he attached to a wooden handle.

Last night Shalunk locked his wife in a room and compelled her to strip to the waist. While he held her with one hand he beat her on the head, face and back with the lash. He continued this until the neighbors broke in the door and did not desist then until several women overpowered him and took the lash from him.

Mrs. Shalunk was unconscious, and Dr. W. H. Weber was called. He found the woman's back and face raw from the strokes of the leather, while upon her back were heel marks where her husband had jumped upon her after she was on the floor. Shalunk was arrested.

IMPORTANT OIL SALE.

Settled Production Near Burgettstown Is Disposed Of for $300,000.

Largest Local Sale in Years.

The largest sale of producing property in the local oil fields that has taken place during the current year, is reported to have just been concluded and the money consideration was $300,000.

The property lies in the Murdocksville extension, near Burgettstown, Washingtown county, and was developed and owned by the Hanover Oil Company, composed of Pittsburgh and McDonald parties. It consisted of leases on a number of farms, 700 acres in all, on which are 29 producing and one drilling well, having a gross daily production of 325 barrels. The price said to have been paid, would be about $1,056 a barrel.

The purchasers are Myers and Brown and others. It is 100-foot production and the wells have a sufficient gas pressure to make them flow. The most of the productive territory has been developed and it may be regarded as settled production.

MISSIONARIES IN PERIL.

Lives Threatened Unless They Leave Mexican Town by Today.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 16.—The department of state has requested the Mexican embassy here to use its good offices to protect the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Morgan and Miss Sarah Linley, residents of Plainfield, Ind., missionaries at Cotovoi, Mexico.

The natives at that place have threatened the lives of the party unless they leave by tomorrow. The Mexican embassy has forwarded the request to the authorities at Mexico.

STAR POINTER'S RECORD LOOKS SAFE THIS YEAR

Dan Patch Again Failed to Reach the Coveted Mark.

CONDITIONS WERE VERY FAVORABLE

On First Trial Made a Break and on Second Trial Went the Mile in 2:02½—Rhythmic, the Blind Wonder, Again Shows Speed.

New York, Sept. 16.—With perfect weather, a good track and a large and appreciative crowd the great stallion Dan Patch had every circumstance in his favor in his effort to defeat Old Father Time and win the world's pacing record at the Empire track today, but he did not do so. Accompanied by a running mate, the famous son of Joe Patchen just came out and paced a preliminary mile in 2:11.

Speculation was very active at 100 on two minutes to 75 for faster time. In his first effort he went to the quarter in 30¼ seconds and then broke and came back. In his second effort he went to the quarter in 30¾ and on to the half in 1:01, but tired badly and came home all out in 2:02½. The pacing record of 1:59¼, held by Star Pointer, looks safe for this year.

The first regular event of the day was the $5,000 Empire purse for the 2:20 trotters, in which an originally good field dwindled down to four starters, the blind wonder Rhythmic selling for $500 to $450 for the field, which consisted of the swift mare Duce Cor, the fast Canadian gelding Wentworth and the California bred Katrinka Girl. Later on Rhythmic sold for $50 and the field $35. The sightless son of Oakland Baron had the speed of the party and his victory was never in doubt. He won in straight heats with a little to spare in fast time.

In the $3,000 Yonkers purse Direct Hal was a prohibitive favorite, but with him Barred Gold Brick sold for $50 to $40 for the field. The race was almost a walkover for Direct Hal, who won with lots to spare in reserve.

In the 2:15 pace Schley Pointer sold at 100, Dora Delpha 65 and the field 15. This was a race of heats, two in three, and the favorite closed it out with ease and was never in danger. Summaries:

THIRD INNING AN AWFUL ONE FOR HOMESTEAD

Cuban Giants Didn't Do a Thing to Pitcher Stottler.

HAD HITS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION

There Were Singles, Doubles, Triples and Homers, Which Netted Ten Runs and Manor Phenom, Took to the Woods.

The Cuban X-Giants yesterday obtained revenge for the defeat of the day before by the H. L. A. C. and simply wiped up the diamond with the steel workers as well as exploding Stottler of Manor. The game was not a bad contest if the third inning was eliminated. In that Stottler went off and the Cubans got on to his delivery to the extent of 10 hits, including singles, doubles, triples and a home run, netting 10 runs before a single man was out, each man in the team securing a run in that inning. Homestead did not field so well and batted fairly well. The rubber will be played at Steel Works park today. Score:

BOUGHT HER A TICKET.

Supt. McAleese Touched by Story of Pretty Girl from East Liverpool.

A handsome girl, who said she was 23 years old, found her way to the office of Police Supt. McAleese yesterday and told him a tale of being induced to come here from her home in East Liverpool.

She suspected that an effort was being made to get her in a disorderly house and when her story was told, Superintendent McAleese agreed with her. She said that Alina Curtis brought her here on Monday from the Ohio town, where she was worked in a pottery at 87 cents a day.

An offer to get her $15 a week was accepted, but introductions to two young men and an invitation to supper made the girl suspicious. She accepted no attentions and when the Curtis woman took her around and exhibited her new home yesterday, she declined to enter and ran away.

She has no money to get back home and not being a resident here, or disabled in any way, the department of charities was compelled to refuse the superintendent's request for a ticket for her. Rather than keep her at Central station, the superintendent bought a ticket and sent her home rejoicing.

INTEREST GROWS IN ELECTION OF KINGSLEY HOUSE

Feeling Is That Board of Directors Should Be More Representative.

WM. M'CONWAY'S PLAN EXPLAINED

He Says That Reorganization Is Needed and That Board of Incorporators Should Be Formed.

Interest in the election of the Kingsley House association today continues spirited and the feeling displayed in the matter promises to be maintained until after the new directors are chosen. Those members of the association who are objecting to the regular ticket, as published yesterday, still hold their ground, that too many of the candidates belong to one denomination, and, indeed, to one parish. In speaking of the matter last night William McConway, a prominent member of the association, said:

"I do not think for a moment that it ever entered the mind of any member of Calvary parish to plan for a representation on the board of Kingsley House for the purpose of controlling it in the interest of that parish, or in any other local interest, but I think that when the Calvary people look squarely at the situation they will themselves admit that taking two-fifths of the board to one parish is narrowing the institution too much, and is getting too far away from the original plan of organization. When first organized the board was a great deal broader; here it is: The Rev. E. R. Donehoo, the Rev. Father M. M. Sheedy, Mrs. H. C. Frick, Mrs. Gilbert Rafferty, R. D. McGonigle, W. S. Kuhn, C. E. E. Childers, the Rev. C. E. St. John, the Rev. W. D. Maxon, D. D., Mrs. W. R. Thompson, Miss Lilian Mercur, W. H. Keech, Wm. McConway, John Wilcox, H. D. W. English.

Basis Must Be Broad.

"Kingsley House is now a much more important interest, financially, than then. As has been stated it has real estate valuel at $25,000, and an invested fund of $5,000. It should be organized on a basis now that will fairly insure its continuance on the only lines upon which it can succeed, strictly non-sectarian. It will not do to dismiss the matter with the answer that the suggestion that any particular parish is endeavoring to get control is malicious.

"Anyone familiar with the working of such bodies knows that six members in a board of 15 standing together will dominate and control. It is rare for half the members of such a board to attend its meetings, it is often difficult to get a quorum, which in the case of Kingsley House is seven, I believe.

"The objection to this list is not in its personnel, but in the example, in the precedent which it furnishes for the future action of others, and this is the time to consider and act with a view to preventing a practice from taking root which is certain to work evil. In this many of the Calvary people agree with me.

Re-organization Needed.

"Two clergymen and four of the laity from one parish is a little strong, but I think we may depend upon that parish to do the correct thing, now that attention is drawn to it. I am no longer a member of the board, and will not be again, but my interest in the settlement is still warm, and being myself a lifelong Episcopalian, I feel free to express my thought.

"It ought to be reorganized radically. At present a very large body of contributors are supposed to elect the board of directors. As a matter of fact, the directors have usually met and re-elected themselves, often finding it difficult to get enough of themselves to make a full organization. The body should be reorganized into two sections, a board of incorporators and a contributing membership; the incorporators to meet annually and elect managers. The board of incorporators (in number say 21) should be organized from the best men in the city, and should fill vacancies in their own body. With this board, instead of an unwieldly and constantly changing contributing membership, no such issue as that made in this instance could arise. A body of 21 can be got together and a fair conclusion is certain, while with the larger body, as now, it is simply impossible to reach more than the edge."

TRAIN ROBBERS CAUGHT.

Trio of Youths Charged with Stealing from West Penn Cars.

Frank Wolf, aged 18, of Shaler township, for whom the Allegheny police have been searching since September 9, was captured yesterday in Millvale. He and two other boys, Edward Aul, aged 14, of No. 24 Ley street, Allegheny, and John Huckestein, aged 16, of Reserve township, are charged by Detective A. W. Mateer of the West Penn Railroad Company with larceny. He alleges that the boys broke open freight cars and stole several hundred dollars' worth of goods.

Aul and Huckstein were arrested a week ago. They said Wolf was the one who broke open the cars and induced them to help steal the goods. They were held until the Wolf boy could be apprehended. Mateer says other boys belong to the gang and he hopes to catch some of them soon.

SENATORS INDORSE ROOSEVELT'S POLICY

President's Distinguished Visitors Agree That Reciprocity Must Be Insisted Upon.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 16.—Senators Hanna, Spooner, Allison, Aldrich and Lodge and Postmaster General Payne spent several hours with President Roosevelt today and discussed with him the entire political situation, having special reference to the conditions in the western states which the president is to visit on his approaching trip.

The parties to the conference were reticent after they returned from Sagamore hill, but it can be stated on reliable authority that it was decided to make no attempt to revise the tariff at the coming session of congress; that the president is to maintain his position as to the trusts, and, further, that he is to insist upon reciprocity with Cuba. It is understood that he will fully outline his policy regarding that question in some of the speeches he is to make on his western trip.

The president's purpose in having this conference was to ascertain if there had been any marked political changes in the different sections of the country during the last year. The conference today, it is said, showed there had been none.

"The conference was entirely harmonious," said one of the gentlemen who participated in it, but who declined to allow his name to be published. "No differences of opinions developed, and the president's position on the different questions discussed was 'indorsed.'"

QUESTIONS THE RIGHT OF UNIONS TO TRY MEMBERS

Slander Suit Against William Neuhahn Raises New Law Point.

CHARGES OF SCABBING WERE MADE

George Weiss, of the Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers, Says He Was Fined on Malicious and False Statements.

Attorney A. L. Cramer, on behalf of George Weiss, a member of the Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers' union, has brought suit for slander against William Neuhahn, Jr., another member of the union, raising a question involving the right of a labor organization to try and fine its members for a violation of its rules and regulations, on the testimony of other members who have not been sworn to the truth or falsity of their statements.

Weiss asks for $5,000 damages. He states that he has always been a true and loyal member of the union, has never been guilty of "scabbing," and never suspected of being guilty of a violation of the rules and regulations or by-laws of the union.

Through this he maintains that he has always deserved the favor, good will and esteem of the members of the union and the neighbors and friends to whom he was known; that the defendant, knowing this, but contriving and maliciously intending to deprive him of this esteem and credit and bring him under the penalty of the laws of the union against such offenders, did on August 7, 1902, in the presence of numerous of his friends and fellow citizens, falsely and unjustly say: "You did work overtime at regular rates when you should have received the union scale, which is more than regular rates, and which action was against the rules and by-laws of the union."

He also alleges that Neuhahn accused him of starting to work at 6 a. m., which was against the rules and by-laws of the union, and also of having "scabbed."

The union, because of this remark, set a day for a trial upon the charges thus made, and by reason of such false and malicious utterances on the part of the defendant Weiss declares he was found guilty on unsworn testimony and subjected to a fine and penalty, and that several of the members of his fellow-workmen have since wholly refused to have any transaction or acquaintance with him.

PLEADED SELF-DEFENSE.

Testimony All Taken in Murder Case Against Moriello—Other Criminal Court News.

The testimony in the case of Guiseppi Moriello, on trial in criminal court for the murder of Antonio Valle, was concluded yesterday afternoon. The defendant's attorneys, W. H. S. Thompson and John D. Watson, addressed the jury, after which court adjourned. This morning District Attorney Haymaker will address the jury.

The defendant's plea was self-defense. He said that the day before the shooting Valle spat twice in his face and threatened to kill him. The defendant also claimed that just previous to the time he fired the shot Valle placed his hand on his hip as if to draw a revolver. Several witnesses who testified Monday that they had seen the shooting were recalled in hopes that the fact that Valle had attempted to draw a revolver before the prisoned committed the deed could be proved, but without success.

Martin Berger pleaded no defense to a charge of larceny in Judge Collier's branch of the criminal court. He was accused of stealing a diamond and pearl brooch, valued at $75, from John J. Murphy and was sentenced to the workhouse for 10 months.

Leonard McTaggert pleaded guilty to stealing iron pipes from the city of Pittsburgh and was sent to the workhouse for one year. James Fay was sent to the workhouse for 15 days for stealing $42 from J. P. Wilson.

FEAR PROXY VOTES.

Bill in Equity Filed Against Keystone Copper and Gold Mining Company.

A bill in equity was filed yesterday by S. Strassburger, E. W. Day, S. S. Lindsey and J. W. Smith against the Keystone Copper and Gold Mining Company, in common pleas court No. 3. According to the statement made to the court, there is some fear that a certain stockholder will go into a meeting of the stockholders of the company and vote certain stock by proxy.

The attorney for the petitioners was energetic in his actions to keep the bill from being made public, as it was given to a clerk with the understanding that no one should see it.

The court made a preliminary order restraining the defendant from holding any meeting of the stockholders for the purpose of electing officers or for any other purpose, until further order of the court. A hearing will be held Saturday at 9:30 a. m.

SISTER SUES BROTHER

Mrs. Ella J. W. Hutchinson Asks $20,000 Damages From J. H. Wallace, Alleging Slander.

A statement was filed yesterday in common pleas court No. 2, in the case of Mrs. Ella J. Wallace Hutchinson against John H. Wallace, her brother, for $20,000 for slander. It is charged that the defendant caused to be published a certain statement which is taken to mean that the plaintiff was cruel and disrespectful to her father, Joseph Wallace, deceased. The plaintiff is the wife of Robert B. Hutchinson.

The statement referred to is as follows: "His father was a true, just man (meaning Joseph Wallace, the father of the defendant,), but he was a dear lover of peace at home and oft-times he was compelled to sacrifice justice in order to secure peace. His father's only heirs were a son and daughter, and the relations between them were not always agreeable. His will divided the whole homestead in equal shares, in acreage, between them, with all of the buildings on the daughter's side of the line, and both shares for an indefinite period came under the direction of the daughter, and she has received every penny of the products for 12 years. Understanding the situation in all of its causes and bearings, a kinsman stepped in and bought a beautiful farm in the suburbs of Washington, Pa., erected upon it a commodious and handsome building and delivered John and his family from a life of servitude." Attorney John C. Bane represents the plaintiff.

Quite a crowd had collected, but, owing to the size of the stock, only houses with sufficient facilities to handle so large and fine a collection of goods, could bid. SOCIETY

ONE of the prettiest weddings of the fall season was solemnized last night in Christ Methodist Episcopal church, Aiken and Center avenues, when Miss Lyda Isabel Bushfield, daughter of George T. Bushfield of Stratford avenue, was married to Clarence W. Close. The ceremony took place at 7:30 o'clock and was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Joseph Horner, grandfather of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Dr. E. A. Blake. The church was prettily decorated, the pulpit and chancel being a shimmering green bank of palms. People began to gather early and when the time for the ceremony arrived the church was crowded.

The wedding procession was led up the aisle by two daintily gowned little maids, who were the gate openers. The bridal party followed slowly to the strains of the wedding music from Lohengrin. The two little maids were Letty Fleming Close and Elizabeth Brown Brunett. When they reached the floral gates in front of the altar they threw them open to permit the bridal party to pass.

Miss Jean Stone, a daughter of Gov. William A. Stone, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Eva Morris of Cleveland, Miss Ida May Flaccus, Miss Ella Bigelow Casket, Miss Helene V. Hill, Miss Clarissa Norton McCracken, Miss May Isabel Schildecker and Miss Lillian A. Close. Little Elizabeth Close Johnston acted as flower girl. Clifton H. Close served as his brother's best man. The ushers were William Brendlinger of Philadelphia, George Rowland, Howard D. Close, Albert E. Kirk, Harry Wood, Charles H. McCracken and Frank Jones Kier.

The bride was given away by her father. She wore a beautiful gown of white mousseline over white silk, with a court train, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore white gowns, with a touch of green, and carried white asters. The groom is a well-known business man of the firm of Dauler, Close & Johns. A reception at the Bushfield home followed the wedding. The house was prettily decorated, the prevailing colors being yellow and white. After an extended wedding tour Mr. Close and his wife will be at home after November 15.

Pretty East End Wedding.

Another very pretty wedding was solemnized in the North Highland Presbyterian church last evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Eleanor Mae Scott, daughter of Robert Scott of North St. Clair street, was married to William McCune of Hazelwood. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. P. Cheseman, pastor of the church, and was attended by many friends of the bride and groom. The bride was given away by her father. Miss Luella Scott acted as her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Lee and Miss Jean Bunton. J. H. Blackburn was best man, and the ushers were Robert J. Coyle, Jr., Frederick McCune, Harry Hamilton and William H. Francis.

The color scheme for the wedding was green and white. The chancel of the church was decorated with clusters of white asters, palms, ferns and smilax. The same scheme was carried out at the Scott home, where a reception and supper was held immediately after the ceremony. Miss Scott wore a white gown of chiffon over taffeta, trimmed with duchesse lace. Her bridal veil was fastened with white ostrich tips, and she carried a shower bouquet of white bride's roses. The maid of honor wore a gown of white lace over white taffeta, and carried maidenhair fern and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids wore handsome gowns of green liberty silk over taffeta of the same shade, and carried shower bouquets of white roses. The bride and groom will take a three weeks' wedding trip to Old Point Comfort, and will be at home after November 1, at No. 307 South avenue, Wilkinsburg.

Blair, Mrs. Wallace Muzzy, Mrs. Edward D. Gilmore, Mrs. Henry Campbell, Mrs. DeWitt B. Nettleton, Mrs. Frank G. Paulson, Mrs. Darwin S. Wolcott and Mrs. Edward Agnew. About 75 couples were in attendance.

Miss Rebecca Taylor, who will be Miss Agnew's maid of honor, was hostess at a very pretty card party at her home in Bank street, Sewickley, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The affair was in honor of Miss Agnew, whose marriage occurs on Thursday of this week, and about 50 guests were present, including the bridal party for the wedding. The game was six-hand domino whist, eight tables being set on the large veranda. Large bunches of goldenrod were everywhere present, which, with the palms on the porch, presented a pleasing appearance.

This evening Mrs. Edward Agnew gives a handsome dinner for her daughter and the bridal party, after which there will be a wedding rehearsal at the church.

FREE TO MILLIONS.

A Valuable Little Book Sent Free for the Asking.

Medical books are not always interesting reading, especially to people enjoying good health, but as a matter of fact scarcely one person in ten is perfectly healthy, and even with such, sooner or later sickness must come.

It is also a well established truth that nine-tenths of all diseases originate with a breaking down of the digestion, a weak stomach weakens and impoverishes the system, making it easy for disease to gain a foothold.

Nobody need fear consumption, kidney disease, liver trouble or a weak heart and nervous system as long as the digestion is good and the stomach able to assimilate plenty of wholesome food.

Stomach weakness shows itself in a score of ways and this little book describes the symptoms and causes and points the way to a cure so simple that anyone can understand and apply.

Thousands have some form of stomach trouble and do not know it. They ascribe the headaches, the languor, nervousness, insomnia, palpitation, constipation and similar symptoms to some other cause than the true one. Get your digestion on the right track and the heart trouble, lung trouble, liver disease or nervous debility will rapidly disappear.

This little book treats entirely on the cause and removal of indigestion and its accompanying annoyances.

It describes the symptoms of Acid Dyspepsia, Nervous Dyspepsia, Slow Dyspepsia, Amylaceous Dyspepsia, Catarrh of the Stomach and all affections of the digestive organs in plain language easily understood and the cause removed.

It gives valuable suggestions as to diet, and contains a table giving length of time required to digest various articles of food, something every person with weak digestion should know.

No price is asked, but simply send your name and address plainly written on postal card to the F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich., requesting a little book on Stomach Diseases and it will be sent promptly by return mail.

STEEL COMPANY MUST EVACUATE USURPED GROUND

River Interests Gain Victory Over Jones & Laughlins' Steel Company.

AN EXPENSE OF $300,000 MAY BE ENTAILED

It Must Remove and Rebuild Coke Ovens, Tear Up Tracks and Blast Out Acres of Slag to Get Outside of Harbor Lines.

Through the efforts of Capt. William L. Sibert, government engineer at Pittsburgh, the river interests have gained a victory over one of the great steel industries of this section. The Jones & Laughlin Steel Company has agreed to observe a new harbor line established by government engineers at their Soho furnaces, coke plant and other interests about lock No. 1 on the Monongahela river.

To do this it will be necessary for them to excavate a strip half a mile long and from 40 to 80 feet wide along the river bank, which they have filled up with slag; do away with two railroad tracks in their yards at that point, and tear down a string of coke ovens. The excavation of over 30,000 cubic yards of slag will be the most difficult and expensive features of the job. The expense of removing the ovens, excavating and rebuilding is estimated at $300,000.

The original harbor line at that point, established many years ago, was from 30 to 80 feet from low water mark. By successive steps the big independent steel corporation gradually extended its plant far over this line, and in many places 120 feet out into the harbor.

Filled Space Solid Iron.

On this made ground a good portion of the present yards at the plant and the coking plant were built. In filling, Jones & Laughlins evidently did not expect that they would be ousted, for practically the whole work of excavation will have to be done by blasting.

This site reclaimed from the river is retained by successive walls of slag built by hand. It was filled in with fine coal, ashes and furnace refuse, and over the surface were poured tons and tons of molten slag. As a result the surface is practically of solid iron and this improvised cement ran down through the whole mass underneath, rendering the use of dynamite and powerful explosives the only possible method of removing it.

Capt. Sibert, on coming to Pittsburgh, noticed the usurpation of harbor space and discovered that the original harbor line was far inside of a great part of the plant, but that it was also some distance from the low water mark.

He promptly established a new harbor line, 42 feet from low water and notified the Jones & Laughlins interests that they were occupying public property.

The matter was adjusted without great difficulty, a threat to fight the matter in the courts having been met by a counter-threat to fight for the original harbor line. After several conferences the big steel corporation agreed to remove, within two years, its tracks and coking plant and to excavate the slag that had been used to fill in the harbor.

Misunderstanding the Cause.

Willis L. King, the executive head of the Jones & Laughlins Steel Company, said last night: "I understand that we did occupy some space inside the harbor line at that point, through a misunderstanding as to the location of the line, and we have arranged to vacate it.

"The end of one string of coke ovens is on this territory, and there may be a railroad siding or two. The most serious part of the work will be excavating the slag. We have two years to remove our ovens and tracks and dig out this slag. As winter is coming on, and it is likely to be a rather tedious job, we will hardly begin work on it until spring.

"I can give no estimate on the amount it will cost us. We intend to clean up the place and leave it in the same shape we found it. But for a misapprehension, we would never have occupied it."

STANDARD OIL MONEY HURRIES TO THE RESCUE

The Money Situation Easier Average Call Rate Falling to 8 Per Cent.

ALMOST TEN MILLIONS OF FOREIGN GOLD

Speculators Who Bit on Reading Now Unloading at a Loss. Steel Plate Trade Flourishing as Never Before.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 16.—The monetary situation eased considerably today. The average rate for call money was only 8 per cent. The highest was only 15 per cent. Actual engagements of gold for import amount now to about $6,750,000, and sundry conditional engagements bring the total up to nearly $10,000,000. None of this, of course, will reach Wall street in time to help out this week, but the sentimental influence of its being on the way is something to count upon.

Liquidation of Reading.

The recent weakness of Reading stocks in the market has been explained by rumors that the operators are weakening. President Baer of the Reading positively repudiated this suggestion today. After the meeting of the anthracite coaler presidents he said that in the meeting it was unanimously agreed not to recede a jot from the points already taken. The position of the operators, Mr. Baer said, has not changed in the least, while, on the other hand, he asserts, fresh evidence is every day at hand to show that the miners are weakening.

In point of fact, the recent weakness of Reading has been due largely, if not wholly, to speculative causes. A fortnight ago Reading stocks were the whole market, the transactions for several days being so tremendous as to convince many stock market people that control of the property really was passing, or had passed. It turned out to be pure manipulation. When it ceased a large and disgusted pool following found itself loaded down with very dear Reading. Liquidation for that account is still in progress.

Steel Plate Prices.

The steel plate trade continues to flourish as it never flourished before. Although the United Steel Corporation's prices are considerably lower than those of independent concerns, even it has been forced by the irresistible trend of the trade to depart from the old pool schedule.

The Carnegie company recently booked an order of 12,000 tons for the Patterson (N. J.) water works, and on this contract it made a price of $1.78 a hundred pounds, which is the old pool price, but that figure was quoted only because the deliveries in this instance can be made every once in a while. No arbitrary dates are fixed. The Carnegie company also has booked contracts for the steel plate needed on several vessels now building in the Brooklyn navy yard, and on this business it gets $1.98 a hundred pounds. Even this is considered by the trade to be a very low price, especially in view of the fact that it is government work.

The independent companies are quoting for steel plates at New York a "bare" price of $2.08 a hundred pounds and a maximum of $2.50 has been obtained on small lots that were needed in a hurry. A prominent steel plate manufacturer said today that the Carnegie company and some others probably would be willing to book orders for delivery in April, May or June of next year at the base pool price, but they are not underbidding each other for any future business. Business comes to them, and they take their choice of it. Most of the larger companies are booked to the maximum of their capacity for six months ahead. There is no sign anywhere of an abatement of the demand.

Hard to Conservative on Steel.

The general steel situation was never before so encouraging. The pool is no longer a factor in the trade. Its authority is suspended. It maintains its existence, however, and can be called into active life again as soon as trade conditions create a need for it.

The attitude of the United States Steel Corporation still is one of resistance to higher prices, but with big independent rivals, getting such fancy prices for their steel plate products, and with consumers begging it to take business, it is hard for the combine to quote prices under $2 a hundred pounds.

Improvements Will Be Made.

It was reported in Wall street today that in view of the heavy earnings of the United States Steel Corporation, that part of the plan of the stock conversion involving an additional issue of $50,000,000 of new securities would be abandoned.

Officials of the corporation gave emphatic denial to the report, saying they were going ahead with their estimate and that the work on the new plants contemplated would begin just as soon as a final decision was reached by the New Jersey courts in the steel litigation is understood that even in the event of an unfavorable decision the corporation will go ahead with its contemplated improvements and additions, taking the money required from the surplus. It is figured that the operations of the steel combine for the current year will add something like $50,000,000 to surplus account.

New Beef Trust.

Notwithstanding the persistent reports from Chicago that the packing combination is well under way, very little information concerning the talked-of consolidation can be obtained in this city. Banking houses that are usually identified with the formation of big corporations say they know nothing concerning the deal. They say they have not been asked for financial assistance; in fact, have not even been approached by representatives of the packing concerns. While it is admitted that negotiations looking toward a consolidation of packing interests have been on for some time, it is claimed that the deal has not progressed far enough to justify the statement that it will be carried to a successful conclusion.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—A correspondent at Nelson, B. C., writes that steady improvement is noted everywhere in that section. The X Referendum is putting in a five-stamp mill and extra men are at work on the Poorman-Granite and Molly Gibson, which are showing up well. Silver lead shipments are increasing, but profits are small. A boom is reported in the placer camp at Wild Horse creek, and concentrating works are being installed at the Estella, on Tracey creek.

Assays across the latest breast of ore in the Samson, at Bingham, Utah, showed 13.3 per cent copper, 12.6 ounces silver, $1 20 gold and about 38 per cent iron excess.

Developments in the Highland Boy are said to demonstrate that the north channel, recently opened, is 50 feet between walls with a solid filling of ore. Recent measurements show about 1,250,000 tons of ore blocked out in the property.

The starting of the Mother Lode smelter at Greenwood, B. C., and blowing in of the Sunset plant at Boundary Falls have put new life into the Boundary country.

On the Powell and Manchus of the Black Rock Company, near Wickenburg, Ariz., a four-foot pay streak is exposed which averages $12 in free milling gold.

The Portland at Cripple Creek is outputting at the rate of 8,000 tons a month.

An important strike has occurred in the Brim group at Park City, Utah. In a vein six feet between walls there is a three-foot streak that assays from 20 to 240 ounces silver, 50 per cent lead, 2.4 per cent copper and $2 40 gold a ton.

The large dredge of the Northern Gold Mining Company has been floated on Beaver creek, near Delta, Ida., and will begin mining operations next week.

The Metal Market.

Copper in the local market was weak and lower today, as a result it was reported of liberal offerings, light demand and an increased production. According to today's compilation the production for the month of August was 25,296 tons, as against 22,667 tons for the same month in 1901. For the eight months of the current year the production was 192,493 tons, comparing with 178,046 tons for the same period last year. The market here closed at $11 00@11 50 for standard; $11 75@12 00 for lake; $11 65@11 75 for electrolytic; $11 60@11 70 for casting. The London market was 2s 6d lower, spot closing at £53 7s 6d and futures at £53 11s 6d. Tin here was weak, closing at $26 50@26 65, and the London market declined 5s, closing with spot at £122 5s and futures at £117 10s. Lead was steady, closing here at $4 12½ and in London at £10 18s 9d. The demand for spelter continues light and the tone of the market is more or less nominal at $5 50 for spot. London closed unchanged at £19 7s 6d. The local market for pig iron ruled steady and unchanged. Warrants nominal. No. 1 foundry, northern, $23 00@25 00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $22 00@23 00; No. 1 foundry, southern, soft, $22 00@23 00. Glasgow closed higher at 58s 4d and Middlesboro unchanged at 53s 7½d.

Tension in the Money Market Is Somewhat Relaxed

SALES ARE SLOW IN WALL STREET IN ALL STOCKS

Lack of Cash Still Shows Repressive Influence in Dealing in Securities.

GOLD IS NOW COMING FROM ABROAD

More People Take Advantage of Advance Payment of Interest on Government Bonds—Quick Recovery in Sterling Exchange.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.

New York, Sept. 16.—The tension of the money market was somewhat relaxed today and stocks responded with a straggling recovery, but the repressive effect of the money situation was demonstrated by the subsidence of activity in the market, the volume of dealings falling below 500,000 shares for the first time in several weeks. Late yesterday it became known that $2,500,000 of gold in transit from South Africa to London had been secured for New York. This failed to reassure sentiment immediately and prices of stocks declined during the morning. St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville, Reading, Norfolk & Western and Wabash fell a point or over when an opening money rate of 13 per cent was reported. A relapse to 10 per cent was followed by a rally, and when the rate fell to 6 per cent in the afternoon recoveries were general and the Gould group, the Wisconsin Central stocks, Amalgamated Copper and some of the independent steel companies were notably strong. The report of an additional shipment of $1,250,000 in gold from Australia of $1,000,000 from London tomorrow and of the arrival at San Francisco today of a $700,000 instalment helped to reassure sentiment.

Recovery in Exchange.

There was a prompt recovery in sterling exchange in response to the gold engagement and discount rates hardened in London and Berlin, following yesterday's lead by Paris. Further gold imports were thereby rendered unprofitable. The conviction grows that foreign gold supplies must be looked to for relief of the New York market. In this connection it is interesting to note that the great foreign reserve banks are well equipped to meet such a demand. The gold in the Bank of France is nearly $40,000,000 greater than a year ago. Its note circulation has expanded over $15,000,000 in the same time, but its discounts and advances are $7,500,000 less. The Imperial bank of Germany has over $12,000,000 gold more than a year ago, while its discounts and advances have been reduced upward of $50,000,000 and its note circulation is also slightly less.

More Taking Interest.

The presentation of checks to the subtreasury for the anticipated government interest were much larger today than yesterday, but their effect on the money market was again counteracted by the deposit at the sub-treasury of $400,000 for transfer to New Orleans. Although the applications at Washington for government deposits are reported to have taken up all of the available $4,200,000 of free government bonds, it is evident that none of this increase of deposits will come to New York, while the eagerness of outside points to secure the deposits is cited as evidence that the urgent demand for money is by no means localized in New York.

The bond market was dull and irregular in sympathy with stocks, steadying after early heaviness. Total sales, par value, $3,335,000. United States new 4s advanced ½ and the old 4s ⅝ per cent on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Par value of bonds sold $3,335,000.

United States bonds take on slight advance.

Money stringency still holds back all stocks, though tension is somewhat relaxed.

Gold from abroad to the amount of several millions is announced as on the way.

Pennsylvania railroad shares take on slight recovery.

United States Steel common shows a slight decline, while the preferred advances.

Talked About in Wall Street

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Herald this (Wednesday) morning says: Professional sentiment in Wall street was favorably influenced yesterday by the announcement of gold engagements actual or prospective, and the slightly easier tendency of call money. Prices recovered throughout the list and dealing which were entirely of a pool and clique character on the operations of traders. There was no public buying, and in fact, this was openly discouraged by brokers, as it has been ever since the money market assumed a threatening attitude.

The high rates of money have naturally made speculation a very expensive operation for most brokers, who are now averaging the rate they have to pay for money and charging their customers accordingly. Interest charges on high-priced stocks now run up to heavy amounts.

The contraction of business was a marked feature of the day, transactions falling off to the smallest total in a number of weeks. The theory prevailed quite generally in the street that the important interests were counseling a waiting policy for the present and until the money situation is cleared up. Such movements as did occur in the market were not regarded as having much significance, but they served the purpose of checking the liquidation which was present on Monday, and steadied the general list.

A sharp decline in St. Paul on selling by Flower & Co. attracted considerable attention. The movement was unexplained by any news developments, unless it was to be found in the unfavorable bulletin telling of damage in the corn crop of the northern section. The street, however, generally attributed the selling to the closing out of some pool stock. On the decline the trading element took the stock and were responsible for the recovery.

In the traction list Manhattan was the strongest feature, and, in fact, it was one of the leading stocks of the entire market in point of strength. Metropolitan Street Railway, on the contrary, developed weakness on comparatively small transactions, selling down to 144, the lowest point at which it has sold since the stock was placed on a guaranteed dividend basis of 7 per cent. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was neglected.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—There is a quiet movement in wool that amounts to considerable volume when all is put together. The feeling is that prices are hardening and that wool not sold today will be wanted tomorrow. Leading wool dealers say that they feel very easy about the market, that it is easy to sell wool and at full prices. Fine territories are especially firm, with wools of a medium grade well held. There is a fair movement going on. Fine staple territories, 55@56c; strictly fine, 53@55c; fine and fine medium, 50@52c; medium, 43@46c. It is thought that the very high position to which Texas wool has advanced may have checked trade somewhat, but holders are none the less strong in their ideas, with offerings very light. Fall cleaned basis nominal, 45@48c; 12 months, 55@58c; 6 to 8 months, spring, 52@55c. California wool is in pretty steady request, with a firm market. Northern county cleaned basis, 53@55c; middle counties, 48@50c; southern, 45@47c; 6 to 8 mons, 13@14lbs. Fine washed fleeces are especially firm. Ohio and Pennsylvania xxx nominal, 30@31c; xx and above, 28½@29c; x, 26@27c; Michigan x, 25@26c. Delaine wool continues very firm, with offerings limited. Ohio and Pennsylvania washed Delaine, 31@32c; No. 1, 30@31c; No. 2, 22@30c; coarse, 24@26c. Here Australian wool is so firm as to be almost out of the question. The little offering is held too highly for the trade. In case a manufacturer must have Australian wool he has to pay the price. Combing, choice scoured basis, 75@78c; good, 72@74c; average, 70@72c.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Coffee futures opened steady, with prices 5 to 10 points lower, and later showed no improvement in speculative business over recent extreme dullness, the market ruling flat most of the day. After midday prices worked up a little on a light demand from bull leaders and in the absence of offerings, the market finally being steady, net unchanged to 5 points lower. Europe sent bearish cables; primary markets were featureless; the crop movement while comparing bullishly with a year ago, attracted little attention. Total sales were 15,750 bags, including September at 5.25c; October at 5.25c; December at 5.40@5.45c; January at 5.50c; May at 5.80@5.85c; July at 5.95c. Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The demand for drygoods from the home trade showed no material change today. A good supply of orders was reported for quick deliveries, but there was not much forward buying. Prices were firm. In print cloths the demand was mainly for wide goods and 38½-inch 50.15-yard standards were firm at 4 1-16c. The export demand was fair, but home prices were too high for much business.

Pennsylvania Trust made a new high record at $255 50.

United States Steel closed at 40 and the preferred at 90.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was quite an irregular affair, and but for one or two issues which were unusually active, would have been duller than for some time. The feature of the day was in the banking group and American Window Glass common, the first named closing generally strong for a majority of its members, while the last was weak, nervous and unsettled. In the banking group the sensation (for there have been sensations nearly every day for the last two weeks) was in Real Estate Trust Company. This stock opened at $300, a gain of 50 cents a share and a new high record; then it advanced several points in a hurry and reacted to $299 50, which was the lowest of the day. Subsequently it bounded up again from 1 to 2 and 3 points at a time to $321 and finally closed quite firm at $315, with $315 50 bid. The gain for the day was $15 50 per share and the sales 778 shares. This is the heaviest trading witnessed in the stock in many months, if not since it was placed upon the board of the exchange. There were various rumors current on the street to account for the advance, but President D. P. Black pronounces them all absolutely without any foundation in fact or basis whatever. One of these rumors was that A. W. Mellon would enter the directorate of the Real Estate Trust Company and that Mr. Black would enter that of the Union Trust Company. Another was that the Real Estate Trust Company was perfecting closer affiliations of a business nature with the Union Trust Company, and still another that the Real Estate Trust Company was contemplating the absorption of some other financial institutions in the city. To questions regarding the truthfulness of any of these matters Mr. Black said: "It is all news to me. There is not a word of truth in it. There is absolutely no deal of any kind on or contemplated." Commenting upon the advance on the stock President Black said: "It was all a surprise to me, and I do not know why the movement has been brought about unless the traders in it think the stock is too cheap in comparison with the stocks of similar institutions." The greatest gain for the stock yesterday was $21 50 a share, which, considering that there are 20,000 shares in the company's capital, was an increase for the day in the valuation the plungers place upon the stock of $430,000, or nearly one-fourth of the capital stock at its par value. In connection with the rumors associating this company with the Union Trust Company, there was a bid of $1,750 a share for Union Trust Company stock. This was an advance of $100 for the day and the highest price ever bid for a local banking stock. It also added another $100,000 to the market value of the company's capital. Federal National bank was firm and $8 higher at $145, which is a new high record. The close was firm at $144 50, leaving the gain for the day of $2 50. Dollar Savings Fund & Trust of Allegheny opened $5 higher at $280, a new high record, but closed unchanged at $2 75. Pennsylvania Title & Trust also made a new high record at $255 50, but closed unchanged at $255. Merchants & Manufacturers National bank advanced $6 to $140 50 and closed at $141 bid. Pittsburgh Trust was $5 lower at $720 and South Side Trust lost $2 at $108. In the quotations Peoples National bank advanced to $397 bid, and Fifth Avenue bank to $74 75 bid, both being new high records. Iron City National bank also advanced 1½ to $127 50 bid.

In the industrials American Window Glass Company common sold 4,655 shares. It opened at 61¼ and under heavy pressure declined to 59½, the lowest price in weeks. Just before the close it rallied to 60, finishing at that price without bids and offers. The decline for the day was 1½. The slump was attributed to the belief that all hopes for an harmonious arrangement of the trade might as well be abandoned. The preferred stock was not dealt in. The steel issues were rather quiet and, except Crucible preferred, somewhat easier. The exception was firmer and ⅛ higher, while the other issues each declined that much. Westinghouse Electric seconds were dull and ¼ lower in the selling price, but ⅝ higher as compared with the closing offer of Monday. Westinghouse Airbrake was dull and unchanged. The coal shares were quite dull, but about steady, the changes being insignificant. Brewing preferred was firmer and fractionally higher. Fort Pitt Natural Gas advanced ½ to 59 bid, a new high record. Bonds were not dealt in.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers:

Henry Sproul has returned from a trip east.

J. P. Mahan sold Federal National bank at 144 and 144½.

Robinson Bros. sold Pittsburgh Trust at 720, a decline of 5, to Bems & Reilly.

The New York banks have lost nearly $1,000,000 to the sub-treasury since Friday.

$1,250,000 gold is coming to New York, from Australia to Seligman & Co. It is due October 6.

Miller was a large seller of Pittsburgh Coal preferred to Hill & Co., and the latter sold to Robinson Bros.

Preston, Watt & Schoyer bought 100 Crucible Steel common at hte opening from E. D. Gariner & Co.

The first sale of the day was 90 Crucible Steel preferred at 87⅞, and the last 10 Real Estate Trust Company at 315.

$700,000 gold has arrived at San Francisco for a New York firm. A telegraphic transfer to New York will probably be made.

The heaviest seller of Window Glass was Humphries Miller. Sproul & Co. and Lawrence & Co. were also large sellers. Hall, Schoyer, Hill, Kuhn and Lawrence were large buyers.

Edmund C. Converse of New York, who has been elected a director of the Cramp Shipbuilding Company, is a director of the United States Steel Company and the Colonial Trust Company of this city.

Dollar Savings Fund and Trust made a new high record at the opening at 280, but at the close Miller sold a block of 100 shares to A. J. Lawrence & Co. at 275. This was an unusually large single trade for a banking stock.

A Wall street broker wired: There is every reason to expect that high rates for money will prevail the balance of September, and while of course we give clients the benefit of our time money still the average will be unusually high and they should advise their customers what to expect.

Holmes & Sons opened the "ball" in Real Estate Trust Company by selling 80 shares at 300. Then it went down to 299½. Carothers buying from Wettengel. Carothers sold at 321, the highest, and the stock broke to 315 at the windup. R. C. Hall sold less than 100 and bought 225 after 10:30 a. m. The other trading was widely scattered.

It is said that the directors of the Fidelity Title and Trust Company have decided to double the company's capital stock by issuing 10,000 new shares at $300 a share, and that action will be taken in about two months. The increase will make the capital $2,000,000 and the surplus and undivided profits $3,000,000. Official confirmation was impossible to obtain.

The prospectus of the new Marsden Fire Proofing Construction Company shows the capital of $2,500,000 is divided into $750,000 7 per cent preferred and $1,750,000 common. The company will manufacture a system of fire-proof construction. The new company will be closely identified with the United States Shipbuilding Company. The directors are: Lewis Nixon, president of the United States Shipbuilding Company; J. Maxwell Carere, E. A. Corbin, Mark W. Marsden, Myndert A. Vosburg, Augustus D. Romain and K. K. McLaren.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Big Receipts of Potatoes Force Prices Down — Cereals Likely to Go Up.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

The grain market was very quiet yesterday, the receipts falling off as usual after the two-day run that comes in on Monday. In all 32 cars were received, of which 20 were of hay. There is no surplus stock to speak of in the yards and the demand for the best grades of hay continues to be good.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania lines, 2 cars oats, 6 cars hay, 1 car rye. Lake Erie railroad, 9 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 2 cars straw; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 5 cars hay, 3 cars straw, 2 cars oats. Total receipts, 32 cars.

Following are the official quotatoins for hay, millfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Groceries.

There is a feeling among dealers that cereals will advance in price soon, especially those manufactured from oats. The crop of oats over the country is exceptionally large, but the quality, on account of the heavy rains, is much below the average. As soon as the new crop is fairly in the hands of the manufacturers, it is expected that they will raise the price of their products, for according to reliable reports it will be very hard to secure grain good enough for the dainty breakfast dishes. The rise, if it comes, will affect oatmeal and rolled oats most. The price of the latter has already advanced 75 cents a barrel from the low point it reached late in August, till it stands firm now at $5 a barrel.

Fruits and Produce.

The arrivals of 26 cars of potatoes yesterday made the market weaker and sent the price down. Rose potatoes dropped 5 cents a bushel and Jersey sweets 25 cents a barrel. Reports from some sections indicate that the crop is a disappointment, but these have had no visible effect on the market in this city. Damson plums, for which there has been a good call the last few days, advanced 50 cents, standing now at $2 50 to $3 a bushel. Home-grown peas came down 10 cents to $1 65 and $2.

The Horse Market.

The horse market was off a trifle yesterday, prices ruling from $10 to $15 a head lower than last Tuesday. About 250 horses were offered for sale. These were disposed of at prices averaging considerably less than $150 a head. Three car loads of horses came from Indiana, one from Ohio and one from Illinois. More drivers were sold than for several weeks. The best sellers were good draft horses, a good number of which went to a Baltimore buyer. As a rule the sales were slow and the market lacked the spirit that it manifested last week. The receipts of mules are increasing, 80 head having arrived from Missouri this week. The demand for these is good and most of them find sale among the local firms.

Lower Prices for Grains in Chicago

FINE WEATHER PROVES TOO GOOD BEAR ARGUMENT

Offerings Light and Good Cash Demand Prevents Heavy Slump in Prices.

YET SOME FEAR OF LEGAL COMPLICATIONS

Dealers Have Not Got Over the Blow Struck Oats Corner in Injunction Case—Wheat Cables Are Weak—Provisions Quiet.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Grain trade today was irregular. In the main conditions were against prices. The fine weather brought about natural selling in both corn and wheat, with some activity on the bulges. Doubt over frost damage, however, and the possibility that the northwest would use much of its wheat instead of moving it, helped to retard declines. The nearby options could not stand under the selling as well as the later futures, and in the end September wheat closed ⅜c lower, December wheat ⅛c down, September corn ⅞c off, December corn ¼@⅜c lower, September oats ⅜c off, and December oats ⅛@¼c down. January provisions closed 12½c to 17½@20c down.

Wheat started out weak on cables that did not respond to yesterday's local advance and on the warm weather and prospects of better northwest receipts. The weather in particular was bearish in that it favored a good movement of spring wheat. Offerings, however, were light. There was a good cash demand, rains were predicted and the estimated receipts for tomorrow were much curtailed, compared with receipts today. This stopped selling in the late deliveries, and to aid in the check came the advice that the northwest did not intend selling much stuff here.

Trade Is Kept Down.

Trade was not large in the aggregate, and the late scattering purchases helped matters. There was still some fear over the result of the decision in the oats injunction cases, and long September wheat came out. September opened ⅝c off, at 73c, sold at 73¼c, and and closed weak ⅜c off, at 72⅝c. December sold from 68⅛c to 68⅜c, advanced to 69¼c and closed easy, ⅛c lower, at 68⅝c. Local receipts were 421 cars, 15 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 1,060 cars, making a total for the three points of 1,481 cars against 1,215 cars last week and 1,841 a year ago. Primary receipts were 1,888,000 bushels against 2,000,000 bushels last year.

Fear of damage to the crop was practically the only bullish feature of the corn market, for receipts were improved, the weather was favorable to the movement and the crop and the cables were indifferent.

Crop Report Influence.

The government crop report indicated damage in the northern part of the corn belt, and rains were predicted to hurt the crop still further. Offerings were light until late in the session when there was a drive in September which pressed prices down. September sold from 58⅜c to a weak close, ⅞c down, at 58c. December sold from 53¼c to 43⅜@43⅛c, and closed weak, ¼@⅜c off, at 43⅜@43½c. Receipts were 480 cars, 108 of contract grade.

Trade in oats fell off to an almost imperceptible volume. Prices fluctuations were very narrow, and there was no conspicuous buying or selling. September closed weak, ⅜c off, at 33⅛c. December sold between 30⅞c and 31¼c, and closed weaker, ⅛@¼c off, at 31c. Receipts were 290 cars.

Provisions were quiet. Hogs ruled lower and influenced products bearishly. The outside made some sharp selling raids at the prices. The result was a weak close with January pork 17½@20c off, at $15 00; January lard, 15@17½c down, at $8 50@8 52½, and January ribs 12½c lower, at $7 87½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 185 cars; corn, 160 cars; oats, 160 cars; hogs, 27,000 head.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

Missouri Pacific seems to be on tap above 121.

Keene is bullish on Southern Pacific and Union Pacific.

The Butler crowd seems to have gone from Metropolitan to Manhattan.

It takes a week to make people sell stocks, but about eight minutes to rally them.

Keene brokers have been buying the market this afternoon and I think it will sell higher today.

It would seem good judgment to sell Baltimore & Ohio short on the strong days. It is a 4 per cent stock selling at 114 in a tight money market, with a new issue of $42,000,000 shortly coming out. Unless there is a decided easing up of money rates, which is improbable, this is bound to depress the stock, for many will sell their privelege instead of subscribing to the new issues.

Hold Pacifics, Eries, soft coalers and on all set backs take on either Louisville & Nashville or some Illinois Central. Give your attention to Rock Island new 4s, United States Realty and Oregon Short Line participating stocks. Rockefellers advise their friends and followings not to let go of stocks since a big bull market will come along later. Gas stocks, tractions and Sugar may be bought conservatively.—Josephs.

We advise our friends to take small profits where they appear and wait for a more propitious time before increasing their commitments. As we said last night our information on Amalgamated Copper is of a very favorable character, and we believe that it will be among the first to have a good advance. The small amount of bonds that come out in Wabash debentures when the market is weak justifies our position on these bonds. We believe that all the Wabashes will do much better.—Lounsbery.

The Treasury and the Banks.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the Seattle assay office, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $19,164. Total thus paid since Friday, $18,153, against $275,714 for the same period a week ago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $3,764,000. Payment by banks to government, $4,221,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $457,000, paid by banks to government. Total net payment by banks to government since Friday, $961,000, against $3,970,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago. Included in the foregoing summary is $300,000 deposited by banks with the sub-treasury for payment at interior points. Total thus deposited since Friday, $551,000, against $550,000 for the same period a week ago.

OVER $2,100,000 GAINED.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges for Yesterday Far Ahead of the Same Day Last Year.

SECOND AVENUE PROPERTY SOLD TO HAWKINS BROS.

Is Located at Nos. 310-314 and Was Bought for $48,500.

TWO EAST END HOUSES BOUGHT FOR HOMES

Old Bank Building Being Improved—Hotel for McKeesport. New Buildings in Homestead Since January 1 $1,000,000.

John and Thomas Hawkins, the cigar dealers, have purchased from J. Murray Clark of Canonsburg the properties at Nos. 310-314 Second avenue for $48,500. It is not known whether a broker was in the deal or not. The properties are situated on the south side of the avenue, just above Wood street, and have a frontage of 48 feet with a depth of 80 feet to an alley. A three-story brick building, erected many years ago, is the only improvement. This is at present occupied by the Kelly & Jones Company as a warehouse. The price paid, a little over $1,000 a front foot, is considered a good figure in view of the poor character of the building. Hawkins Bros. lately bought another property in Wood street near this one, which is evidence that they have faith in the future of real estate in that locality.

Two Fine Houses Sold.

Articles of agreement have been signed in the sale of the Harry Scully residence in the Twenty-first ward, for $16,000. The purchaser is David R. Spear of the firm of Mead & Spear, lumber dealers, who has occupied the property for some time as a home. The lot has a frontage of 95.5 feet on the east side of North Homewood avenue, near Meade street, and a depth of 140 feet. The residence is a 12-room house, provided with all the modern conveniences.

The preliminary papers were signed yesterday in the sale of one of the W. H. Skivington houses, in the Squirrel hill district, for $18,600. The house is a 12-room colonial brick, and has never been occupied. It was bought by a leading attorney, whose name was withheld pending the delivery of the deed.

Will Make Good Office Building.

Contractors Golden & Crick have started the work of remodeling the block at Nos. 216-218 Fourth avenue, bought a few months ago by the German Fire Insurance Company from the Farmers Deposit National bank through Samuel W. Black & Company. The improvements were designed by Architect F. C. Sauer. They consist of a new granite front, new elevator, new floors and modern bank and office fixtures. It is estimated that the cost will be $20,000. The insurance company will occupy the first floor and rent the three upper floors, which will contain 18 rooms, for offices. The building will be ready for ocupancy about January 20.

In line with other building improvements projected for McKeesport, a stock company has been organized and proposes to build a seven-story hotel to cost at least $20,000. Plans for the structure are being prepared by Architect H. J. Lohman. The hotel will be a brick and stone structure with terra cotta trimmings, and will contain over 60 rooms.

Architect Ellsworth Dean is preparing plans for three high-class residences in the North Highland avenue district. They will be built for three different owners, and will cost about $10,000 each. Bids on their construction will be asked about September 24.

Recent Building Contracts.

In spite of the fact that building operations are not brisk, a fair number of contracts continue to be awarded each week. The best jobs announced during the past few days are the following: Architect L. De Bobula of Zanesville, O., to Burt & Bodine of Byesville, O., a Roman Catholic church in Allegheny, to cost $22,000; Mrs. Jennie McKay to J. G. Beam, a brick veneered house in Kentucky avenue, $8,000; Dr. C. O. Anderson to W. G. McKenzie, a brick house at No. 7014 Frankstown avenue, $6,000; Architect C. M. Bartberger to W. J Hoover of Kittanning a brick stable in Homewood for W. W. Darley, $6,000; Architects Milligan & Miller to Jacobs & Sloan a residence in Braddock avenue for Joseph A. Kuntz, $10,000; Architect W. E. Snaman to Charles Henry, a residence in Crafton for Mrs. J. B. Morgan, $6,000.

Architect U. J. L. Peoples is preparing plans for a four-story brick flat to be built in Penn avenue for John Kearns at a cost of $12,000. He also has plans for a three-story apartment house for J. M. Gilchrist, to cost $8,000.

Butler Company's Improvements.

Architects McCullum & Dowler have been commissioned to prepare plans for remodeling the building of the Guarantee Savings Deposit and Trust Company, at Butler. The building is to have a new front, marble wainscoting, electric bronze bank and office fixtures, and new vaults. The improvements will cost about $15,000.

The same architects are receiving estimates on the erection of the Washington Trust Company building at Washington, Pa. This is a three-story brick and stone structure and will cost about $50,000.

Architects Allison & Topp, who have been at work several weeks on the new plant of the Pressed Prism Glass Company at Morgantown, W. Va., have given the contract for the buildings to Richard Paddock & Co., of Chicago. The buildings will cost $60,000.

A Great Credit to Homestead.

While other towns around Pittsburgh have been announcing great real estate booms this last summer, Homestead and vicinity has kept comparatively quiet. But the facts brought out by an inspection of her building reports show that no town in the Pittsburgh district has made a more rapid growth or has kept the character of its improvements up to a higher standard. Since January 1 new buildings have been started, the estimated cost of which is put at $1,074,900. A large number of these buildings are already completed and occupied and most of the remainder will be ready for use before the close of the year. The list, which includes 80 houses, many of them costing $5,000 and over, seven business blocks, three hotels, three school houses, two municipal buildings and one church, is one which is a great credit to that section. Following is a partial list of the buildings already under way or completed:

Reports on Fight Between Factions of Junior Order Heard at Meeting.

FORTY-THIRD COUNCIL IN SESSION HERE

According to State Secretary, the Old Organization Has Drawn 4,000 Members from "Insurgents" During the Past Year.

The forty-third annual state council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics convened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the banquet hall of the Monongahela house. Upwards of 300 delegates, representing 330 councils, were in attendance when Attorney Andrew C. Robertson, representing Recorder J. O. Brown, welcomed the delegates to the city. State Councellor B. Frank Meyer of Wilkesbarre responded in behalf of the order.

A feature of the session was the report of State Councillor B. Frank Meyer. He devoted a great deal of it to the relation existing between the parent body and the so-called "insurgent" faction, now in session at Reading. Smoky City Council No. 119, one of the local lodges that joined the "insurgent" side, received quite a scoring.

The days session was purely routine, confined to the reading of reports of officers and nominations of the new officers to be elected today.

The nominations made are as follows: State councillor, John C. Bash and James W. Flanagan; state vice councillor, George W. Arnold; junior state vice councillor, W. S. Daebler; state council secretary, Edward S. Deemer; state council treasurer, John W. Calver.

According to precedent the present state councillor, B. Frank Meyer, will be made past vice councillor.

National representatives, eastern district—A. M. DeHaven, D. Green, Stanley O. Lorges; middle district—James Forrest, John H. Rhodes, M. T. Tuthill; western district—G. A. Bauer, Robert J. McKean, W. E. Dixon, H. G. Colbert.

For Next Meeting.

Invitations were extended by delegates from York and Bethlehem for the state council to meet there next year and both delegations are lobbying hard to land the prize.

The following officers and committees of the convention were appointed yesterday: Conductor, F. E. Schuler; warden, John E. Frew; inside sentinel, H. F. Miess; outside sentinel, John H. Little; chaplain, M. D. Lichliter; press committee—F. M. Hetrick, C. M. Hall, W. E. Hellman; committee for good of the order—Perry A. Gibson, C. S. Weiss, George C. Schneider.

In his report State Councillor B. Frank Meyer gave in detail the entire work done by him throughout the year. Much of the report was devoted to the action taken in suspending councils which refuse to comply with the sentence of the national judiciary in the matter of the fight now on in the ranks of the Junior order.

Firemost among these was Smoky City Council No. 119 of this city.

The state councillor said that he regretted to report that this council had been suspended, as it was one of the oldest and largest in Western Pennsylvania, and that it was too bad that this council with its large and intelligent membership should persist in being a party to the obstruction of the carrying out of the mandates of the highest court of the organization. He said that it also had the effrontery to again elect James C. McCleary, who first caused the trouble in the organization, to represent it in the state council.

Many New Members.

He recommended that the official digest of the order be revised, as many of the rules and decisions given therein have since been repealed and a part is therefore obsolete.

The report of State Council Treasurer John W. Calver shows a balance on hand of $1,656 38, with expenditures of $6,674 89.

The report of Edward S. Deemer, who for 42 years has acted as state council secretary, shows that the order is more than holding its own despite the report of the "insurgent" branch to the contrary. Four thousand new members, most of them defections from the "insurgent" ranks, were added last year. He reported a total membership in the state of 34,515.

Prominent among those in attendance at the convention are ex-State Senator Perry A. Gibson of Erie; Allen M. DeHaven, member of council of Philadelphia; George B. Bauer, ex-city solicitor of Altoona; Allen A. Seitz, prothonotary of York county; John C. Bash of the Stevenson Manufacturing Company of this city, and Director of Public Safety A. H. Leslie.

Last night the delegates were entertained at the exposition, it being Junior Order night, and many members of the order from this section were in attendance.

A Really Artistic Sideboard

There is no need to explain that the Sideboard shown in the above illustration is a recent production. It is so different from conventional styles as to impress its character upon everyone who sees it.

It is modern and reflects in its solid elegance the best thought devoted to high-grade furniture.

If your home is an artistic one, and you are striving continually to make it more attractive, you are necessarily adding from time to time to the equipment of your dining room.

Therefore,
you'll be interested, no doubt, in the following specifications of the Sideboard to which your attention has been called: It is made of the finest grade of golden oak, 6 feet wide, 28 inches deep; French plate mirror, 62 by 12 inches.

There is nothing more coldly prosaic than printed dimensions of a work of art, and it is impossible for anyone to gain an idea of the true beauty of fine furniture from such details. It is sufficient to say, however, that the Sideboard in question more than sustains the reputation of this establishment for superlatively good designs. And, like all others shown here, this one is confined to
